WILSON REFUSES FOE VOICE IN PEACE

POSSES HUNT BANDITS WHO ROBBED AUTOS

Highwaymen Hold Up Quartet of Machines in Dublin Canyon and Escape in Another Car; Officers Comb Hills

Entrances to the Arroyo Are Guarded by Motorcycle Men —Methods of the Outlaws Similar to the Tunnel Band

Four holdups, in which four highwaymen, operating with a fast automobile, held up autoists and escaped in the windings of the Dublin Canyon road, were followed early today by posses scouring the hills in search of the quartet.

The robberies were reported to Oakland by telephone at an early hour this morning from Dublin. P. B. Peterson, proprietor of the Dublin Canyon Inn, called for protection and deputy sheriffs and detectives were despatched to the scene.

In the meantime speed officers on motorcycles were called and formed posses guarding the entrances to the canyon and searching all laterals leading into the hills.

The hold-ups were perpetrated in an hour, four machines being robbed in succession before the bandits disappeared. The victims applied at the Dublin Canyon Inn for assistance and the alarm was sent in from that place.

According to the Oakland police the work of the highwaymen is similar to that of a bandit gang that recently operated on the Tunnel road and in Golden Gate park, San Francisco.

Deputy Sheriff Joe Soares went out to the Canyon Inn early this morning in response to a summons from Peterson, proprietor of the resort, and with the latter the highway was traversed, but no sign of any bandits was found. They passed a yellow car traveling at a speed which the county machine could not equal and the four men passengers paid no heed to their stop demands. The car was coming toward Oakland.

Peterson says he was told of the hold-ups by occupants of other machines passing on the highway while the hold-up was going on. About the time the inn closed four men came in, whom Peterson suspicioned. He did not speak to them about it but called up the sheriff's office. No names of the supposed victims have been secured and no such victims have reported to the authorities.

"Dictatorship" May Be Needed in France

LONDON, June 4.—The industrial situation in France is becoming graver and there are rumors that a military dictatorship will be declared, said a Paris despatch to the Manchester Guardian today.

The French extremists are prepared to go to any length, the despatch said. They are very bitter in their charges of war profiteering and their accusations of "chicanery and robbery."

Women, who are most usually conservative, are bragging of what they will do in case of a general strike. They are enraged over the increased costs and the shortage of necessities.

Daniels Abolishes Navy Dress Uniforms

WASHINGTON, June 14.—Epaulets, cocked hats, gold-covered belts and highly ornamented special full-dress coats, heretofore worn by naval officers on special occasions, are abolished under an order issued today by Secretary Daniels.

The discarding of these articles will result in economy of space on board ship and a great financial saving to the officers, the secretary said.

G.O.P. LEADERS OF STATE MEET TO GET BEHIND HIRAM JOHNSON

More Than Thousand Delegates Representing All Republican Elements Move for Senator for the Presidency

SAN FRANCISCO, June 14.—About 1000 representatives of the Republican party from different parts of the state gave an enthusiastic approval to the proposal to nominate Senator Hiram W. Johnson as their party candidate for the Presidency in 1920. The meeting was called in the ballroom of the Palace hotel. Former Senator Frank P. Flint presided as chairman. His introductory address was frequently punctuated by applause, his first mention of Senator Johnson causing more than a half-minute's interruption of the proceeding. Among the other speakers were: Max J. Kuhl, Mrs. J. B. Hume of Berkeley, Grove L. Johnson, father of the Senator; John L. McNab, Frank McDonald and John F. Neylan.

The approval of the gathering of Johnson was expressed in resolutions introduced by Eustance Cullinan, and a scheme of permanent organization, introduced by Joseph Scott of Los Angeles, was also unanimously adopted. Philip Bancroft acted as secretary.

A number of letters and telegrams from party leaders throughout the state were presented by the chairmen and others. Of these the one which aroused the most enthusiastic reception was that from Governor William D. Stephens, which read in part as follows:

GOVERNOR APPEALS TO LOYAL CITIZENS.

A letter from Governor Stephens said in part:

"Every loyal citizen of California who believes in the fundamental principles upon which the Republican party was founded and who is convinced that the happiness, the prosperity and the welfare of the whole people depend upon applying those principles in our national affairs should lay aside whatever differences he may have had with others and align himself with the organization now being formed having for its object the naming of Hiram W. Johnson as the Republican candidate for President in 1920.

"Never was there a time when there was more need to apply to the solution of our national problems the broad principles of Republicanism enunciated by Lincoln and reasserted by Roosevelt. Johnson is one of their political household and subscribes to their faith.

"His record of achievement as governor of California is a guarantee that as President he will strive with all his might to make effective throughout the nation those high ideals of sane and orderly self-government which have been the inspiration of a long line of American statesmen and which today constitute the hope of the whole world.

"That California may have the honor of presenting to the nation its next President is a matter of tremendous concern, not only to the people of this state, but to those of the entire West. California must send a delegation to the next national Republican convention unanimous for Johnson for President."

M. H. de Young, in a letter to the conference, said:

"In the advocacy of Hiram Johnson as California's candidate for President a platform is found on which the party can and must unite. Under his banner the discordant elements in our party should combine for Republicanism and protection."

Other communications were from J. V. Snyder, a prominent Democratic leader in the state for many years; Mayor James Rolph Jr. of San Francisco and H. L. Carnahan. The pile of other telegrams on the speaker's desk was so high that the conference decided to get along without having them read.

"We have the notable privilege to initiate a movement which will result in the election of Hiram W. Johnson for President."

SAYS CALIFORNIA IS FOR JOHNSON.

So declared former Senator Flint in opening the conference. The response took the form of applause and cheers. Flint continued:

"As far as California is concerned that is disposed of already. California will deliver itself to Johnson. Our problem is to get the rest of the nation to know Johnson as we know him. We have said in our call for this meeting that he is the fittest, the only man for the Republican party to nominate. We base that claim on his record as the governor of the state of California, and we promise the people of this country that he will give them the same kind of administration as he gave California. Upon this record we are willing that he shall go before the people of the United States.

"The criticism has been made that no senator ever has been elected President and that none ever will be. There may have been some reason for such a situation because the senate heretofore has been an extremely conservative body. It has interrupted and held back and blocked needed legislation of the house merely as an expression of their conservatism.

"In party convention the records of the members of such senate have militated against them as presidential material. It is not so with Hiram Johnson. His senate record will be the platform of the Republican party in 1920, whether he is elected President or some one else."

"We have the notable privilege to initiate a movement which will result in the election of Hiram W. Johnson for President."

PACIFIC COAST PHONE STRIKE IS POSTPONED

Girl Operators Hold 2 Mass Meetings on Sunday When They Will Receive Their Instructions as to Walkout

Complete Tie-up of the Coast Wire System Predicted by Union Chiefs; Telegraph Officials Talk Confidently

LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE
BY UNITED PRESS

WASHINGTON, June 14.—Postponement of the strike of telephone employees ordered for Monday by the Brotherhood of Electrical Workers was announced here late this afternoon by President J. P. Noonan.

Noonan took this action following issuance of an order by Postmaster-General Burleson that the telephone officials negotiate with employees either "as individuals or collectively through committees of their representatives chosen to act for them."

While there is some misunderstanding as to just when the telephone operators plan to strike, it is definitely announced by L. C. Grasser international vice-president of the Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, that the electrical workers employed by the telephone companies, linemen, switchmen and other allied craftsmen will go out on strike Monday morning in an effort to enforce their demands for an increase in wages and changes in working conditions.

Reports, supposedly authentic, during the past week have carried the information that the telephone operators of the Pacific Coast would also go out on strike next Monday, but that this date was decided on is denied by Miss Julia O'Connor, president of the telephone operators' department, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, according to telegraphic advices received by The TRIBUNE from Atlantic City, where Miss O'Connor is attending the annual convention of the American Federation of Labor.

3000 MAY WALK OUT IN EASTBAY CITIES

It is estimated that 1500 electrical workers will be affected in the Eastbay district and if the telephone operators join the electrical workers a total of approximately 3000 men and women will withdraw from their work.

Miss O'Connor gave out the following, saying it was a copy of a strike order sent this morning to leaders in Seattle, Portland, San Francisco, Oakland and Spokane:

"This will be your instructions that a strike of the telephone workers in employ of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company will be effective Wednesday, June 18, at 7 o'clock Pacific time. Proceed to take action necessary to place this order in effect. Advise that open meetings of all operators be held to inform them of this action. Give wide publicity. Strike is called for purpose of lending support to male electric workers; also to establish right to bargain collectively, wipe out discrimination, secure substantial increases to date back to January 1, improve working conditions generally. A department representative is on way to coast."

Two mass meetings of telephone operators have been called for tomorrow in the Municipal Auditorium, one at 2:30 p. m. and the other at 8:30 p. m. The two meetings are made necessary in order that both day and night operators may attend at least one gathering. Final instructions regarding the strike will be given at the two auditorium meetings.

RAILROAD OPERATORS RECEIVE ORDERS

Orders to railroad telegraph operators to stop handling Western Union and Postal Telegraph business after 6 o'clock this morning were issued locally yesterday by A. M. Hammond and V.W. Breeding, under orders from E. J. Manion, president of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers in the Pacific States. They are additionally instructed to continue not to handle commercial business until the commercial telegraph strike is terminated.

P. C. O'Connor, president of the San Francisco Commercial Telegraphers' Union, said that the order would close for commercial business 27,000 of the 30,000 offices of the Western Union and many offices of th the Postal Telegraph Company.

Deportation Urged for Soviet Agents

WASHINGTON, June 14.—Deportation of L. C. A. K. Martens and other representatives of the Russian soviet bureau in New York was requested in letters sent today by Senator King of Utah to Attorney General Palmer and Secretary Wilson.

"It is time," Senator King wrote, "that these disturbers of our peace and enemies of our country and civilization should be driven from this land whose hospitality they have so grievously abused."

FIGHTING MEN ARE WELCOMED BY ALAMEDANS

Medals Awarded to Returned Soldiers, Sailors, Marines After Parade and Lincoln Park Flag Day Celebration

School Children, 3000 Strong, Big Feature With a Division of Their Own; Community Singing Helps Enthusiasm

TRIBUNE BUREAU
1434 PARK ST.

ALAMEDA, June 14.—The fighting men of Alameda and the Alameda women who went across seas in war work were honored today by the city of Alameda. Following a big parade, chiefly of military and naval features, medals were awarded each returned soldier or sailor present. Medals have been provided for all and they will be delivered to relatives or to the fighting men and women on later days.

The adoption of Flag Day as the medal presentation date gave added interest to the celebration. Decorations were confined to the national colors and thousands of American flags were carried by the marchers in the parade. Lincoln Park was brightened with masses of flags, banked against greenery. The Flag Day observance of Alameda Lodge of Elks was an appropriate and leading feature of the celebration.

Grand Marshal A. P. Smiley was in charge of the parade, with F. J. Croll as chief aide and Captain Rushton McConnell, Wade Snyder, J. A. Powell and Chief of Police Walter O. Jacoby as division chiefs. Autos were limited to the few cars needed by the speakers, special guests and a few others.

SCHOOL CHILDREN ARE FEATURE OF PARADE.

Two floats were supplied by the Alameda high school and formed part of the school department's big parade feature, which formed a division of its own, 3000 strong, with each marcher bearing a flag. Marshal Wade Snyder was in charge of the third division, with the 44th infantry band and made up of the school department. Marshal Snyder was assisted by Dr. G. C. Thompson, G. H. Perbush, Edward Albert, Miss Ada Bird, Miss Alice Hunt and Miss Gertrude Treanor.

Marshal J. A. Powell was in charge of the fourth division, made up of Grand Army men, Spanish War Veterans and the chief guests of honor, the fighting men of Alameda. The returned fighters were given royal greeting. Many of them were not in uniform for various reasons, but this made no difference to the crowds, who cheered regardless of uniform or lack of other distinctive feature.

As many of the women war workers are still overseas in hospital, canteen and entertainment work, no effort was made to parade the few who have returned. Each of these women workers will receive a medal suitably inscribed and of the same type as the medals given the men.

CARRIER PIGEONS ARE RELEASED AT PARK.

On arrival at Lincoln Park the program started with the singing of "The Star-Spangled Banner," and the release of 600 carrier pigeons by the Pacific Homing Pigeon Club. Chairman C. R. Smith of the executive committee of the home coming reception led in renewing the oath of allegiance and introduced Mayor Frank Otis, master of ceremonies, who spoke briefly on the significance of the occasion and the special Flag Day and who welcomed back the fighters.

J. R. Knowland was orator of the day, his address serving equally for the medal presentation and the Elks Flag Day ceremonies.

Leon Ader, deputy city treasurer, and who returned from France last week, responded on behalf of the men.

READY TO DO IT AGAIN IF FLAG IN DANGER.

"With such support is it any wonder that the American boys made good?

"No one wants to go through again what some of these boys have gone through, but should the call come tomorrow to defend the flag that we are honoring today, every mother's son on this platform would rise to his feet to take the oath that would make a soldier, sailor or marine once again.

"In behalf of the boys of Alameda who served their country I wish to thank you from the bottom of our hearts for the kind words spoken and for the generous things you have done, which have thoroughly convinced us that you are really glad to see us again."

HIGH SCHOOL GIRLS PIN ON THE MEDALS.

Between addresses the bands played national airs, with community singing, led by Charles W. Hawley and assisted by the high school girls'

Turks to Retain Constantinople, Declares Loti

(By International News Service)

PARIS, June 14.—The Big Four of the peace conference have decided to allow the Turks to retain Constantinople, according to Pierre Loti, famous French writer and student of Ottoman affairs.

Loti accuses the Greeks of burning the houses of 60,000 Musselmans in order to reduce the Turkish population, and also setting on fire a portion of the palace formerly occupied by the sultan in Constantinople.

MISS POLLOK, I.W.W., DENIED NEW HEARING

The Sacramento I. W. W. cases were concluded in San Francisco today when Federal Judge Frank H. Rudkin denied the application for a new trial made by Miss Theodore Pollok, formerly of Piedmont, Bassil Safores and A. L. Fox, all officials of the International Workers' Defense league. Attorney Nat Coghlan also filed a motion for arrest of judgment, but Judge Rudkin refused and set next Wednesday as the day for sentence.

The argument for a new trial was based on alleged errors by Judge Rudkin in admitting certain testimony and refusing to admit certain evidence which the three defendants sought through witnesses during the trial, and that the court had refused to grant a change of venue or separate trials to the three named. They were the only ones who made a defense at Sacramento, the others maintaining a silent defense, unrepresented by counsel and all are now serving terms at Fort Leavenworth.

Miss Pollok, who was designated by former U. S. Attorney John W. Preston as "the brains of I. W. W. in California," was arrested originally December 29, 1917, by Captain of Police Arthur Layne with Fox. A letter in her purse discussing methods of disseminating I. W. W. propaganda, signed by Safores, led to his arrest and the indictment of the three on February 8, 1918. The trial was begun November 22 last and concluded on January 16 last.

Both Miss Pollok and Safores refused to make statements after today's proceedings, but Attorney Coghlan intimated that appeal to the circuit court would be taken.

GOVERNOR LISTER OF WASHINGTON DIES AT SEATTLE

SEATTLE, June 14. — Ernest Lister, governor of Washington, died here today.

Following a sinking spell late yesterday, Governor Lister became unconscious, rallied for a time, sank into unconsciousness, and early today died at the Swedish hospital.

Alfred Lister of Tacoma, brother of the governor, and his wife, arrived at the hospital at 1 o'clock this morning, and were followed shortly after by other relatives.

Governor Lister had been in failing health for more than a year and during the session of the legislature early this year he practically collapsed, and since had been under the constant care of a physician.

For a time he showed improvement and returned to Olympia. Several weeks ago, however, he was moved to the Swedish hospital here, and Dr. Edward P. Fick, recently discharged from the army, was called to attend him.

Governor Lister suffered for several months from an affection of the heart and kidneys.

Born in Halifax, England, forty-eight years ago, Lister came to the United States at the age of 14 and settled in Tacoma. He learned his trade there and attended business college at the same time. Lister headed the Lister Construction Company and later the Lister Manufacturing Company.

Half Hundred Flee From Menacing Fire

More than fifty apartment dwellers fled from their homes in an apartment house at 1219 Brush street today when a grass fire, in the vacant lots about the building, menaced the structure. Firemen battled for half an hour to get the blaze in the dried grass under control and save the building. After the fire small boys, who assisted in fighting the fire with wet sacks, were rewarded by an impromptu bath.

Youngsters in the neighborhood volunteered to help the firemen while the police kept the apartment dwellers in the street. After the fire was out the youngsters lined up and were "sprinkled," much to their glee. The blaze burned out the grass on several lots

AIRMEN START NON-STOP TRIP ACROSS OCEAN

British Airplane Hops Off From Newfoundland in an Effort to Make Direct Trip Over Atlantic to Ireland

Will Follow Route as Laid Out by Hawker; Carry Gasoline Enough for 2440 Miles; London Mail Taken

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE

CAPE RACE, N. F., June 14 (By Marconi Wireless).—No message was received here by wireless from the Vickers-Vimy bombing plane during the first hour of its trans-Atlantic flight. This silence may be explained by the fact that Lieutenant Brown, the navigator, would be busy with his work during the early stage of the journey.

BY UNITED PRESS
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE

ST. JOHNS, N. F., June 14.—Off on an attempted non-stop flight over the Atlantic from Newfoundland to Ireland, the British Vickers aeroplane left St. Johns at 12:13 p. m. today (New York time). The machine, with Captain John Alcock at the wheel, made a good start, rising from the ground after a run of 150 yards.

The plane swept north of the city and disappeared over the sea in a northeasterly direction. As the start the Vickers scudded close to the ground, then rose gradually to an altitude of 1000 feet.

CARRY MAIL MATTER FOR DELIVERY IN LONDON

The machine weighs 7000 pounds. Mail, which it was hoped would be delivered at the London postoffice, was placed on the airplane just before the start.

A crowd of spectators gave Alcock and his navigator, Lieutenant A. W. Brown, Royal Air Force, a cheer as their plane hopped off. The streets quickly filled as people ran out of their houses and out of the shops to see the aviators starting for Ireland. All points of vantage were thronged with Newfoundlanders, who watched the plane as it grew smaller and smaller over the wide expanse of ocean, and finally dwindled out of sight.

STRONG WEST WIND TO HELP PART OF VOYAGE

There was a strong west wind, which will probably help the aviators over the first part of their perilous voyage.

Navigator Brown expected to follow generally the course laid out by Hawker, this being the most direct route from Newfoundland to Ireland.

The Vickers was equipped with a wireless which operated successfully over a wide range in preliminary trials. Brown intended to keep in touch with ships by radio all the way across.

PILOT WAS LONG-DISTANCE BOMBING RAID CHAMPION

ST JOHNS, N. F., June 14—The Vickers-Vimy machine, which started on a transatlantic flight today, has a wing spread of only 67 feet and is equipped with two 350-horsepower Rolls-Royce motors, said to be capable of developing a speed of more than 100 miles an hour. The capacity of the gasoline tanks was recently enlarged to 865 gallons and the lubricating oil tanks to fifty gallons, which is believed sufficient to carry the plane 2440 miles under normal weather conditions.

Captain Jack Alcock, the pilot, was among the British pioneers in aviation. He obtained his flying certificate in 1912 and joined the Royal air naval service immediately upon the outbreak of the war. He acted as an instructor at first, but was later sent to the Turkish front, where he held the record for long-distance bombing raids. He was later captured by the Turks and held prisoner until the armistice was signed.

Germany Refuses to Allow Polish Troops to Pass

COBLENZ, Friday, June 13 —(By the Associated Press). —An ultimatum demanding the immediate continuation of the movement of Polish troops across Germany has been sent to the German government by Marshal Foch, according to despatches received here from Spa.

Orders were issued at Berlin several days ago to hold up the Polish troop trains. One was held at Coblenz, another at Treves, two at Ems and eight in the interior of Germany. The transfer of Polish troops fom France to Poland began about six weeks ago and was due to be completed June 17.

BERLIN, June 13.—(By the Associated Press). — Mathias Erzberger, head of the German armistice commission, has written General Dupont, chief of the French mission in Berlin, protesting against a Polish army order declaring that Poland is in a state of war with Germany and that Poland purposes to distribute two divisions of General Heller's army along the frontier.

CONGRESS URGED BY LABOR MEN TO REPEAL DRY ACT

WASHINGTON, June 14. — Organized labor, backed by many anti-prohibitionists, today marched on Congress with an appeal for the repeal of war-time prohibition.

Delegates from the American Federation of Labor convention at Atlantic City and scores of local unions, swarmed the capitol plaza until it was one big mass of people, carrying flags and banners urging Congress to act.

From the capitol steps several short speeches were made by President Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor, who is back of today's demonstration, and other labor leaders.

Representatives from the various states were assigned to personally talk to their Congressmen. Meanwhile labor leaders asked the Senate judiciary committee to act before June 30 on the question of prohibition.

Several drys in the House are planning a counter demonstration in the form of scores of telegrams to show many local unions in prohibition territory particularly, do not approve of the stand of Gompers.

A St. Louis delegation, headed by Marvin J. Cassidy, appeared before the House judiciary committee.

"The only place where prohibition has been in effect is Russia, and Lord deliver us from conditions there," Cassidy said.

"The beer special," as the passengers called it, left Atlantic City at 8 o'clock. It carried nearly 400 labor delegates who are attending the American Federation of Labor convention.

The train carried a special baggage car filled up as a bar, which was detached at Baltimore to be restocked for the return of the delegation to Atlantic City tonight.

The cost of the special, which consisted of eight Pullman coaches and parlor cars, was defrayed by the brewery workers and owners.

Many of the delegates on board were favorable to prohibition, but took the opportunity of "seeing the capitol."

Sweden Negotiating Huge Loan in U. S.

LONDON, June 14.—An Exchange Telegraph despatch from Copenhagen today reported that Sweden is negotiating for a huge loan from the United States at 6 per cent.

WASHINGTON, June 14. — Reports that Sweden is negotiating for an American loan today drew from treasury officials the statement that such negotiations, if they are in progress are being conducted with private individuals and not with the government.

A government loan to Sweden would involve an authorization from Congress, which has turned down two requests for authorization of additional loans to the allies since the signing of the armistice.

PARIS, June 14.—The supreme blockade council met today, according to an official statement, for "final consideration of measures that might be rendered necessary by certain eventualities."

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE

PARIS, June 14.—Proposals that the Germans be permitted to discuss the peace terms with the allied representatives were flatly rejected at today's meeting of the Big Four.

President Wilson, addressing the other members of the Big Four, declared that inasmuch as there is complete agreement among the allied and associated governments, there is no necessity of permitting the Germans to even assume the role of bargaining.

The President declared that the position of the United States is that the terms are absolutely just, however hard they are, and that as Germany precipitated the war, she must accept the consequences. Rather than allow bargaining, the President declared that he is willing to accept rejection of the terms and immediately resume the most drastic measures.

PARIS, June 14.—The council of four continued the work of editing the revised peace treaty this morning, at the same time enabling Baron Makino, the Japanese representative, to acquaint himself with the document. It is believed the treaty will go to the revision committee late tonight. It is said that it will be printed and ready for delivery to the Germans Monday or Tuesday. It is the present plan of the council to renew consideration of the Austrian terms Monday. Representatives of Turkey will be received Tuesday.

Confidence was expressed last night by the British, French and American delegations that the reply to the German counter-proposals will be completed and delivered to the Germans Monday, with a provision that Germans will be given two days in which to answer.

With three days of grace before the armistice is suspended, there would be a resumption of hostilities Saturday, June 21, if the Germans refuse to sign.

The indisposition of the council of four to submit the revised German treaty to a plenary session of the conference before sending it to the Germans is, however, causing another protest from the small powers, which resent "steam roller" methods.

SOME MODIFICATION IN LABOR—COVENANT

If no new developments arise, President Wilson probably will make his trip to Brussels between Wednesday and the expiration of the German time limit.

Some modifications were made by the council yesterday in the labor covenant in the peace treaty. The existing labor situation in various countries, coupled with clever German tactics had resulted in this part of the treaty becoming one of the principal points of attack in the counter proposals. The situation caused a long discussion which resulted in certain modifications.

The allied reply to the German proposals will lay particular stress upon the character of the permanent reparations commission. It will be explained that this commission is not a tyrannical body, but that it will administer its duties in a spirit of fairness and helpfulness, so as to facilitate German's economic reconstruction.

It is learned that the short time limit given Germany for a reply is largely due to the Germans themselves. They are understood to have said they would not require more than five days to reach a decision.

It is known the council is acting on

VILLA IS WITH REBEL FORCES NEAR JUAREZ

EL PASO, Tex., June 14.—The darkness of the early morning having failed to bring the expected attack from the forces of Francisco Villa and General Felipe Angeles, the Mexican federal forces in trenches about Juarez relaxed with the rising of the sun today and entered upon another period of waiting.

It had been understood that Villa and Angeles had set 3 o'clock this morning as the hour for attack, when Angeles and his command were to have moved up from their headquarters at Zaragoza, sixteen miles southeast of Juarez; Villa from El Barro, south of Juarez; Martin Lopez from Santa Rosa, and the Morelos brigade of rebels from about the same place.

An arrival from the Villa camp last night estimated the strength of the various elements of Villa's forces at 4300 men.

Villa scouts have been feeling out the defenses of Juarez for several days past.

The presence of Francisco Villa with the forces investing Juarez was reported positively yesterday by Mexicans who claimed to have come through from his camp.

General Francisco Gonzales, commanding the Juarez garrison, declared today the situation was well in hand and that his forces were able to withstand assault.

Ottar Roen today caused the arrest of George Silva on the charge of obtaining money under false pretenses.

Thereby hangs the tale of a tail that failed to hang.

Roen and Silva traded horses May 27. Roen gave Silva $35 to boot. When Roen got his new horse home and unharnessed, the horse's tail dropped off.

Investigation disclosed, according to Roen, that Silva had attached it to the crupper. Mange had removed all the hair from the steed's tail, making it unsightly.

Justice Rice released Silva on $50 bond.

U. S. Navy Planned Flight Over Pacific

WASHINGTON, June 14. — A transpacific seaplane flight was to have been attempted by the navy department, but now will be impossible because of the action of the House in cutting down, in the naval appropriation bill, the amount for aeronautics from the $15,000,000 requested to $15,000,000.

This was revealed today by Secretary Daniels in discussing the effect the slashing of the appropriation would have upon aeronautics in the department.

"We won't be able to fly across the Pacific this year," was the secretary's comment. He refused to reveal, however, to what extent plans for such a flight had been developed or when the attempt was to have been made.

Mexican Rebel Chief Takes New Wife With Him to the Battlefront

SENORA VILLA II, Senorita Juanita Torres before her marriage, whom Villa has forsaken for a new bride.

Villa Reported Married for the Third Time, But Whereabouts of Former Wives Are Unknown.

MEXICO CITY, June 14.—Love's tangle promises very promptly to become an old story for Francisco Villa, bandit-revolutionary of Mexico. Not content with two identified wives and several alleged unidentified ones, he has now, according to good authority, added a third to the former pair.

Word of his third, and latest, "official" marriage has arrived at the capital through a traveler reaching here from Parral, Chihuahua. He claims to have been present at the ceremony which, he says, was performed at Valle de Allende, near Parral.

Villa is said to have appeared suddenly and ordered out all the inhabitants for a fiesta. The marriage is stated to have been performed by a former judge. A feast and a dance followed at which Villa is said to have introduced his bride, a girl of 20 years, and to have delivered a speech.

LATEST WIFE GOES WITH HIM TO BATTLEFRONT.

Whether Senora Villa III is with her husband at the mobile battlefront or not the traveler did not know. He understood she had accompanied the rebel leader on his subsequent campaign. The marriage is said to have taken place late in May, the traveler reaching here on June 4.

The first Senora Villa, by right of clergy if not of state, was Luz Corral before Villa then a very young man, led her to his fireside. In October 1912, he married Juanita Torres, according to Juanita Torres' own statement, this time with the blessing of the state as well as the church, upon their union. When Senora Torres-Villa was in Mexico some three years after the wedding, apparently deserted by her warrior spouse, she made a special point of this double authorization. Her predecessor had married Villa without state sanction she said, and with only the church approval to make it legal.

WHEREABOUTS OF FIRST TWO WIVES UNKNOWN

"But Mexico has separated church and state," she concluded, "and hence only my marriage to him, blessed by both state and church, is really legal."

Church and state, church or state, or no church or state seem to have made little difference to the thorn in the side of Mexico. He has gone on his blithe way unhampered by any minor considerations such as these, it now appears, to gather a third wife to his bosom.

What has happened to Senoras Villa I and II is another Mexican mystery. Luz Corral Villa was in Texas for a while, then lost to view. Her immediate successor was ordered deported to Juarez after she had been some six months in this country.

SHIP LAUNCHED, STICKS IN MUD

BAY POINT, June 14.—The jinx which is supposed to stalk abroad on Friday, the 13th of the month, miscalculated a day, as far as the plant of the Pacific Coast Shipbuilding Company is concerned. The jinx evidently decided to attend the launching of the Mohunks, when, by the way was the second attempt to get the boat into the water.

The launching took place at 1.40 yesterday afternoon. Miss Marcelina Grimes of Oakland, daughter of Frank Grimes of the hull construction department, was the sponsor. The boat left the ways in excellent shape, glided into the water and stuck fast in the mud of the island opposite the ways.

All efforts to move her were unavailing for several hours, and it was necessary to await the return of the full tide before the boat could be moved. Persons on board as she went down the ways were taken off on the tug boat which was standing by.

At the first attempt to launch the Mohunks, which occurred on June 4, the vessel refused to move down the ways. It was stated at that time that the failure of a tripharmer to work, and the drying of the grease on the ways was responsible for the boat not taking her maiden dip.

TEACHERS' UNION IS IN PROSPECT

MARTINEZ, June 14.—That the organization of a teachers' union is in prospect in this county was learned from an authoritative source in labor circles in this city. According to the plan nothing definite is to be done during the vacation period, but as soon as the schools open for the new terms the active campaign work will begin.

While the idea of a teachers' union, affiliated with the established and recognized labor organizations of the country, may be a new one, it is one which is apparently gaining in favor and spreading rapidly throughout the country. The formation of these unions has already taken place in a number of cities and counties in California and in many other states of the Union.

The big point is made by those favoring the union that of all lines of professional work the teaching profession is the poorest paid and that in many instances the salaries are lower than the wages given Mexican peons for their work. To correct this evil the union idea takes a strong hold on the members of the profession.

He is in the city prison, under investigation.

HUNS CITED FOR CRIMES IN BELGIUM

LAUSANNE, Switzerland, June 14. —The Frankfort Gazette publishes a Brussels despatch stating the Belgian attorney-general has posted notices citing Wilhelm Hohenzollern, Crown Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria and General Opher to appear before the Brussels Court of Appeal October 14 and answer to crimes committed in Belgium during German occupation.

In commenting, the Gazette said the Belgians apparently are unable to wait until the former kaiser's trial under the provision of the peace treaty.

HIGHEST LUNCH EVER EATEN BY COAST TRAVELER

Luncheon at 7000 feet in the clouds!

Anyone curious to know the sensations of lunching on cold chicken and muffins at this dizzy altitude needs only to inquire of William W. McKeighan, Los Angeles delegate to the California Hotel Men's Association.

McKeighan, the first traveler to "survive" the first commercial airplane journey from Los Angeles to San Francisco, was landed gracefully yesterday at the Marina. The plane was piloted by Al Wilson and it marked the first successful flight of the Mercury Aviation Company of Los Angeles.

The Mercury company is making regular trips between Los Angeles, Bakersfield and Fresno, said Aviator Wilson. The fleet of five planes now in use will be augmented by a twelve-passenger plane, which will be available for San Francisco trips after August 1.

McKeighan was a substitute passenger for State Senator Dwight H. Hart, whose physical dimensions eliminated him.

POLES RECONCILED TO PROPOSED PLEBISCITE

The Poles have become somewhat reconciled to the proposed plebiscite in Silesia by informal assurances which they have received that American troops will, if possible, be assigned to occupy the contested and disputed area pending the vote, to assure a fair and unintimidated expression of the people's wishes.

There is a division of opinion in peace conference circles as to the degree of recognition accorded the All-Russian government at Omsk by the note sent to Admiral Kolchak by council of five. Some delegates insist that if the council really recognized the Kolchak government it should be given representation in the conference. Others maintain the conference cannot give recognition to any government as individual nations must take such action separately.

COPENHAGEN, June 14. — Official announcement was made in Berlin that the German government would not accept the peace terms even in modified form, and that a decision is now up to the national assembly, said a despatch from the German capital.

The idea of holding a national plebiscite to allow the people to vote on acceptance or rejection of the terms has been abandoned.

She was found wandering the streets of Berkeley this morning and was unable to tell where she lived. She said she thought the address was 1504 McAllister street, Alameda, but there is no such address. She says she has a son, Norbin Nevin, who is superintendent of the textile department of the Presidio, but the authorities there are unable to give any light on the subject. She says also that she has a cousin, Mrs. Nellie Moore, residing on Jones street in San Francisco, who has not been located.

ARRESTED AFTER 2-YEAR SEARCH

MARTINEZ, June 14.—A search that has been conducted by deputies in the office of Sheriff R. R. Veale for nearly two years came to an end last night when San Francisco authorities notified the local officers that they had arrested Angelo Conati, wanted in this county for assault with intent to murder.

Andrew Ferrario, alleged victim of Conati, is in State's prison serving a two-year term for a like offense which was committed about a month after the time it is alleged Conati stabbed him. Ferrario escaped to San Diego, but was arrested there, returned here for trial and convicted.

Constable Conlin of Stege, where the stabbing took place, has gone to San Francisco and will return Conati here, where he will be held for trial. Ferrario will be brought back from prison to give evidence against him.

S. F. OFFICIAL LOSES $15,000 TO SWINDLERS

CHICAGO, June 14.—Warner Roehl, superintendent of hospitals of San Francisco, reported to the detective bureau here today that he had been swindled out of $15,000 in cash by two confidence men whom he met at the Great Northern Hotel.

The swindlers, Roehl said, first let him win $500 on their tip on a Board of Trade deal, let him clean up $83,000 "blue sky" money in a copper deal and then jumped off a moving train while Roehl was asleep in his berth with $15,000 he had put up as a margin.

Roehl said he first met the swindlers in Chicago three weeks ago and after "winning" the $83,000 in the copper deal, he was told he would have to put up $15,000 margin before he could collect. Roehl went to San Francisco, drew the money and met the men in Los Angeles. While they were on the way to Chicago the men leaped from the train.

Plans Dusted for Treaty Signing Hall of Mirrors Stage Again Set

PARIS, June 14.—(By the Associated Press.)—Plans for the great formal ceremony of the signing of the peace treaty at the chateau of Versailles have been withdrawn from the pigeonholes in which they were aathering dust when no definite date for the signature was in prospect.

French officials entrusted with the arrangements were informed originally that everything must be ready for the signing on June 5. They worked out an elaborate project, which was forwarded almost a month ago through the proper channels for approval.

hTe officials even went so far as to select a table on which the treaty should be signed.

The actual signing, as originally announced, will be staged at the historic Hall of Mirrors.

A space at either end of the Hall of Mirrors will be railed off.

At one end will be the privileged spectators, while at the other will be the correspondents representing the newspapers of the world.

Probably only the French flag will float from the chateau at the opening of the ceremony, but when the pen of President Wilson as the first delegate is placed to the document the standards of the twenty-three nations associated in the war will be broken open.

It is expected that the ceremony will be timed to begin about 5 o'clock in the afternoon. There will be speches by Premier Clemenceau as chairman of the conference, and by the head of the German delegation. The actual work of appending the signatures of the representatives of all the belligerent nations will occupy well over an hour.

The plenipotentiaries after the ceremony will leave the chateau by a portal opening on the terrace from which many of the fountains are visible. The German delegates, no longer regarded as enemies, will walk with the other plenipotentiaries.

KOLCHAK TELLS WHAT HE WILL DO

PARIS, June 14.—Admiral Kolchak's reply to the allies' proposal for conditional recognition of his Omsk anti-Bolsheviki government, which led the Big Five to accept his guarantees, contains the following principal points, it was officially revealed today.

First—Kolchak declares he will not retain power "one day longer than required by the interests of the country," and that his first thought when the Bolsheviks are definitely crushed will be to fix the date for the elections of the constituent assembly. He says he will turn over to that body all his powers "in order that it may freely determine the system of government." He points out, however, that he cannot recognize the constituent assembly of 1917, "which was elected under a regime of Bolshevik violence and the majority of whose members are now in the Sovietist ranks."

Second—Willingness is expressed to "discuss at once with all the powers all international questions."

Third—Independence of Poland is confirmed, but Kolchak contends that autonomy of Finland must be decided by the constituent assembly.

Fourth—The future of the present autonomous states of Esthonia, Letvia, Lithuania and the Caucasian and trans-Caucasian countries should be taken up separately.

Fifth—Similar solution should be applied to Bessarabia.

Sixth—Kolchak expresses willingness to assume the national debt of Russia.

Seventh—The Russian peasants must be guaranteed possession of their land.

Eighth—All Russian citizens shall have equal rights and receive equal protection.

NEW YORK, June 14.—Under the slogan "Don't let Germany win the war through the United States Senate," the League to Enforce Peace has announced the launching of a national campaign through its forty-eight state branches to defeat the resolution introduced by Senator Knox of Pennsylvania calling for the separation of the league of nations covenant from the peace treaty.

President of China May Resign Office

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE

PEKING, June 14.—In consequence of difficulties created by the popular movement against pro-Japanese members of the government the cabinet has resigned and President Hsu Shih Chang has also intimated his intention to quit office.

It is anticipated that parliament will decline to accept the president's resignation. This would amount virtually to a vote of confidence in the chief executive, which is needed to strengthen his hand in his fight against the militarists.

Strikes throughout the country continue. Railroad traffic is being impeded and the situation in China is awkward.

ENRIQUE CREEL EXILE IN L. A.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., June 14.—Enrique C. Creel, twice Mexican ambassador to the United States, minister of foreign affairs in the cabinet of Porfirio Diaz and for many years governor of the Mexican state of Chihuahua, now living in exile in Los Angeles, has just divulged for the first time how the Carranza government has returned to him and his family securities valued at more than $1,000,000 and other valuable property. He told, also, his belief that conditions in Mexico are rapidly improving.

The securities, hidden in two large boxes since 1914, have been restored to his sons, Edward, Henry and Salvador, who, under the name of Creel Brothers, conducted a banking establishment in the City of Mexico. To the former Mexican ambassador has been returned his family home in the Mexican capital.

"As yet," said Senor Creel, "my estates have not been returned to me, but, as conditions in Mexico are steadily improving, I believe they soon will be."

His estates include thousands of acres in Chihuahua, now in control of the Mexican government, as are 15,000,000 acres which were the property of his father-in-law, the late General Luis Terrazas, who died an exile in Texas last March, and who during the Diaz regime, was known as the wealthiest man in the southern republic.

Senor Creel, now about 60 years old, short, with gray mustache, is living here in semi-seclusion. Since he left his native country nearly five years ago he has not returned, but through his correspondence with friends in Mexico he has become convinced that "a better day is dawning there."

100,000 MEN DISCHARGED IN WEEK BY ARMY

WASHINGTON, June 14.—Demobilization of the American army is now breaking all records, General March, chief of staff, stated today.

During the week ending June 11, 100,000 men were discharged, a high mark, except for one week last December, when the Students' Army Training Camps released thousands of student soldiers.

Returns from France during the first ten days of June totalled 118,508, an unprecedented number.

The strength of the army on June 10 was 1,232,625, March stated. Demobilization has taken place at the rate of 357,000 a month, whereas during the war the average of men inducted into service a month was 220,000.

Demobilization, he said, is now two-thirds complete, 2,500,034 officers and men having been discharged. Sailings from Europe are 1,350,101 officers and men.

LEAGUE NO PARTY ISSUE, SAYS HAYS

FORT WAYNE, Ind., June 14.—Will H. Hays, chairman of the national committee of the Republican party, in an address here rejected the challenge, of Homer S. Cummings, chairman of the national Democratic committee, recently made in Chicago that the Republicans make a partisan issue of the league of nations. Hays without naming the league nevertheless said.

"The conclusion of the treaty of peace, including all its provisions—when we know what they are—is in no sense a partisan question.

"It is an American question.

"In the same spirit in which Republicans during the recent war measured their every act by how they could contribute most to effective action, so now they are determined to meet this new phase of the war problem in that revived spirit of fervent Americanism which is the glorified result of our experience of fire and blood.

Speaking for his party, which now controls both branches of Congress, Hays declared "we shall bring this government back to the limitations of the constitution in times of peace." He dwelt on the "preservation of our institutions," and "patriotism." Among his declarations were the following:

"With all our power we will strive to prevent the further spread of socialism."

"That criminal element, organized or unorganized, called I. W. W., or anything else, that goes about this country seeking whom it can destroy—that thing is a traitor to this country, nothing else, and should be treated as such."

"The Republican party will not forget, in the stress of other matters, that its protective tariff policies have made the wages of our laborers the highest in the world."

"There must be strong federal regulation, but not federal ownership."

SUIT TO LIMIT WATER PUMPED CONTEMPLATED

SAN LORENZO, June 14.—Legal descriptions of all boundaries of the proposed San Lorenzo water district are to be determined by Engineer Cyril Williams Jr. during the coming week in accordance with instructions issued to him by a committee of fifteen local landowners who are working for the formation of the district.

The district as now planned will roughly include all territory between the bay shore and the Foothill boulevard and between the corporate limits of San Leandro and Hayward. This will amply cover all territory which is said to be affected by the pumping of water by the East Bay Water Company, according to Williams.

DATE NOT YET FIXED.

No date has been set for the meeting which will probably be held during the latter part of next week at which Williams will report and petitions will be prepared asking the formation of the water district. The water law requires that these petitions must be circulated until 10 per cent of the voters in the proposed district have signed them, after which they are presented to the Board of Supervisors.

After petitions have been presented to the Board of Supervisors and all signatures certified, an election can be called on the formation of the water district. In the meantime the services of Richard W. Montell, assistant to Williams, are being retained to conduct an investigation of the amount of water secured by the farmers from their wells and the effect, if any, of the pumping by the East Bay Water Company.

Montell has been conducting measurements on 300 wells in the territory of the proposed water district for the past seven months and claims to have evidence to prove that the pumping of water by the East Bay Water Company has definitely lowered the water level in the wells and that the various wells close to the East Bay Water Company's pumps vary in level as much as ten feet when the water company pumps are in operation.

SUIT MAY BE FILED.

If the water district is formed the evidence will be brought together and suit may be filed to restrict the amount of water which can be pumped by the water company. It is said that the East Bay Water Company is now pumping from 12 wells in the district an average of 2,500,000 gallons a day. They are also at work on the drilling of nine more wells.

The water company wells average around 500 feet in depth and are therefore much deeper than the usual farmer's well, which averages about 75 feet. As the water company wells are cement cased several hundred feet down, the company engineers claim that they are not taking water from the upper strata which supply the farmers' wells.

The committee of local ranchers who are furthering the organization of the water district comprise the following: Henry Gansberger, chairman; R. P. King, J. McConaghy, J. P. Marlin, Henry Marlin, J. J. Smith, R. Brown, E. H. Crane, R. H. Collins, Mrs. E. H. Crane, Miss Mary Olsen, president of the San Lorenzo Civic Center; E. C. Perkins and George Vose.

3 INJURED WHEN AUTO OVERTURNS

A light machine driven by Howard Haley, 2016 East Twenty-second street, Oakland, overturned this morning at Sacramento street and University avenue, Berkeley, pinning Haley and his two companions, A. B. Norris, 5106 Dover street, and E. L. Hunt, 3847 Telegraph avenue, beneath the wreck. Haley sustained a broken collar bone; Norris received slight abrasions and Hunt suffered concussion of the brain. Three three men were hurried to Roosevelt Hospital, Berkeley. Later they were taken to their homes.

Haley, who is a salesman for a San Francisco firm, was on his way to Richmond on a business trip when the accident occurred.

Leaders of Boy Scouts Threatened

SAN FRANCISCO NEWS

Revolver Is Fired in Street Crowd

SAN FRANCISCO, June 14.—Leaders in the drive of the Boy Scouts to obtain more members here are the latest who have been "marked for extermination" by the radicals of the country and consequently many of them received threatening letters yesterday.

Gavin McNab, head of the Boy Scout drive on the Pacific Coast; Federal Judge W. W. Morrow and William T. Summers, president of the Merchants' National Bank, are among those who have received the letters.

The warnings received through the mails are similar to the one received by Captain of Inspectors Walter J. Petersen of Oakland recently, having the picture of a bomb on one side and the exploding bomb on the other. The paper is two feet wide and three feet long. On the sides are pasted newspaper clipping of bomb activities. At the head of the page is the name of the person to which it is addressed.

"As a lunky for the opulent oppressors you are trying to inveigle little boys into scout organizations, where they will be under the control of and at the service of infamous infant exploiters" the warning informs. It then proceeds to denounce the "profit patriot bankers, politicians, police, exponents on religion and other crafty creatures."

SHIPPING MAGNATE WINS OVER BROKER

That a shipping agent cannot deduct his commission and forward the net amount to his principal was ruled here when Judge Van Fleet instructed a jury to return a verdict awarding over $70,000 in wartime shipping profits to A. O. Lindvig, shipping magnate of Norway from his Pacific Coast agent, C. Henry Smith.

Smith contended thta the money was due him as commission, and he therefore forwarded only net amounts to Lindvig. Judge Van Fleet ruled that all moneys should be forwarded to the principal and that Smith must present his counter claims separately.

FIRES INTO CROWD ON POWELL STREET

Believing that someone was attempting to enter his room in the Golden West Hotel, Thomas Grimes, mining operator og Tonapah, Nev., fired a revolver into the crowds walking along Powell street shortly after 8 o'clock last night. No one was hit by the bullet, which pierced the floor to the entrance of the Raggett saloon, where a score of men were standing. According to the police, Grimes has been drinking heavily for the past three days. He was arrested by Detective Thomas Curtis.

S. F. TO HOLD FETE AS TRIBUTE TO WAR WOMEN

Plans for San Francisco's projected fete to be held in July as a tribute to the part played by women in winning the war will be made at a meeting of the Portola festival committee called for Monday by Chairman Philip T. Clay. The idea of the celebration, according to Clay, will be to rejoice the mode of the past two years and allow the soldiers, sailbration in which they will be hosts to the women.

Colonel Thornwell Mullally has been selected as director of the July fete and has started work on plans immediately. A parade, a ball and a carnival similar to the historical Portola pageant will be held with the tribute to women's work in the war as a new and finer motif for the celebration.

DESERTED HUSBAND GRANTED DIVORCE.

Helen E. McCarthy cared more for another man than for her husband, John H. McCarthy, or for their three children, according to his testimony and her letters, whic hwere produced as evidence in the suit of McCarthy for divorce. He was granted a decree by Judge Van Nostrand.

McCarthy was awarded the custody of the three children. He told the court his wife is living in Los Angeles with Jim Wilson, having deserted him in October, 1917.

TWO POLICEMEN ACCUSED OF NEGLECTING DUTY.

Police Sergeant Richard Foley and Policeman William Jurgens are charged with conduct unbecoming an officer in charges now before the police commission.

Charges against Foley are made at the instance of Moise Rosenfield, who conducts a clothing store at 301 Fifth street. He claims that two men entered his store and hit him and stole an overcoat from the place. He followed them and had them arrested, but claims that when he took them to the station Foley refused to book them on a robbery charge, booking them for battery instead.

Police Captain Arthur Layne filed charges against Jurgens in connection with the alleged failure of Jurgens to investigate a complaint of W. R. Stanfield. Stanfield was arrested by Jurgens for being intoxicated. After the search at the police station the man said there was missing $115 from his pocket. Captain Layne charges that Jurgens failed to report or investigate the occurrence.

SHORT-WEIGHT FRUIT SEIZED BY OFFICIALS.

One hundred and sixty baskets of apricots shipped here from Vacaville by J. Oyaba were seized here yesterday by deputies from the office of Lawrence Dolan, sealer of weights and measures. Dolan claims that the baskets were each several ounces shortweight. This seizure was the first made this season, which is just beginning, and Dolan says a close watch will be kept for all violators of the law.

ROTARY CLUB MEN LAUD BOY SCOUTS' CAMP

Boy Scout week ends officially tonight, but there will still be an opportunity for the people of this community to identify themselves with the big body of citizens in all parts of the United States that have volunteered their services for the purpose of promoting the movement.

The local citizens' committee in charge, comprising Postmaster Joseph J. Rosborough, chairman; Herman T. Johnson, V. O. Lawrence, Max Horwinski, W. W. Chapin and William J. Hayes, urges all those who wish to aid the movement to send in their names and subscriptions as soon as possible, as the committee was unable to reach any great number of people during the week.

Rosborough says that the people of this community are not giving this important work the support they should. He said:

"The people here do not seem fully to grasp the great importance of this movement. It means the preparation of the boys of the country for good citizenship when they grow up. Through the training that they undergo at the camps the Boy Scouts are developed physically and are taught habits of thrift that will be of incalculable advantage to them in future life. Every citizen should get behind this movement and help make it the great success that it merits."

SUCCESS EXPECTED.

Rosborough received a telegram yesterday from William T. Summers, chairman of the citizens' committee of Northern California, which read:

"Indications are from meager reports at hand that the campaign is to be a complete success. Would greatly appreciate your making as complete a report at the earliest moment necessary for me to report to Mr. McAdoo. Utah already over the top. Let's put California over."

Two hundred members of the Oakland Rotary club, who took luncheon at the Boy Scout camp at the head of Dimond canyon yesterday, are loud in their praise of the camp. The majority of the members had never seen the camp before, and after being shown over the twenty-eight-acre tract, expressed their astonishment that such an ideal site had been provided.

ROTARIANS PLEASED.

Some of the expressions of the Rotarians were:

Herman T. Johnson, president—I think it is the finest Boy Scout camp in America. It has even greater possibilities with development. This was my third visit to the camp, the first being about a week ago, and the more I see of it the greater appeal it has. It is simply ideal for the purposes to which it is to be devoted.

Max Horwinski, vice-president—The camp is a perfect laboratory for Boy Scout work. Nature has done so much in giving the boy every facility. Such features have to be artificially developed at other camps.

Fred E. Reed, director—This was a cheap price for such a fine piece of property. I am surprised that the Boy Scout trustees were able to buy such an ideal piece of ground for the price they paid. It will be a veritable mint as an investment within the next few years.

TAKE PLUNGE IN POOL.

Harold Oliver, trustee — After taking a plunge in the big swimming pool at the camp I am convinced that it is the finest fresh water tank I have ever seen. It will rank with any of the private pools on the Pacific coast.

Howard Schaefer, secretary—I am so infatuated with the camp that I am going to try to have the next annual picnic of the Rotary club held there, so that the women may have an opportuniy to see for themselves what an ideal site has been selected for the promotion of Boy Scout work.

IRISH HEARING DEMANDED OF PEACE ENVOYS

PARIS, June 14.—Frank P. Walsh and Edward F. Dunne, representing the Irish societies in America, have written to the American peace delegation asking to be informed what action has been taken on their request for a conference to consider the question of Ireland.

Ireland's case as it will be presented if the delegates are given a hearing briefly follows:

"If Ireland, on the grounds of national right, is entitled to recover her sovereign independence—and that is her demand—the recognition of her right is due from other nations for the following reasons:

"1—Because England's claim to withhold independence from Ireland is based on a principle which is a negation of national liberty and subversive of international peace and order. England resists Ireland's demand on the ground that the independence of Ireland would be, as alleged, incompatible to the security of England or Great Britain, or the British Empire.

"Whether this contention is well or ill founded, if it is admitted, then any state is justified in suppressing the independence of any nation whose liberty that state declares to be incompatible with its own safety, and an endless prospect of future wars is the natural consequence.

"2—Because England's government of Ireland has been at all times, and is conspicuously so at the present time, an outrage to the conscience of mankind.

"3—Because the English temper towards the cause of Irish national liberty produces atrocious and intolerable results in Ireland."

Blackbirds Fight Grasshopper Pest

CHICO, June 14.—Blackbirds and crows are the best eradicators of grasshoppes, says A. R. Anderson, rancher of Palermo. Anderson claims that each blackbird and crow will devour on the average of one quart of grasshoppers each day. He also states that the birds have a method all their own which they use for catching their prey. The birds line up in long lines, one behind the other and march across a field like soldiers, catching thousands of hoppers on their way.

LABOR NOTES

W. J. Wilkinson, business representative of the Engineers' and Draftsmen's Union, has returned from Stockton. He reported that there were good prospects of organizing a branch of the Engineers' and Draftsmen's Union with a membership of not less than sixty members.

A. G. Pike, sixth international vice president of the A. M. C. & B. W. of N. A., has arrived in Oakland from his headquarters in San Jose. Pike is here on union business. He has established temporary headquarters at the Central Labor Council, Eleventh and Washington streets.

A. F. Rahlves, secretary of the new Central Labor Council at Martinez, has been in conference with local labor officials regarding labor organization at Martinez. Organized only a few months, the new Martinez council is doing constructive work. Through the efforts of the council the town trustees recently passed a 6 o'clock closing ordinance. Increases in wages and changes in working conditions have also resulted from the activities of the organization.

An appeal to Congress to create a permanent public employment service has been made by Secretary of Labor Wilson. Wilson's appeal follows the failure of Congress at the last session to pass an appropriation of $272,000 in the deficiency bill to continue the United States Employment Service. In a letter on the subject Wilson says: "Inasmuch as the interests of the private fee charging agencies are fostered by constant shifting of workers from one employment to another, they are under constant temptation to which, unfortunately, they sometimes yield, to encourage restlessness among laborers and thus to increase the evils and economic loss in a large labor turnover. The work formerly done by the United States Employment Service in Oakland is now being carried on by the Community Placement Bureau, under the direction of Colonel H. M. Smitten, and is financed by a committee of public spirited citizens.

The Retail Clerks' union, local 47 of Oakland, have elected the following officers to serve for the incoming six months: President, J. C. Tretheway; first vice-president, C. J. Sohst; second vice-president, F. S. Rogers; recording secretary, J. E. Swinnock; secretary-treasurer, A. D. Alvarez; guide, Phillip Applo; guard, L. P. Owen; trustees, M. Moles, M. M. McCormick and N. W. Wilkie; delegates to the Central Labor Council, E. A. Jachne, M. Moles and H. Mocke; publicity committee on 6 o'clock closing of the retail stores, E. A. Jachne, J. S. Rogers, C. J. Sohst, J. J. Hare and J. P. Griffin; arrangement committee to assist in retail clerks' day at Neptune beach, July 20, R. R. Brown, A. J. Flynn, E. A. Jachne, J. S. Rogers and J. O. Powers.

A committee consisting of C. J. Sohst, A. D. Alvarez, J. J. Hare, E. H. Barker and J. E. Swinnock were appointed to cooperate with the She Clerks' union to arrange a joint installation and banquet of the newly elected officers in July. Ten candidates were initiated and several applications for membership received.

Effective July 1, a new wage scale will be put into effect throughout this jurisdiction for all carpenters, according to an announcement made yesterday. The new scale will call for $8 a day for this class of workers.

The jurisdiction affected includes Alameda, Contra Costa, Marin, San Mateo and San Francisco counties. The order for the new scale is being published throughout the district.

To offset any loss and prevent any injustice because of the increase, a fund of $68,000 is being raised throughout the jurisdiction. This fund is to be apportioned to contractors who signed contracts prior to June 1 and who could be compelled to suffer a heavy financial loss by paying the advanced scale which would not be figured in the cost of

New Charges in Fair Will Contest

Attempts at Coercion Are Alleged

SAN FRANCISCO, June 14.—"I paid $10,000 to Frederick W. Henshaw to obtain a rehearing of the Fair will case, and after a final decision which announced the invalidity of the trust clause in the will, paid him a further $400,000 at the instance of George A. Knight."

This was the statement today of William J. Dingee made by deposition before Mrs. Julia W. Crum, a notary public over the objection of attorneys for Justice Henshaw, and in the face of the court's order which required a continuance of ten days in the taking of this statement.

Dingee, after being sworn, stated that he lived in Sacramento, and has been a resident of California for forty-two years; said in part:

"I know Frederick W. Henshaw. I knew him in 1901 when he was a justice of the State supreme court. (Questions by Attorney J. A. Mackenzie, representing Lieutenant Wesley A. Crothers, beneficiary under the trust clause in the Fair will.)

"Did you talk to any one about the Fair will case?"

"Yes, George A. Knight."

"When?"

$10,000 FOR REHEARING.

"The day following Fair will decision when by a vote of 4 to 3 the supreme court sustained the trust clause. Knight came into my office in the Mills building and said he had seen Frank Moffitt, who told him I was the only one who could save the situation. He asked me if I knew Justice Henshaw, said the representatives of the Fair heirs would give $10,000 for a rehearing. I had a talk with Henshaw and told him I had been approached. He said he would see what could be done after I told him they would pay $10,000. After the rehearing was granted Knight gave me $10,000 in large checks and I paid it to Henshaw, in my office the day following the granting of the rehearing."

"Who brought up the subject of a reversal of the decision?"

"Knight. He said the Fair heirs would pay $400,000. I talked to Henshaw and he said he would do what he could."

"Do you recall the final decision of the first case in April, 1901, which announced the invalidity of the Fair will trust clause?"

"Yes."

HOW MONEY WAS PAID.

"When was the $400,000 paid and how was it handled?"

"After the supreme court by a vote of 4 to 3 affirmed the decision of the lower court the money was paid to me on various dates from May 1, 1901, to March, 1902, on checks drawn to my order signed by S. G. Murphy, president of the First National Bank."

"How did you get them?"

"Knight would tell me when to go and I would go to Murphy's office in the bank."

"What was the 'J. Brown account' carried on your books?"

"That was one I told my bookkeeper, Frank Losh, to open and it was the fictitious name of Justice Henshaw. I did this at Henshaw's request as he wanted to buy stock with it."

"Did you profit in any way by this transaction? Did Henshaw get all the $400,000?"

"I did not; he got it all."

"When you told Henshaw that the Fair estate representatives would pay $400,000 for an affirmative decision, what did he say?"

"He said, 'I can be responsible only for my own vote, but will do what I can.' I told this to Knight and he said he was satisfied as to the other three."

DEPOSITION CONCLUDED.

The deposition taking was then concluded and the matter continued for cross-examination at the request of Attorney Samuel M. Shortridge, representing former Justice Henshaw, and Attorneys C. R. Tobin and Charles A. Clough, representing Mrs. Theresa Oelrichs, Herman Oelrichs Jr. and Mrs. Virginia Vanderbilt, until 9 a. m. June 24. Dingee was asked if he would be present, and he made the following public statement to the press:

"I take this occasion publicly to acknowledge my shame and sorrow for my connection with this matter. I realize the seriousness of the charges I have made against my old friend, Justice Henshaw, and that I am equally guilty with him. I will not claim immunity. I will never cease to regret what I have done. My worst enemy could not feel worse than I do today, and I hope God and man will forgive me. I am not a voluntary witness here and would not have come unless told my presence could be compelled."

When asked to reconcile this statement with his voluntary request to submit himself for cross-examination on the 24th, and to state who were the persons alleged to have attempted bribery and threatened him, according to the affidavit filed by Attorney Mackenzie yesterday, Dingee refused to answer and was hurried away by Mackenzie.

SHORTRIDGE'S DENIAL.

Attorney Samuel M. Shortridge made the following reply to Dingee's statement:

"I generally and specifically deny the allegations made by Dingee in his deposition so far as they concern my client, former Justice Henshaw, and characterize this entire proceeding as a Bolshevist bid for publicity and personally consider this matter technical blackmail."

The fight of Lieut. Wesley Crothers to obtain a share of the James G. Fair millions was full of sensational developments late yesterday and brought to a startling climax when his attorney, James A. Mackenzie, filed an affidavit alleging attempts to bribe and coerce William J. Dingee, the principal witness for Crothers.

That Attorney Mackenzie had also been "followed, harassed and annoyed by divers unknown persons," was also alleged, but particular emphasis was placed upon the assumption "that extreme measures may be taken to interfere with or prevent the giving of testimony" by Dingee.

Earlier in the day the attempts of Attorney Samuel M. Shortridge, representing former Justice Frederick W. Henshaw of the State supreme court, who is alleged by Attorney Mackenzie to have accepted a $410,000 bribe to write a dissenting opinion which eliminated the trust clause in the Fair will under which Crothers was a beneficiary, had been successful in obtaining a court order restraining Attorney Mackenzie from taking the deposition of Frank A. Losh, Dingee's bookkeeper.

ATTORNEY IGNORES ORDER.

This order Attorney Mackenzie ignored, contending that Superior Judge George A. Sturtevant was without authority to make such a decision. The deposition of Losh was taken after this witness and Mrs. Julia A. Crum, a notary, had been warned that their action was illegal by both Attorney Shortridge and Attorneys C. R. Tobin and George A. Clough, representing Mrs. Theresa Oelrichs and Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt, defendants with Henshaw.

1082 Union street, had been in the employ of Dingee from November, 1890, to February, 1907, especially during the year 1901, when the "J. Brown" account was entered in his books at Dingee's request, Losh in part testified as follows to the questions of Attorney Mackenzie, making frequent reference to the original Dingee ledger, journal and cash book.

Q.—What did Dingee tell you the "J. Brown" account was?

A.—He said it was in reality the account of Henshaw, carried under a fictitious name.

Q.—What were the credits and totals to this account?

A.—They were checks totaling $400,000 drawn to Dingee's order on the First National Bank of San Francisco and signed by its president.

Q.—Where did they come from?

A.—At that time (1901) Dingee's office was on the second floor of the Mills building and he would tell me to watch until George Knight would appear at the entrance of the Russ House across the street. Then he would go over and return with one of these checks signed by Murphy. We received them as follows: May 1, $50,000; June 1, $50,000; June 15, $50,000; July 5, $100,000; September 8, $100,000, and March 21, 1902, $50,000.

ACCOUNT DISTRIBUTED.

Q.—How was this $400,000 distributed?

A.—On Dingee's order I credited $50,000 to the account of Frank J. Moffett, $100,000 to the "J. Brown" account and $250,000 to Dingee's personal account.

Q.—Did Henshaw ever discuss this "J. Brown" account with you?

Attorney Shortridge—I want to re-enter a strenuous objection to this entire proceeding on behalf of Justice Henshaw. It is a flagrant violation of a court order and is being carried on in contempt. This is not the way to preserve the rights of a litigant.

Resumption of questioning of Losh.

Q.—Did Henshaw ever discuss the J. Brown account with you?

A.—No, but discussed purchase of Alaska Packers stock and said he did not wish his friend Henry Fortmann to know he was buying it.

Q.—Were all of these Murphy checks deposited to Dingee's account in the Nevada National Bank?

A.—No. One for $50,000 Dingee said he wanted to "take the curse off it" and he took it up to E. J. McCutcheon and exchanged it for one of his or his firm's. This Brown account was unusual, as it was the only one on which he did not give me full information. He gave me the name of J. Brown, but I never know who it was.

'HEALTH MAKERS' PLAN PROGRAM

With the purpose of outlining a program of instruction that will not only improve the physical development of boys and girls, but which will teach them the love of arts, so that in their years of maturity they will continue healthful exercises, a state conference of the physical directors in the schools in all parts of California is being held in the Hotel Oakland. A three-day session of the conference will end tonight.

This conference was called by Clark W. Hetherington, state supervisor of physical education of the State Board of Education. There are more than 200 physical instructors in attendance. Hetherington addressed the conference today and explained in detail the aim to improve methods of teaching the subject.

Individual instructors will give their experiences and there is to be a general interchange of ideas on the subject.

This is the last of four conferences held in California during the last few months. The others were held at Los Angeles, Fresno and Sacramento.

The session of the conference today was devoted to the work of women physical directors and many explained their method of instruction. It is proposed to work out a more comprehensive and satisfactory system of carrying on the work among the girls. Physical training of girls is being given the same careful attention as that which characterizes the work among the boys.

As it is impossible to get physical instructors from schools in different parts of the State to attend such meetings at any given place, these conferences are held in different cities. The conference concluded its session here this afternoon.

HOSPITAL HEAD CHEATED, CLAIMED

CHICAGO, June 14. — Warner Roehl, former superintendent of Franklin hospital, San Francisco, has asked the authorities to assist him in recovering $15,000 two swindlers had taken from him. He said he came to Chicago three weeks ago for a visit and met two men who induced him to take a "flyer" in copper.

Roehl says he was on his way to the postoffice when he met a stranger who started a conversation. The stranger introduced himself as "Mr. Jolly." A third man joined them and asked Mr. Jolly about copper.

Jolly explained they could make a fortune in copper trading at a bucket shop. They invested. Later the bucket shop man told Roehl that he had made $35,000.

"But how do I know your check is O. K. ? You'd better get cash," the bucket shop man told him.

They went to California for the money. Soehl took $15,000 from the bank, met the men again in Los Angeles and started to collect. Mrs. Roehl was with him. One night during the trip from Los Angeles to Chicago the two men left the train, taking Roehl's $15,000.

The money, it appears, belonged to Mrs. Roehl who inherited it several years ago at the death of her former husband.

Warner Roehl left the Franklin (formerly the German hospital four years ago, it was stated at that institution yesterday. It was also said that no information concerning the

BANDITRY IN BORDER TOLD IN FORD CASE

By HARRY REUTLINGER
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

MOUNT CLEMENS, Mich., June 14.—Grim stories of the atrocities perpetrated by Mexican bandits who raided Columbus, N. M., in 1916 were related by witnesses who took the stand again in the Henry Ford-Chicago Tribune libel suit.

Mrs. Laura Ritchie, proprietress of the Commercial hotel at Columbus, told a graphic story of how the bandits came to the hotel in the early morning, killed her husband and several guests and then burned the building. Her testimony is regarded by the defense as the climax of the stories told of border banditry.

"The Mexicans broke down the door of the hotel," said Mrs. Ritchie; "and went to room No. 5, where they shot Mr. Hart. I telephoned for help, but was struck on the arm. Then they took Mr. Miller downstairs and he was killed and Mr. Walker followed. He was shot to pieces. Next came my husband."

Mrs. Ritchie paused for a moment and then added: "Well, I'm a widow now."

Mrs. Susan Moore of El Paso, Texas, also testified concerning the Columbus raid and told how she had seen the Mexicans robbing the body of her dead husband. Mrs. Moore was shot twice while attempting to escape from the bandits.

Dr. Isaac Gellard of Detroit testified that he was on his way to El Paso at the time of the Santa Isabelle massacre and that he examined the bodies of 18 victims. The men, he said, had been beaten and their bodies mutilated after they had been killed.

Thomas B. Holmes, a mining engineer, testified that Villista bandits carried German mauser rifles that were used by the Germans in the early part of the war.

FREE FARES AIDING EXIT OF GAMBLERS

Oakland gamblers and poker players are migrating to San Francisco and Emeryville following the passage and rigid enforcement of the new "anti-gambling ordinance," according to police reports today.

"Cappers" for Oakland games are being paid $8.50 a day by San Francisco card rooms to take their Oakland followers across the bay and free ferry tickets are being distributed to men who formerly played in card rooms operated in Oakland.

Arrangements have been made with several jitneys running to Emeryville by gamblers in that city to take card players to Emeryville free. According to the police estimate, several hundred players who formerly played in Oakland have been enticed to San Francisco or Emeryville, representing probably $10,000 per month being played over poker tables and other gaming devices.

OKLAHOMA EGGS ARE SHIPPED TO OAKLAND MART

Oklahoma eggs were received in the local wholesale commission market this morning for the first time. A carload of eggs, consisting of 426 cases, were received from that State by one of the comsion merchants, and he expects another carload in the near future. Trade often develops strange situations. While many carloads of California eggs have been shipped east since the first of the year, from three to five carloads of eastern eggs are reaching the bay city markets each week. For the last two weeks egg handlers of California have not been shipping eggs from the State.

Every taxpayer in the district who did not pay in full when filing his return last March was sent a bill showing the balance due. Many of them, the collector stated, are helping the government by closing their accounts with the second payment.

Failure to make the payment on or before the due date subjects the taxpayer to a penalty of 25 per cent of the tax and interest at 1 per cent a month until the tax is paid.

RICH BUT AGED WIFE DESERTED

FRESNO, June 14.—Money and position lavished upon him by a wife many years his senior became cheap and tawdry when love died, and Horace T. Macdonald, wealthy business man of Los Angeles, fled to this city to start all over again with Mrs. A. E. Shaw, a comely widow. Such, in substance, is the statement he made to the police following his arrest here on a felony embezzlement charge. Macdonald and Mrs. Shaw were registered at a local hotel as Macfarlane and wife.

Macdonald was married when he was 19 years old. His wife was 52. It was while he was in the army that his love for his wife cooled. Returning to Los Angeles, she started him in a profitable business, purchased him several machines and gave him a number of diamonds.

Recently he met Mrs. Shaw. This fact became known to Mrs. Macdonald. Three days age he left for this city in a machine given him by his wife. While here he pawned costly diamonds when arrested by the police charged with embezzlement. His wife issued the complaint.

"I do not want to go back," said Macdonald. "Any love I ever had for my wife is dead. The difference between our ages is too great. We were not happy."

ALLIES DEMAND GERMANS SIGN OWN INDICTMENT

OFFICIAL SUMMARY OF PEACE TREATY PROVES DEFICIENT

Inspection of the preliminary draft of the peace treaty which was submitted to the German delegates at Versailles and a copy of which was this week inserted in the congressional record by Senator Borah of Idaho, shows that the official summary of the treaty draft published in The TRIBUNE on May 8 and 9 was inadequate to describe all the conditions, rather than incorrect. Of the notable deficiencies of the summary the paragraphs dealing with the articles covering reparation and labor legislation are perhaps the most conspicuous.

Part VIII of the treaty, dealing with reparations, has provided most of the formidable points of controversy among the allied delegates and between the allies and the Germans. This section of the treaty is printed in full below, together with other important sections not dealt with comprehensively in the official summary of May 8.

PART VIII

Reparations

Article 231. The allied and associated governments affirm and Germany accepts the responsibility of Germany and her allies for causing all the loss and damage to which the allied and associated governments and their nationals have been subjected as a consequence of the war imposed upon them by the aggression of Germany and her allies.

Article 232. The allied and associated governments recognize that the resources of Germany are not adequate, after taking into account permanent diminutions of such resources which will result from other provisions of the present treaty to make complete reparation for all such loss and damage. The allied and associated governments, however, require, and Germany undertakes, that she will make compensation for all damage done to the civilian population of the allied and associated powers and to their property during the period of the belligerency of each as an allied or associated power against Germany by such aggressions by land, by sea and from the air, and in general all damage as defined in Annex 1 hereto. In accordance with Germany's pledges, already given as to complete restoration for Belgium, Germany undertakes, in addition to the compensation for damage elsewhere in this chapter provided for, as a consequence of the violation of the treaty of 1839 to make reimbursement of all sums which Belgium has borrowed from the allies and associated governments up to November 11, 1918, together with interest at the rate of five per cent (5 per cent) per annum on such sums. This amount shall be determined by the reparation commission and the German government undertakes upon forthwith to make a special issue of bearer bonds to an equivalent amount payable in marks gold, on May 1, 1926, or, at the option of the German government, on the first of May in any year up to 1926. Subject to the foregoing, the form of such bonds shall be determined by the reparation commission. Such bonds shall be handed over to the reparation commission, which has authority to take and acknowledge receipt thereof on behalf of Belgium.

COMMISSION TO FIX REPARATION FIGURE

Article 233. The amount of the above damage for which compensation is to be made by Germany shall be determined by an interallied commission to be called the reparation commission and constituted in the form and with the powers set forth hereunder and in annexes II to VII inclusive hereto. This commission shall consider the claims and give to the German government a just opportunity to be heard. The findings of the commission as to the amount of damage defined as above shall be concluded and notified to the German government on or before the first of May, 1921, as representing the extent of that government's obligations. The commission shall concurrently draw up a schedule of payments prescribing the time and manner for securing and discharging the entire obligation within a period of thirty years from the first of May, 1921. If, however, within the period mentioned, Germany fails to discharge her obligations, and balance remaining unpaid may, within the discretion of the commission, be postponed for settlement in subsequent years, or may be handled otherwise in such manner as the allied and associated governments, acting in accordance with the procedure laid down in this part of the treaty, shall determine.

Article 234. The reparation commission shall after the first May, 1921, from time to time, consider the resources and capacity of Germany and, after giving her representatives a just opportunity to be heard, shall have discretion to extend the date, and to modify the form of payments, such as are to be provided for in accordance with Article 232. But not to cancel any part, except with the specific authority of the several governments represented upon the commission.

PROVISION MADE FOR INSTALLMENTS

Article 235. In order to enable the allied and associated powers to proceed at once to the restoration of their industrial and economic life, pending the full determination of their claims, Germany shall pay in such installments and in such manner (whether in gold, commodities, ships, securities or otherwise) as the reparation commission may fix, during 1919, 1920 and the first four months of 1921, the equivalent of 20 billion gold marks. Out of this sum the expenses of the armies of occupation subsequent to the armistice of the 11th of November, 1918, shall first be met, and such supplies of food and raw materials as may be judged by the governments of the principal allied and associated powers to be essential to enable Germany to meet her obligations for reparation may also, with the approval of the said governments, be paid for out of the above sum. The balance shall be reckoned towards liquidation of the amounts due for reparation. Germany shall further deposit bonds as prescribed in paragraph 12 (C) of Annex II hereto.

Article 236. Germany further agrees to the direct application of her economic resources to reparation as specified in Annexes III, IV, V and VI, relating respectively to merchant shipping, to physical restoration and to coal and derivatives of coal and to dyestuffs and other chemical products; provided always that the value of the property transferred and any services rendered by her under these annexes, assessed in the manner therein prescribed, shall be credited to her towards liquidation of her obligations under the above articles.

Article 237. The successive installments, including the above sum, paid over by Germany in satisfaction of the above claims, will be divided by the allied and associated governments in proportions which have been determined upon by them in advance, on a basis of general equity and of the rights of each. For the purposes of this division the value of property transferred under Article 243 and under Annexes III, IV, V, VI and VII shall be reckoned in the same manner as cash payments effected in that year.

RESTITUTION OF ANIMALS DEMANDED

Article 238. In addition to the payments mentioned above Germany shall effect, in accordance with the procedure laid down by the reparation commission, restitution in cash of cash taken away, seized or sequestered, and also restitution of animals, objects of every nature, and securities taken away, seized or sequestered, in the cases in which it proves possible to identify them in territory belonging to Germany or her allies. Until this procedure is laid down, restitution will continue in accordance with the provisions of the armistice of November 11, 1918, and its renewals and the protocols thereto.

Article 239. Germany undertakes to make forthwith the restitution contemplated by Article 238 and to make the payments and deliveries contemplated by Articles 233, 234, 235 and 236.

Article 240. Germany recognizes the commission provided for by Article 233 as the same may be constituted by the allied and associated governments in accordance with Annex II, and agrees irrevocably to the possession and exercise by such commission of the power and authority given to it under the present treaty. The German government will supply to the commission all the information which the commission may require relative to the financial situation and operations and to the property, productive capacity, and stocks and current production of raw materials and manufactured articles of Germany and her nationals, and further any information relative to military operations which in the judgment of the commission may be necessary for the assessment of German liability for reparation as defined in Annex I. The German government will accord to the members of the commission and its authorized agents the same rights and immunities as are enjoyed in Germany by duly accredited diplomatic agents of friendly powers. Germany further agrees to provide for the salaries and expenses of the commission and of such staff as it may employ.

GERMANY REQUIRED TO ENFORCE RULES

Article 241—Germany undertakes to pass, issue and maintain in force any legislation, order and decrees that may be necessary to give complete effect to these provisions.

Article 242. The provisions of this part of the present treaty do not apply to property rights and interests referred to in Sections III and IV of Part X (economic clauses) of the present treaty, except so far as concerns any final balance in favor of Germany under Article 243 (a).

Article 243. The following shall be reckoned as credits to Germany in respect to her reparation obligations:

(a) Any final balance in favor of Germany under Sections III and IV of Part X (economic clauses) and Section V (Alsace-Lorraine) of Part III (political clauses for Europe).

(b) Amounts due to Germany in respect of transfers under Part IX (financial clauses), Part XII (ports, waterways and railways) and Section IV (Saar Basin) of Part III (political clauses in Europe).

(c) Amounts which in the judgment of the reparation commission could be credited to Germany on account of any other transfers under the present treaty of property, rights, concessions or other interests.

In no case however shall credit be given for property restored in accordance with Article 238.

Article 244. The transfer of the German submarine cables, which do not form the subject of particular provisions of the present treaty, is regulated by Annex VII hereto.

GOLD BEARING BONDS DEMANDED

Annex II (c). In order to facilitate and continue the immediate restoration of the economic life of the allied and associated countries, the commission will, as provided in Article 235, take from Germany by way of security for and acknowledgement of her debt, a first installment of gold bearer bonds free of all taxes or charges of every description established or to be established by the government of the German empire or of the German states or by any authority subject to them; the bonds will be delivered on account and in three portions, the marks gold being payable in conformity with Article 262 of Part IX, financial clauses, of the present treaty, as follows:

1. To be issued forthwith 20 billion marks gold bearer bonds, payable not later than May 1, 1921, without interest. There shall be specially applied towards the amortization of these bonds the payments which Germany is pledged to make in conformity with Article 235, after deducting of the sums used for the reimbursement of expenses of the armies of occupation and for payment of foodstuff and raw materials. Such bonds as have not been redeemed by May 1, 1921, shall then be exchanged for new bonds of the same type as those provided for below (Paragraph 12 C 2).

2. To be issued forthwith further 40 billion marks gold bearer bonds bearing interest at 2½ per cent per annum between 1921 and 1926 and thereafter at 5 per cent per annum, with an additional 1 per cent for amortization beginning in 1926 on the whole amount of the issue.

FORTY BILLION MARKS TO BE PAID LATER

3. To be delivered forthwith a covering undertaking in writing to [illegible] but not until the commission is satisfied that Germany can meet such interest and sinking fund obligations, a further installment of 40 billion marks gold 5 per cent bearer bonds, the time and mode of payment of principal and interest to be determined by the commission. The dates for payment of interest, the manner of applying the amortization fund and all other questions relating to the issue, management and regulation of the bond issue shall be determined by the commission from time to time. Further issues by way of acknowledgement and security may be required as the commission subsequently determines from time to time.

(d) In the event of bonds, obligations or other evidences of indebtedness issued by Germany by way of security for or acknowledgement of her reparation debt being disposed of outright, not by way of pledge to persons other than the several governments in whose Germany's original reparation indebtedness was created, the amount of such reparation indebtedness shall be deemed to be extinguished corresponding to the nominal value of the bonds, etc., so disposed of outright and the obligations of Germany in respect of such bonds shall be confined to liabilities to the holders of the bonds, as expressed upon their face.

(e) The damage for repairing, reconstructing and rebuilding property in the invaded and devastated districts, including reinstallation of furniture, machinery and other equipment, will be calculated according to the cost at the dates when the work is done.

(f) Decisions of her commission relating to the total or partial cancellations of the capital or interest of any verified debt of Germany must be accomplished by a statement of its reasons.

12. As to voting the commission will observe the following rules:

When a decision of the commission is taken, the votes of all the delegates entitled to vote, or, in the absence of any of them, of their assistant delegates, shall be recorded. Abstention from voting is to be treated as a vote against the proposal under discussion. Assessors have no vote.

UNANIMITY ON SOVEREIGNTY ISSUES.

On the following questions unanimity is necessary:

(a) Questions involving the sovereignty of any of the allies and associated powers or the cancellation of the whole or any part of the debt or obligations of Germany.

(b) Questions of determining the amount and conditions of bonds or other obligations to be issued by the German government and of fixing the time and manner of selling, negotiating or distributing such bonds.

(c) Any postponement, total or partial, beyond the end of 1930 of the payments of installments falling due between the 1st of May, 1921, and the end of 1926, inclusive.

(d) Any postponement, total or partial, of any installment falling due after 1926 for a period exceeding three years.

(e). Questions of applying in any particular case a method of measuring damages different from that which has been previously applied in a similar case.

(f) Questions of interpretation of the provisions of this part of the present treaty.

All other questions shall be decided by a vote of a majority.

In case of any difference of opinion among the delegates, which cannot be solved by reference to their governments, upon the question whether a given case is one which requires a unanimous vote for its decision or not, such difference shall be referred to the immediate arbitration or some impartial person to be agreed upon by their governments, whose award the allied and associated governments agree to accept.

14. Decisions of the commission in accordance with the powers conferred upon it, shall forthwith be combined and may be put into immediate execution without further proceedings.

15. The commission will issue to each of the interested powers, in such form as the commission shall fix:

(1) A certificate stating that it holds for the account of the said power bonds of the issues mentioned above the said certificate on the demand of the power concerned being divisible in a number of parts not exceeding five.

INDEMNITY BONDS MUST BE REGISTERED.

(2) From time to time certificates stating the goods delivered by Germany on account of her reparation debt which it holds for the account of the said power. The said certificates shall be registered and upon notice to the commission, may be transferred by endorsement.

When bonds are issued for sale or negotiations and when goods are delivered by the commission, certificates to an equivalent value must be withdrawn. Interest shall be debited to Germany as from May, 1921, in respect here determined by the commission, after allowing for sums already covered by cash payments or their equivalent, by bonds issued to the commission or under Article 243. The rate of interest shall be 5 per cent unless the commission shall determine at some future time that circumstances justify a variation of this rate. The commission in fixing on May 1, 1921, the total amount of the debt of Germany, may take account of interest due on sums arising out of the reparation of material damage as from November 11, 1918, up to May 1, 1921.

17. In case of default by Germany in the performance of any obligation under this part of the present treaty the commission will forthwith give notice of such default to each of the interested powers and may make such recommendation as to the action to be taken in consequence of such default as it may think necessary.

18. The measures which the allied and associated powers shall have the right to take, in case of voluntary default by Germany and which Germany agrees not to regard as acts of war, may include economic and financial prohibition and reprisals and in general such other measures as the respective governments may determine to be necessaray in the circumstances.

19. Payments required to be made in gold or its equivalent on account of the proved claims of the allied and associated powers may at any time be accepted by the commission in the form of chattels, properties, commodities, business right concession within or without German territory, ships, bonds, shares or securities of any kind, or currencies of Germany or other states, the value of such substitutes for gold being fixed at a fair and just amount by the commission itself.

RULES GOVERNING INDEMNITY COMMISSION.

20. The commission fixing or accepting payment in specified properties or rights shall have due regard for any legal or equitable interest of the allied and associated powers or of neutral powers or of their nationals therein.

21. No members of the commission shall be responsible except to the government appointing him, for any action or omission as such members. No one of the allied or associated governments assumes any responsibility in respect of any other government.

22. Subject to the provision of the present treaty this annex may be amended by the unanimous decision of the governments represented from time to time upon the commission.

23. When all the amounts due from Germany and her allies under the present treaty or the decisions of the commission have been discharged and all sums received or their equivalents, shall have been distributed to the powers interested the commission shall be dissolved.

Annex 3. 1. Germany recognizes the right of the allied and associated powers to the replacement, ton for ton (gross tonnage) and class, for class, of all merchant ships and fishing boats lost or damaged owing to the war. Nevertheless, and in spite of the fact that the tonnage of German shipping at present in existence is much less than that lost by the allied and associated powers in consequence of the German aggression, the right thus recognized will be enforced on German ships and boats under the following conditions: The German government, on behalf of themselves and so as to bind all other persons interested cede to the allied and associated governments the property in all the German ships which are of 1600 tons gross and upwards; in one-half, reckoned in tonnage, of the steam trawlers, and in one-quarter, reckoned in tonnage, of the other fishing boats.

The conditions of this cession shall be settled by the arbitrators referred to in Article 339 of Part XII (ports, waterways and railways) of the present treaty, who are charged with the settlement of difficulties relating to the apportionment of river tonnage resulting from the new international regime applicable to certain river systems or from the territorial changes affecting those systems.

RETURN OF BOOTY IS PROVIDED FOR.

7. Germany agrees to take any measures that may be indicated to her by the reparation commission for obtaining the full title to the property in all ships which have during the war been transferred, or are in process of transfer, to neutral flags without the consent of the allied and associated governments.

8. Germany waives all claims to any description against the allied and associated governments and their nationals in respect to detention, employment, loss or damage of any German ships or boats, exception being made of payments due in respect to the employment armistice agreement of the 13th, January, 1919, and subsequent agreements. The handing over of the ships of the German mercantile marine must be continued without interruption in accordance with said agreement.

9. Germany waives all claims to all vessels or cargoes sunk by or in consequence of naval and subsequently salved, in which any of the allied or associated governments or their nationals may have any interest either as owners, charterers, insurers or otherwise, notwithstanding any decree of condemnation which may have been made by a prize court of Germany or of her allies.

Germany undertakes to furnish to the University of Louvain within three months after a request made by it and transmitted through the intervention of the reparation commission, manuscripts, incunabula, printed books, maps and objects of collection corresponding in number and value to those destroyed in the burning by Germany of the Library of Louvain. All details regarding such replacement will be determined by the reparation commission, within six months of the coming into force of the present treaty, in order to enable Belgium to reconstitute her two great artistic works.

PART XIII

Organization of Labor

Senator Lodge has referred to the articles dealing with workers as containing surprises not hinted at in the official summary. The Labor Section of the treaty follows:

Whereas, The League of Nations has for its object the establishment of universal peace and such peace can be established only if it be based on social justice; and,

Whereas, Conditions of labor exist involving such injustice, hardship and privation to large numbers of people as to produce unrest so great that the peace and harmony of the world are imperiled; and improvement of those conditions is urgently required; as for example, by the regulation of the hours of work, including the establishment of a maximum working day and week, the regulation of the labor supply, the prevention of unemployment, the provison of an adequate living wage, the protection of the worker against sickness, disease and injury arising out of his employment, the protection of children, young persons and women, provisions for old age and injury, protection of the interests of workers when employed in countries other than their own, recognition of the people of the freedom of association, the organization of vocation and technical education and other measures;

Whereas, Also the failure of any nation to adopt humane conditions of labor is an obstacle in the way of other nations which desire to improve the conditions in their own countries; the high contracting parties, moved by sentiments of justice and humanity as well as by the desire to secure the permanent peace of the world, agree to the following:

CHAPTER 1
ORGANIZATION.

Article 387. A permanent organization is hereby established for the promotion of the objects set forth in the preamble. The original members of the League of Nations shall be the original members of this organization and hereafter membership of the League of Nations shall carry with it membership of the said organization.

Article 388. The permanent organization shall consist of: (1) A general conference of representatives of the members, and (2) an international labor office controlled by the governing body described in Article 393.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS CONSTITUTION

Article 389. The meetings of the general conference of representatives of the members shall be held from time to time as occasion may require, and at least once in every year. It shall be composed of four representatives of each of the members, of whom two shall be government delegates and the two others shall be delegates representing respectively the employers and the work people of each of the members. Each delegate may be accompanied by advisers who shall not exceed two in number for each item on the agenda of the meeting. When questions specially affecting women are to be considered by the conference, one at least of the advisers should be a woman. The members undertake to nominate non-government delegates and advisers chosen in agreement with the industrial organizations if such organizations exist, which are most representative of employers or work people, as the case may be, in their respective countries. Advisers shall not speak except on a request made by the delegate whom they accompany and by the special authorization of the president of the conference, and may not vote. A delegate may by notice in writing to the president appoint one of his advisers to act as his deputy, and the adviser, while so acting, shall be allowed to speak and vote. The names of the delegates and their advisers will be communicated to the international labor office by the government of each of the members. The credentials of delegates and their advisers shall be subject to scrutiny by the conference which may, by two-thirds of the votes cast by the delegates present, refuse to admit any relegate or adviser whom it deems not to have been nominated in accordance with the article.

Article 390. Every delegate shall be entitled to vote individually on all matters which are taken into consideration by the conference.

If one of the members fails to nominate one of the non-government delegates which it is entitled to nominate, the other non-government delegates shall be allowed to sit and speak at the conference, but not to vote. If in accordance with Article 389 the conference refuses admission to a delegate of one of the members the provisions of the present article shall apply as if that delegate had not been nominated.

Article 391. The meetings of the conference shall be held at the seat of the League of Nations, or at such other place as may be decided by the conference at a previous meeting by two-thirds of the votes cast by the delegates present.

Article 392. The international labor office shall be established at the seat of the League of Nations as part of the organization of the league.

INTERNATIONAL LABOR OFFICE

Article 393. The international labor office shall be under the control of a governing body consisting of twenty-four persons, appointed in accordance with the following provisions: The governing body of the international labor office shall be constituted as follows: Twelve persons representing the governments; six persons elected by the delegates to the conference representing the employers; six persons elected by the delegates to the conference representing the workers. Of the twelve persons representing the governments, eight shall be nominated by the members which are of the chief industrial importance and four shall be nominated by the members selected for the purpose by the government delegates to the conference, excluding the delegates of the eight members mentioned above. Any question as to which are the members of the chief industrial shall be decided by the council of the League of Nations. The period of office of the members of the governing body will be three years. The method of filling vacancies and other similar questions may be determnied by the governing body, subject to the approval of the conference. The governing body shall, from time to time, elect one of its members to act as its chairman, shall regulate its own procedure and shall fix its own times of meeting. A special meeting shall be held if a written request to that effect is made by at least ten members of the governing body.

Article 394. There shall be a director of the international labor office who shall be appointed by the governing body, and, subject to the instructions of the governing body, shall be responsible for the efficient conduct of the international labor office and for such other duties as may be assigned to him. The director or his deputy shall attend all meetings of the governing body.

Article 395. The staff of the international labor office shall be appointed by the director, who shall so far as is possible with due regard to the efficiency of the work of the office, select persons of different nationalities. A certain number of these positions shall be women.

FUNCTIONS OF INTERNATIONAL BOARD

Article 396. The functions of the international labor office shall include the collection and distribution of information on all subjects relating to the international adjustment of conditions of industrial life and labor and particularly the examinations of subjects which it is proposed to bring before the conference with a view to the conclusion of international conventions and the conduct of special investigations as may be ordered by the conference. It will prepare the agenda for the meetings of the conference. It will carry out the duties required of it by the provisions of this part of the present treaty in connection with international disputes. It will edit and publish in French and English, and in such other languages as the governing body may think desirable, a periodical paper dealing with problems of industry and employment of international interest. Generally, in addition to the functions set out in this article, it shall have such other powers and duties as may be assigned to it by the conference.

Article 397. The government departments of any of the members which deal with questions of industry and employment may communicate directly with the director through the representative of their government on the governing body of the international labor office, or failing any such representative through such other qualified official as the government may nominate for the purpose.

Article 398. The international labor office shall be entitled to the assistance of the secretary general of the League of Nations in any matter in which it can be given.

Article 399. Each of the members will pay the traveling and subsistence expenses of its delegates and their advisers any of its representatives attending the meetings of the conference or governing body, as the case may be. All the other expenses of the international labor office and of the meetings of the conference or governing body shall be paid to the director by the secretary general of the League of Nations out of the general funds of the league. The director shall be responsible to the secretary general of the league for the proper expenditure of all moneys paid to him in pursuance of this article.

CHAPTER II PROCEDURE.

Article 400. The agenda for all meetings of the conference will be settled by the governing body, who shall consider any suggestion as to the agenda that may be made by the government of any of the members or by any representative organized for the purpose.

Article 401. The director shall act as the secretary of the conference and shall transmit the agenda so as to reach the members four months before the meeting of the conference, and, through them, the non-government delegates when appointed.

Article 402. Any of the governments of the members may formally object to the inclusion of any item or items in the agenda. The grounds for such objection shall be set forth in a reasoned statement addressed to the director, who shall circulate it to all the members of the permanent organizations. Items to which such objection has been made shall not, however, be excluded from the agenda, if at the conference a majority of two-thirds of the votes cast by the delegates present is in favor of considering them. If the conference decides (otherwise than under the preceding paragraph) by two-thirds of the votes cast by the delegates present that any subject shall be considered by the conference, that subject shall be included in the agenda for the following meeting.

PROCESS NAMED FOR FILLING OFFICES

Article 403. The conference shall regulate its own procedure, shall elect its own president and may appoint committees to consider and report on any matter. Except as otherwise expressly provided in this part of the present treaty, all matters shall be decided by a simple majority of the votes cast by the delegates present. The voting is void unless the total number of votes cast is equal to half the number of delegates attending the conference.

Article 404. The conference may add to any committees which it appoints technical experts, who shall be assessors without power to vote.

Article 405. When the conference has decided on the adoption of proposals with regard to an item in the agenda it will rest with the conference to determine whether these proposals should take the form (a) of a recommendation to be submitted to the members for consideration with a view to the effect being given to it by national legislation or otherwise, or (b) of a draft of the international convention for ratification by the members. In either case a majority of two-thirds of the votes cast by the delegates present shall be necessary on the final vote for the adoption of the recommendation or draft convention, as the case may be by the conference. In framing any recommendation or draft convention of general application the conference shall have due regard to those countries in which climatic conditions, the imperfect development of industrial organization or other special circumstances make the industrial conditions substantially different, and shall suggest the modifications, if any, which it considers may be required to meet the case of such countries. A copy of the recommendation or draft convention shall be authenticated by the signature of the president of the conference and of the director and shall be deposited with the secretary general of the League of Nations. The secretary general will communicate a certified copy of the recommendation or draft convention to each of the members. Each of the members undertakes that it will, within a period of one year at most from the closing of the session of the conference, or if it is impossible, owing to exceptional circumstances, to do so within the period of one year, then at the earliest practical moment, and in no case later than eighteen months from the closing of the session of the conference, bring the recommendation or draft convention before the authority or authorities within whose competence the matter lies for the enactment of legislation or other action. In the case of a recommendation the members will inform the secretary general of the action taken. In the case of a draft convention, the member will, if it obtains the consent of the authority or authorities within whose competence the matter lies, communicate the formal ratification of the convention to the secretary general and will take such action as will be necessary to make effective the provisions of such a convention. If, on a recommendation no legislative or other action is taken to make a recommendation effective, or if the draft convention fails to obtain the consent of the authority or authorities within whose competence the matter lies, no further obligation shall rest upon the member.

NATIONS RETURN INDIVIDUAL RIGHTS

In the case of a federal state, the power of which to enter into conventions on labor matters is subject to limitations, it shall be in the discretion of that government to treat a draft convention to which such limitations apply as a recommendation only, and the provisions of this article with respect to recommendations shall apply in such case.

The above article shall be interpreted in accordance with the following principle: In no case shall any member be asked or required as a result of the adoption of any recommendation or draft convention by the conference, to lessen the protection to the workers concerned.

Article 406. Any convention so ratified shall be registered by the secretary general of the League of Nations, but shall only be binding upon the members which ratify it.

Article 407. If any convention coming before the conference for final consideration fails to secure the support of two-thirds of the votes cast by the delegates present, it shall nevertheless be within the right of any of the members of the permanent organization to agree to such convention among themselves. Any convention so agreed to shall be communicated by the governments concerned to the secretary general of the League of Nations, who shall register it.

ANNUAL REPORT ON LABOR PROVIDED

Article 408. Each of the members agrees to make an annual report to the international labor office on the measures which it has taken to give effect to the provisions of conventions to which it is a party. These reports shall be made in such form and shall contain such particulars as the governing body may request. The director shall lay a summary of these reports before the next meeting of the conference.

Article 409. In the event of any representation being made to the international labor office by an industrial association of employers or of workers that any of the members have failed to secure in any respect the effective observance within its jurisdiction of any convention to which it is a party, the governing body may communicate this representation to the government against which it is made and may invite that government to make such statement on the subject as it may think fit.

Article 410. If no statement is received within a reasonable time from the government in question, or if the statement when received is not deemed to be satisfactory by the governing body, the latter shall have the right to publish the representation and the statement if any made in reply to it.

Article 411. All of the members shall have the right to file a complaint with the international labor office if it is not satisfied that any other member is securing the effective observance of any convention which both have ratified in accordance with the foregoing articles. The governing body may if it thinks fit, before referring such a complaint to a commission of inquiry, as hereinafter provided for, communicate with the government in question in the manner described in Article 409.

If the governing body does not think it necessary to communicate the complaint to the government in question, or if, when they have made such communication, no statement in reply has been received within a reasonable time which the governing body considers to be satisfactory, the governing body may apply for the appointment of a commission of inquiry to consider the complaint and to report thereon. The governing body may adopt the same procedure either of its own motion or on receipt of a complaint from a delegate to the conference.

When any matter arising out of Article 410 or 411 is being considered by the governing body the government in question shall, if not already represented thereon, be entitled to send a representative to take part in the proceedings of the governing body while the matter is under consideration. Adequate notice of the date which the matter will be considered shall be given to the government in question.

COMMISSION OF INQUIRY PROVISIONS

Article 412. The commission of inquiry shall be constituted in accordance with the following provisions: Each of the members agrees to nominate within six months of the date on which the present treaty comes into force three persons of industrial experience of whom one shall be a representative of employers, one a representative of workers, and one a person of independent standing, who shall together form a panel from which the members of the commission of inquiry shall be drawn. The qualifications of the persons so nominated shall be subject to scrutiny by the governing body, which may, by two-thirds of the votes cast by the representatives present, refuse to accept the nomination of any person whose qualifications do not in its opinion comply with the requirements of the present article. Upon the application of the governing body, the secretary general of the League of Nations shall nominate three persons, one from each section of this panel, to constitute the commission of inquiry, and shall designate one of them as the president of the commission. None of these three persons shall be a person nominated to the panel by any member directly concerned in the complaint.

Article 413. The members agree that in the event of the reference of a complaint to a commission of inquiry under Article 411 they will each, whether directly concerned in the complaint or not, place at the disposal of the commission all the information in their possession which bears upon the subject matter of the complaint.

Article 414. When the commission of inquiry has fully considered the complaint it shall prepare a report embodying its findings on all questions of fact relevant to determining the issue between the parties and collecting such recommendations as it may think proper as to the steps which should be taken to meet the complaint and the time within which they should be taken. It shall also indicate in this respect the measures, if any, of an economic character against a defaulting government which it considers to be appropriate and which it considers other government would be justified in adopting.

ONE MONTH'S TIME IS GIVEN

Article 415. The secretary general of the League of Nations shall communicate the report of the commission of inquiry to each of the governments concerned in the complaint and shall cause it to be published. Each of the governments shall within one month inform the secretary general of the League of Nations whether or not it accepts the recommendations contained in the report of the commission; and if not, whether it proposes to refer the complaint to the permanent court of international justice of the League of Nations.

Article 416. In the event of any member failing to take the action required by Article 405, with regard to a recommendation or draft convention, any other member shall be entitled to refer the matter to the permanent court of international justice.

Article 417. The decision of the permanent court of international justice in regard to a complaint or matter which has been referred to it in pursuance of Article 415 or Article 416 shall be final.

Article 418. The permanent court of international justice may affirm, vary or reverse any of the findings or recommendations of the commission of inquiry, if any, and shall in its decision indicate the measures, if any, of an economic character which it considers to be appropriate, and which other governments would be justified in adopting against a defaulting government.

Article 419. In the event of any member failing to carry out within the specified time the recommendations, if any, contained in the report of the commission of inquiry, or in the decision of the permanent court of international justice, as the case may be, any other member may take against that member the measures of an economic character indicated in the report of the commission or in the decision of the court as appropriate in the case.

Article 420. The defaulting government may at any time inform the governing body that it has taken the steps necessary to comply with the recommendations of the commission of inquiry or with those in the decision of the permanent court of international justice, as the case may be, and may request it to apply to the secretary general of the League of Nations to constitute a commission of inquiry to verify its contentions. In this case the provisions of articles 412, 413, 414, 415, 417 and 418 shall apply, and if the report of the commission of inquiry or the decision of the permanent court of international justice is in favor of the defaulting government, the other governments shall forthwith discontinue the measures of an economic character that they have taken against the defaulting government.

CHAPTER III

GENERAL PROVISIONS.

(a) Before and after childbirth, including the question of maternity benefit. (b) During the night. (c) In unhealthy processes. 4—Employment of children: (a) Minimum age of employment. (b) During the night. (c) In unhealthy processes. 5—Extension and application of the international conventions adopted at Berne in 1906 on the prohibition of night work for women employed in industry and the prohibition of the use of white phosphorus in the manufacture of matches.

LABOR OF SUPREME IMPORTANCE.

Article 427. The high contracting parties, recognizing that the well being, the physical, moral and intellectual of industrial wage earners is of supreme international importance, have framed, in order to further this great end, the permanent machinery provided for in Section I and associates with that of the League of Nations. They recognize that differences of climate, habits and customs, of economic opportunity and industrial tradition, makes strict uniformity in the conditions of labor difficult of immediate attainment. But, holding as they do, that labor should not be regarded merely as an article of commerce, they think that their methods and principles for regulating labor conditions which all industrial communities should endeavor to apply, so far as their special circumstances will permit. Among these methods and principles the following seem to the high contracting parties to be of special and urgent importance:

1. The guiding principle above enunciated that labor should not be regarded merely as a commodity or article of commerce.

2. The right of association for all lawful purposes by the employed as well as by the employers.

3. The payment to the employed of a wage adequate to maintain a reasonable standard of life as this is understood in their time and country.

EIGHT-HOUR DAY FIXED AS STANDARD.

4. The adoption of an 8-hour day or a 48-hour week as the standard to be aimed at where it has not already been attained.

5. The adoption of a weekly rest of at least twenty-four hours, which should include Sunday wherever practicable.

6. The abolition of child labor and the imposition of such limitations on the labor of young persons as shall permit the continuation of their education and assure their proper physical development.

7. The principle that men and women should receive equal remuneration for work of equal value.

8. The standards by law in each country, with respect to the conditions of labor, should have due regard to the equitable economic treatment of all workers lawfully residing therein.

9. Each state should make provision for a system of inspection in which women should take part in order to insure the enforcement of the laws and regulations for the protection of the employed.

Without claiming that these methods and principles are either complete or final, the high contracting parties are of opinion that they are well fitted to guide the policy of the League of Nations, and that, if adopted by the industrial communities who are members of the league, and safeguarded in practice by an adequate system of such inspection, they will confer lasting benefits upon the wage earners of the world.

SECTION II

CHINA.

Article 128. Germany renounces in favor of China all benefits and privileges resulting from the provision of the final protocol signed at Peking on the 7th of September, 1901, and from all annexes, notes and documents supplementary thereto. Article 130. It is understood, however, that premises used as diplomatic or consular residences or offices are not included in the above cession, and, furthermore, that no steps shall be taken by the Chinese government to dispose of the German public or private property situated within the so-called legation quarter at Peking without the consent of diplomatic representatives of the powers which, on the coming into force of the present treaty, remain parties to the final protocol of the 7th of September, 1901.

Article 131. Germany undertakes to restore to China within twelve months from the coming into force of the present treaty, all the astronomical instruments which her troops in 1900-1901 carried away from China, and to defray all expenses which may be incurred in effecting such restoration, including the expense of dismounting, packing, transporting, insurance and installation in Peking.

Article 132. Germany agrees to the abrogation of the leases from the Chinese government under which the German concessions at Hankow and Tien-Tsin are now held. All German rights in the Tsingtao-Tsinanfu railway, including its branches, together with its subsidiary property of all kinds, stations, shops, fixed and rolling stock, mines, plant and material for the exploitation of the mines, are and remain acquired by Japan, together with all rights and privileges attaching thereto. Your daily newspaper is far brighter and more interesting for the advertisements it contains. You get information from them. You learn all about many little things that are of so much personal importance in your life. They keep you posted. They tell you what is new and desirable.

Sometimes they keep you from making an unwise purchase by pointing out just the reasons why one article suits your needs better than another.

Reading advertisements helps you to economize. You know that economy is not alone a matter of saving money but of spending money to advantage. Advertising identifies goods of unquestioned value.

When a store or manufacturer puts a name on goods and tells you about them you may be sure they are worth while because it does not pay to advertise merchandise that is not good.

Make a practice of reading advertisements. Read them as news from the business world, published for your benefit. They will help you to live better and dress better and make more of your income in every way.

LETTER PROVES OAKLAND IS "ON THE MAP"

Addressed merely "Taft Avenue, California," a letter has traveled from England to its proper destination in Oakland.

Rev. Edgar F. Gee, pastor of St Peter's Episcopal church, the recipient of the letter, was exhibiting it at the Oakland Chamber of Commerce today as a curiosity. The inscription was as follows:

"Rev. Canon Edgar F. Gee,
"Taft Avenue, California.
"(Not Taft, California.)
"(Try Orange.)"

The letter was mailed by George C. Plowman in Bridgeport, Dorset, England, and was delivered to Rev Mr Gee at his residence at 5589 Taft avenue.

Sociable Footpads Get $45 From Two

Two men reported to the police that they had been held up and robbed by two men in the vicinity of Seventh and Washington streets Fred Harris, living at Sixth and Franklin streets, claims that two strangers asked him to have a drink and when he started with them one grabbed him while the other went through his pockets. He said the footpads secured about $30 in currency

Joseph Miller also reported that two men, answering the same description, asked him to go with them and look at a house they were thinking of renting and then knocked him down and took his pocketbook containing about $15

The police have an accurate description of the two.

BOLSHEVIK WORK IN U. S. BARED

Why "America must be Americanized" is answered by Rheta Childe Dorr in the July Pictorial Review wherein she recites how the Russian Bolsheviki hired a press agent to spread propaganda at a New York school meeting and how the teaching was received with enthusiasm, or how orders were given in German to thousands of native born soldiers in the United States Army because they understood no other language. Miss Dorr has written a fact-story which makes the real American consider the national feeling.

The wealthy American society girl of the nation comes into her own in the current edition of the magazine when honors are paid her by Mrs. Vanderbilt, New York society leader and head of the Red Cross Canteen service in France who has witnessed the four hundred at work and play and likes the American girl's spirit everywhere.

Katherine Norris, former California woman, becomes the friend of every housewife in the country this month when she offers a sure cure to the servant problem. Mrs Norris is practical and simple and tells the secret of keeping a maid overnight under even the most trying circumstances.

The three men about whom the great world war has grouped—President Wilson, Lloyd George and Clemenceau—are presented in the July Pictorial Review in clever reproductions of famous painting ready for frame.

There is one class of men who have been helped toward fortune by prohibition who are going to suffer a lot when July 1 comes around, according to the assertion of a man who knows Oakland's waterfront. Said persons are sailors on steam schooners running between Oakland and ports in Oregon and Washington, and they are accumulating fortunes by disposing of whisky, via the bootleg route.

"Every steamer that goes out of here," said the man who knows the waterfront, carries anywhere from $1000 to in some cases I know of as much as $10,000 worth of whisky in bottles. At least it is worth that much if they can get it delivered to customers in the dry regions, for most anything that is wet and has a kick will bring $15 a quart in Oregon and Washington.

"And so it is that now adays the sailors instead of making a little extra money by working overtime, and instead of working on cargo while in port, will pay out of their own pocket some longshoreman to do the work and said sailor can be seen avorting around the bright lights, riding in an automobile and flashing a roll that would choke a shark. Of course a few of them are putting away some of this easy money, but the first of July will find most of them with only the receipts of the last trip in their pocket.

"Of course they, or some of them, get arrested once in awhile, but the penalty is not great, and they keep on trying. They are sure going to find it hard to get back to deck-hand wages way of living. It is heard on good authority that one skipper sailing out of here has cleared more than $10,000 since Oregon and Washington went dry."

How to Care for Your Fingers in Real Beauty Ways

By LUCREZIA BORI

The Famous Spanish Prima Donna

The half-moon of white which shows at the base of the pink finger nail is considered a mark of great beauty. This idea doubtless arose from the fact that the perfectly kept cuticle is never permitted to encroach upon this half-moon.

Your nails will have a far more attractive appearance if the cuticle is kept from growing up over the nail. Many manicurists resort to frequent cutting to keep the cuticle line round and clear. Cutting the cuticle, however, is apt to increase its growth. Whenever it is possible to reduce it without cutting you will find that your nails are much more easily kept in an attractive condition.

Pinkish, well-cared for nails are an attraction within the power of every woman to possess, even though she does her own housework, which is, of course, hard on dainty finger tips. Supplied with the proper instruments for her work and a pair of rubber and chaimois gloves, the woman who must sweep and wash dishes may also keep her fingers as dainty as her more luxurious sister, who may not do these things for herself and her family.

To care for the cuticle around the nails you should use the flat end of an orange stick. This stick should be wrapped in a wisp of absorbent cotton and dipped in warm water or cold cream. Your hands should be immersed in warm water for a few minutes before you begin work on the cuticle.

Take the orange stick and gently push back the cuticle from around the base of your nail. Don't use great force to push the skin back. If you do a sore finger may result.

Gently crowd back the cuticle from your nails. If bleeding should accidentally result from this operation the touch of a styptic pencil of alum or an alum crystal will invariably stop it.

After repeating the process of loosening the cuticle from each finger and thumb take a cuticle knife and gently scrape away the loosened cuticle, which in most cases will come away quite readily. The nail itself should also be gently scraped clean.

If your nails have been neglected or your cuticle is too heavy to respond to this treatment use your cuticle scissors, which should be very sharp and kept for this purpose only, to cut away any rough edges. In doing this, don't injure your nail in any way, as an injury thus inflicted is apt to leave scars and ridges that will take weeks to grow out, and may induce a permanent disfiguration.

If your cuticle responds to the pushing back with the orange stick without leaving too much free edge, don't clip it, but continue this gentle pushing process each day, and eventually your cuticle will keep in line without resort to clipping.

After the shaping of your cuticle by either pushing back or cutting, a little cold cream should be rubbed into each nail, over the surface, around the edge and upon each finger end. A good cream for this purpose is made of:

Pure cold pressed leaf lard..½ ounce
Tincture of carmine..... 1 dram
Tincture of benzoin.....15 drops
Oil of bergamot.....30 drops
Oil of Cypress..... ....15 drops

Rub the tincture of benzoin and the lard together and incorporate well. Then add the carmine, blending it well by rubbing. Add a few drops of perfume lastly. This cream should be kept in a porcelain jar with a screw top.

Good evening Sister—

She was reading a paper at a club meeting and at first I couldn't place her. She had on one of those dresses that are supposed to express a "soul mood" and that make large, strong men weep like little children, when they see the bill. I hadn't seen the bill, but I could feel the tears rising. Her hat would'a made a gas mask look like a winning smile. Her hair was draped in that popular suicide effect that's supposed to denote great intelligence. And she was reading a paper on "The Psychophysics of the Super Self" or something else equally immodest. When I was a girl we didn't talk about the psychic in that off-hand manner and I can't ever seem to get used to it. At any rate I couldn't understand a word she was saying, and neither could she. She was just making noises with her features. When my eye lit on her features I knew who she was at last. For although they had hung a lot of drygoods on her outlines, they hadn't been able to camouflage her features up one bit. She was the same old Tilly Tibbets that I had last seen putting up tomato pickles over in Alameda.

It had been mighty hot in the Tibbets kitchen that day. The sweat had rolled down her peaked little nose and matted her scant drab hair, but she hadn't minded. She was the best pickle maker in town and she knew it and she just shone with pride as she wiped her hands on her gingham apron and wondered "what Jim would say when he came home from work!" And here she was—telling the Super Self all about some new kind of psychic! But she wasn't smiling. Her nose looked peakeder than ever and her poor skinny neck wobbled with embarrassment as she did her best to live up to the million Jim has made with that ship contract of his And, d'yn know, I just was sorry all over for Tilly Tibbetts.

There she was, cut out for just one job—a little, six-room cottage job, where a gingham apron expressed the only "mood" she was capable of mooding. And this pesky war had boosted her into a world where everyone was supposed to be either a genius or invent a new brand of cocktail. Everyone she looked met was an authority on something or other, all the women were uniforms or else directed vast world reforms every Thursday afternoon at the club. New brands of wisdom were about as plentiful as mosquitos had been on the Alameda marshes. The only subject that folks weren't taking any interest in was tomato pickles. So, of course, it never occurred to Tilly to stay just herself. This was a result. And if an eager world was sitting up and listening to her flow of knowledge—why, I didn't see its ears wag, that's all.

Nope, Tilly was just Tilly and as ordinary as her own pickles. And she never would be anything else. The only difference was that as a pickler she had been happy and made a lot of other folks happy. But as a psychic preacher she made herself miserable and other folks sleepy.

The world is full of Tillys. We are all bitten by this idea that we have got to be out of the ordinary. We're all going in for psychical ego until a calm, contented human is as rare as a quiet hour at the peace table.

Do you know the brown leghorns—those meek, busy little fowls that keep the back yard famous, but never write their names in Westminster Abbey? Well, Tilly was a brown leghorn, and a good one. But now Tilly ain't no kind of a useful fowl at all. She's trying to be a bird of paradise, but her bill's shaped wrong. Go back to those tomato pickles, Tilly. Don't try to be a Bird of Paradise when Nature only intended you for a brown leghorn.

The complainant's name has been withheld by the commissioner. The policeman denies the charge.

Adele Garrison's New

REVELATIONS OF A WIFE

When do you want me an' Pete to come over, Mis' Gramie?"

I couldn't help smiling quietly at the assurance of poor old William Trumbull. Accompanied by his dog, Pete, who looked almost as disreputable as he did, he had followed me to the border of the little lake at the rear of the home we had recently bought, insisted that with Jim gone to the war I needed a man about the place, and announced that he and Pete, his dog, were ready to go to work.

But the smile faded as I looked at the face of the dwarf-like man turned up to mine. There was anxiety in the face, almost a look of fear in the near-sighted eyes, and I recalled what I had once heard of William Trumbull, that while he was honest and faithful, yet he was so slow and forgetful no one would employ him long.

He lived from hand to mouth, in first one deserted shack or barn and then another in the rambling old village, and I knew that the prospect of a real home for himself and his beloved dog was like a glimpse of heaven to him.

"But where could you sleep, William?" I asked, puzzled by this problem, which, indeed, was the only thing in the way of the old chap's proposition.

"Right upstairs there in the barn," he answered promptly.

"Oh, surely, William, there's no place there fit for any one to sleep."

"You come and see, Mis' Gramie," William urged. "It's an awful nice place."

Filled with curiosity to see this room which appealed so much to William, I followed the old chap to the barn and looked in astonishment about the room he called an "awful nice place." It was a large, low-ceilinged attic above the carriage room, with rafters heavy with cobwebs, a room that would be hot in summer and cold in winter, and which, to my eyes, couldn't possibly be used by a human being.

WHY MADGE DECIDES.

"Why, William, you could never live in this'" I said. "It isn't fit for any one to live in."

"You ought to see the place I'm stayin' now," the old fellow said simply.

With a quick flash of memory my mind went back to the apartment in which Dicky and I had gone to keeping house, and the tiny room, nothing more than a large closet in which Katie had taken such delight, saying it was such a "nice large room to herself" after her experience in sleeping with two or three of her cousin's children.

Evidently I had much to learn about the standards of living of William Trumbull and his kind. With a quick flash of pity I resolved to give the old chap the boon of a home which he craved so ardently, provided I could win Dicky's consent to the project. My decision wasn't altogether altruistic. I knew that I would feel much safer in this picturesque but decidedly lonely home if honest, faithful William Trumbull with his tremendous strength and his fighting bull terrier lived in the barn.

"I'll speak to Mr. Graham, William," I said, finally, "and if he's willing you can come and try the place for awhile anyway."

"Might just as well move in right now, Mis' Gramie," William said with what he evidently imagined was an ingratiating smile, but which would have struck terror to the heart of any one who didn't know the real worth beneath the old chap's twisted facial muscles. 'Mr Graime he do whatever you like, you knew."

"Nevertheless, I will speak to him about the matter first, William," I returned. "Come tomorrow and I will let you know what he says."

A TERRIFIED SCREAM.

"All right." The old chap moved away dejectedly, his dog at his heels. He had evidently set his heart in his simple, childlike fashion upon "movin' in" at once. But I could imagine Dicky's face if he should find William Trumbull snugly ensconced in the barn as man of all work without first hearing of the project. As it was it would require careful diplomacy on my part to get him to consent to William's coming, for Dicky's beauty-loving soul held an aversion for anything ugly, and I had seen him turn his eyes abruptly away from William's poor distorted face when the old chap had been talking to him.

With a little feeling of dismay I realized suddenly that there were others than Dicky to consider in the question of William's entering our employ. Dicky's mother had always expressed a strong prejudice against the old chap, but her aversion to him was as nothing to that of Cousin Agatha. I might be able to win my mother-in-law's consent to the proposition, but I could foresee an endless chain of fault-finding and sly verbal pricks from the woman whom I so thoroughly disliked.

Mother Graham's words flashed into my mind. "Too bad somebody couldn't break a limb somewhere among Agatha's relatives. That's her one strong point. She's a cracker-jack nurse." I mentally echoed the wish, and a moment later was conscious-stricken at my own evil thought, as I generally am when I allow myself to give way to petty emotions.

Katie's high-pitched voice screaming my name startled me. There was a note of terror in the sound that made me run as fast as I could for the house.

Just Folks

PHILOSOPHY.

"This is a mighty world you're in
An' so don't spread yourself too thin."
My wise old father used to say,
Just do your best from day to day;
Make sure of everything you touch,
But never undertake too much.
Remember as you go along
To sing a cheerful snatch of song,
But be contented if a few
Into their hearts shall welcome you.

Life has its tasks both great and small,
But no one man can do them all.
It's settled by a natural law
How much a willing horse can draw.
And if beyond his strength he tries
A failure, broken-down, he dies.
Some men neglect the little things
To seek the praise which greatness brings
And miss the goal, and in the end
Find they have lost the near-by friend.

No man, however wise and strong,
Can bear the burdens of the throng.
Who seek to serve too many here
Brings no one happiness and cheer.
And this is also truth, I tell,
Who tries too much does nothing well.
God has assigned us certain tasks
And nothing more of us He asks.
He shall succeed by every test
Who does no more than just his best.

"This is a mighty world you're in,
An' so don't spread yourself too thin."
Be good and brave and kind and true
And serve with faithfulness the few.
Be satisfied to earn the praise
Of those who follow in your ways.
If you bring happiness to them
You need not care what tongues condemn.
This is the test for every man
That he shall do the best he can.

Gale's Bedtime Story

(By Howard R. Garis.)

"Where's Uncle Wiggily? Where's Uncle Wiggily?" asked Baby Bunty, the little rabbit girl of Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy, one morning. "Where is he?"

"Why, Uncle Wiggily has gone to the store for me," answered the muskrat lady housekeeper of the hollow stump bungalow. "He has gone to get me some molasses!"

"Oh, dear!" sighed Baby Bunty, the little rabbit girl, who had been found in a holdw stump.

"Why, whatever is the matter?" asked Nurse Jane, who had a dab of flour on her nose. And whenever the muskrat lady had a dab of flour on her nose you could be sure that she was making a pie. "Don't you like molasses cake, Bunty?" Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy asked.

"Oh, yes! Have you any?" Baby Bunty wanted to know.

"I'll make one as soon as Uncle Wiggily comes back with the jug of molasses," went on Nurse Jane. "But why did you say 'Oh, dear!' in such a doleful voice?"

"Because I wished Uncle Wiggily were here to chase me, or play tag, or something. I'm so afraid he'll get old and stiff."

"Well, why don't you hop off in the woods and meet him?" asked Nurse Jane of the lively little rabbit girl. Baby Bunty could hardly ever keep still. "If you go to meet him you'll see him hopping along with the molasses jug," went on the muskrat lady, "and then he'll cause you, or play tag or let you help him carry the sweet stuff I'm going to put in a cake."

"I'll do that," said Baby Bunt, and away she hopped with her rubber doll named Beatrice Ethelmore Lemon-Lemonsqueezer.

As she was hopping through the woods to meet Uncle Wiggily, all of a sudden Baby Bunty heard, near a little spring of water, a sad voice crying:

"Oh, I'm so wet! Oh, if some one would only help me out of the water!"

"Some one is drowning!" said Baby Bunty. "I wonder if I could save them?"

On a bed of soft, green moss, she put her wax doll, Sarah Ann Belinda Washbasin, and hurried to the side of the little spring. There Baby Bunty saw a poor honey bee splashing in the water.

"I'll save you!" kindly said the little rabbit girl. With a long stick she fished the half-drowned bee out of the pool, and placed it on a leaf in the sun where the wings could dry.

"Thank you for saving me," buzzed the bee, when he had shaken off some of the water. "I shall be glad to do you a favor, if I may. Do you want me to make you some honey?"

"Oh, thank you, no, not now," answered Baby Bunty. "Uncle Wiggily is bringing home the molasses jug. But some other time we may want your honey."

"Any time you do I'll give you some," buzzed the bee. Then he flew away to look for more honey flowers. Baby Bunty was glad she had saved the bee, which a big dragon fly had knocked into the spring water.

On and on through the woods hopped Baby Bunty, and pretty soon she saw Uncle Wiggily coming toward her, with the molasses jug on his paw.

"Oh, Uncle Wiggily!" cried the little rabbit girl. "I'm so glad I met you. Now I'll help you carry the molasses jug and when we get home you'll cause me and Mary Jane won't you?"

"Oh, yes, I guess so," answered Mr. Longears.

"It will keep you from getting old and stiff, you know," said Baby Bunty sweetly, as she took hold of one side of the molasses jug.

She and Uncle Wiggily hopped on, but, all of a sudden out from behind a bush jumped the bad old fox.

"Oh, he!" cried the fox. "This time I have you!"

He made a grab for Uncle Wiggily and Bunty, but they were too quick for him.

"Run, Bunty! Run!" cried Mr. Longears. And he ran and hopped, and so did Bunty, and they got away from the fox. But, alas they dropped the molasses jug and they didn't dare stop to pick it up, or go back after it.

"Oh, dear, what shall I do?" sighed Uncle Wiggily. "I have lost the molasses and Nurse Jane will be so disappointed! Oh, dear!" and he sat down on a queer leg, that had a hole in each end, and warts like a toad all over it.

"It is too bad!" said Baby Bunty.

"What is too bad?" asked a gentle, little voice, and out of one end of the queer leg flew the very same honey bee that Baby Bunty had saved from the spring. "What is too bad?" asked the bee.

"The fox chased us and I lost the molasses jug," said Uncle Wiggily.

"O... ho! Don't let that worry you!" buzzed the bee. "Inside this queer leg I and many other bees have a lot of flower honey. It is as sweet as molasses, and I'll give you all you want. Here, make a few of some white bar h bark and take Nurse Jane a lot of our honey."

"Oh, that will be just fine!" cried Uncle Wiggily. "Nurse Jane can make honey cakes!" And the muskrat lady did. So you see, losing the molasses jug didn't so much matter after all. And if the man in the moon doesn't want to come and live in our house and make the lady bug move into the garage, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the black mud.

Editor The TRIBUNE—Please give brief history of Tom Alley, the automobile racer.—F. A. R.

Tom Alley was born in Pontiac, Michigan, about twenty-one years ago. Started out as a pit mechanic for Bob Burman. Rode in 1913 with Eddie Rickenbacker as a mechanic in a Mason car at Santa Monica. In 1914 he drove a Deusenberg car in the Corona races in Southern California. He won third place, Eddie Pullen being first, and Barney Oldfield second. Since 1914 he has participated in most of the big races with fair success.

Editor The TRIBUNE—How many gallons of gasoline does one airplane need for a trans-Atlantic flight? Also, do they carry the whole supply of fuel or stop at different stations?—Eleanor S. C.

The plane that made the trip to Plymouth, England, was equipped with three Liberty motors, each of approximately 350 horsepower. These motors consume six-tenths of a pound of gasoline per horsepower-hour, so that each motor would consume approximately 210 pounds of gasoline an hour, or 26 gallons.

There has been no statement since the plane went across as to whether the three motors were going throughout the trip or not, but it is considered likely here that not more than two were in use most of the time, the third being kept for emergency. This means that 52 gallons of gasoline was being consumed each hour of actual flight.

Then, since the plane was flying 54 hours and 15 minutes, it must have consumed approximately 2821 gallons of gasoline. Without exact data from the engineer's record, it is not possible to make a closer estimate than this.

The plane refilled its reservoirs wherever possible. Thus the first addition to the original supply was made at Newfoundland. Originally the gasoline containing capacity of the NC-4 was sufficient for sixteen hours' actual flight, but this was somewhat increased by alterations before the plane started.

A LETTER-PLAY BY RICHARD WIGHTMAN

Candlelight

To J. O. B. HOMELAND

For some time the candle has been rather a discouraged commodity. Its ambition was to light the world, and that was one of the finest and purest ambitions that could be entertained. But this splendid altruism of the tallow dip got ditched by the kerosene lamp. The tallow dip had to retire crestfallen to the rear and sit down, though it doubtless rose again to applaud when the gaily caparisoned electric light rushed in and sat down on the kerosene lamp.

For a long time the candle has been in a position of comparative obscurity, although in reminiscent moments it has doubtless recalled with considerable comfort the fact that it once aided the early swains in their late sparking, and that it used to help George Washington do his agricultural bookkeeping.

It is true that we have stuck the candle gleefully in birthday cakes, particularly those which were not baked for maiden ladies; it is true that we have used the candle to determine the population of eggs which were under inspection: and it is also true that we have knelt with it in our bathrooms to find leaks in the plumbing. And that was all well and good in its way, but it was a sad come-down from the candle's original ambition to light the world.

And then the war came along and the candle came again into prominence and power, being elected by the popular vote of Necessity. We did not exactly enthrone the candle, but we used it to light the trenches, and what happened in the trenches will go a long way toward giving the Light of Liberty to a threatened world.

So I suppose, Jimmy-old-boy, the candle is pretty much well set up with its achievement and feels that its life has been worth living after all. Some even declare that we won the war with the candle, but now that the war is over and the trenches are filling up we've got an awful lot of candles left on hand. They say there's enough to light up forty-six million pumpkins next Hallowe'en. And if we didn't want to use 'em for the pumpkins, 46 authors might get together and each write a novel called "The House of a Million Candles!"

SATURDAY, JUNE 14, 1919.

FLAG DAY.

This day is set apart for special recognition of the flag of our country. Its purpose is to stimulate respect for the flag and to promote comprehension of the things the flag stands for. Its motive is to create in the minds of all the people an understanding of the symbolism of the Stars and Stripes, of the majesty of lawful power for liberty, opportunity, protection, obligations and duty it represents.

Never did the flag of this nation mean so much as it does today. It has won new recognition, new respect, new veneration during the last year. It has been carried by patriotic defenders from Belleau Wood to Sedan on the Meuse, and then on beyond the Rhine, where the people who did not think the Stars and Stripes mean much in the affairs of the world may gaze upon it and understand something of the nation it represents. It has crossed the Marne, the Oise, the Vesle, the Somme; gone through St. Mihiel, through the Argonne; across France and Belgium; into Siberia and to Murmansk and Archangel, and wherever it has gone it has demanded victory for its coming. It has flown on all the seas. Everywhere it has represented the aroused spirit of the American people, requiring that the world shall be safe for Americans and that civilization and the law shall be preserved.

It has faced its enemies at home, declaring that in this land there shall be no other flag. And today it is demanding that there shall be no toleration of disloyalty, no act of lawlessness calculated to bring trouble and disgrace upon the country. Those who do not love all that the flag represents and who are not willing to defend it against assault from any quarter are either being driven from the country the flag protects or being punished for their treason.

The flag represents America—its industry, its bravery, its chivalry, its tolerance, its freedom, its opportunity, its strength, its weaknesses, its mistakes, its wisdom, its generosity, the conscience of its people. It is the spirit of America, the history, the achievements, the possessions, the hopes. Those of America who do not love it, who are not always ready to defend it and who will not struggle to keep it true to the genius of America as the founders of the Republic ordained are only fit for a mean and ignoble role in the life of the nation.

MUSIC AND POLITICS.

Musicians are philosophical souls after all, notwithstanding that they may belong to the school of doubters and pessimists. A Russian composer, Rachmaninoff, who has just arrived in California from Siberia, utters the following with reference to the prime minister of the new Polish Republic:

"Do you know I am very sorry Ignace Paderewski felt called upon to take up politics. Music has lost a master. A man can't attend to politics and the piano at the same time."

Yet musicians—some of them at least—are apparently incapable of understanding other musicians. Paderewski is indeed a master of music and the pianoforte. He saw and lived in California long before Rachmaninoff came. Here he achieved a broader vision and caught the inspiration to attempt other things of worth. It is to be doubted that he ever considered his return to Poland to participate in the renewed struggle of his country for independence as an effort at "playing politics." He conceived on a higher plane, a plane on which a subjugated race was to be liberated.

If Paderewski succeeds in his present mission who will care about his absence from the piano. The keys of human destiny are much grander instruments and it is given only to a few to sound even a chord upon them. Rachmaninoff may compose a symphony or an opera that will please many music lovers. But Paderewski may compose a new free nation that will satisfy the aspirations of a race and mark a little progress of humanity. Future generations of students may read the name Rachmaninoff as identifying a sheet of music. But posterity may sing the glory of Paderewski the politician—if such he be—in founding an era of political order.

THE DEMAND FOR A BUDGET.

"The war has done away with stagnation: it has given so gigantic a scope to our political, economic and social problems that on the one hand it has awakened from lethargy the people's mind that generally bothers very little about the intricacies of government, and on the other it has imbued our legislators with a realization of their grave responsibilities. The problems of government are now so staggering that they are capable of at least overcoming the point of view of the local or personal interest. The angle of the bailiwick must now make room for the larger national interest."—From a statement by Mr. Paul M. Warburg, New York banker and formerly a member of the Federal Reserve Board.

All that Mr. Warburg has stated in the above ought to prove true: it is already true to a very large extent. But it is necessary to look closely to see whether the national manifestation to which he refers is really an awakening of the people and the government or merely a stir after which there may be reversion to the old habits. The test cannot be concluded at once. The patient gives all the evidence of genuine consciousness. Will it retain its interest until the needed reformation is accomplished? There are many encouraging signs that such will be the case.

Mr. Warburg was speaking to the point of a national budget system. Sporadic efforts for a budget have been made during the last several decades, he pointed out. Both the great political parties stand committed to it. But the idea could not take tangible form in the past because conditions and minds were not ripe for it. Now, he believes, conditions are favorable.

The people of the country, as this financial authority sees it, have for the first time in the history of the United States come to feel that they are stockholders in the national corporation. They have become partners of Uncle Sam and creditors at the same time. In addition, taxation is touching heavily a larger proportion of the people than ever before, and is teaching the people that they have a direct and vital interest in the government expenditures. There is a demand for scientific and judicial treatment and the elimination of party politics in the purely business matters of the government.

In view of these circumstances, Mr. Warburg this week told a committee of the Senate that the creation of a budget system in the national government was one of the most important things Congress was called upon to consider. The Republican majority in Congress already have formulated and submitted plans for a budget. Whether well considered legislation putting the idea into effect can be accomplished during the present special session remains to be seen, but the people certainly will be impatient with any obstructive tactics on the part of the administration or from any other sources.

Some waste of money and effort in war time, especially when all the energies of the country were directed toward prosecution of the conflict to the exclusion of nearly every other important consideration, was inevitable. This necessary war waste caused inflation of prices and imposed habits of saving upon the individual. Now that the war is over the individual who pays taxes and holds the government's securities expects that the government will also practice economy. He will not demand a policy of penuriousness or harmful retrenchment, but he will insist upon existing burdens being reduced as rapidly as possible and that the problems of government be handled in an expert manner and to the single purpose of the public interest.

Efficiency and economy in the government requires a change in the whole system of estimating appropriations, their disbursement and in accounting for the expenditures. Such a change has already been too long delayed.

There is one thing that does not greatly bother the people of the Pacific Coast—whether there is room in the thermometer for the mercury during the summer months.

BLUE SKY STOCKS.

It is a source of great satisfaction to note that the Federal Trade Commission has begun a campaign to put a stop to the selling of wildcat stocks and securities and to circumscribe the activities of the financial pirates who prey upon the credulity of the people. This is a particularly good time to start a campaign for the suppression of these frauds. There are many millions of people in this country who have invested their savings in Liberty bonds paying 4¼ per cent interest, a large number of whom are too easily induced to trade in their bonds for worthless stock which the seller promises will yield extravagant returns in the near future. Among the bond owners stock salesmen are reaping a rich harvest, and they should be stopped. Stock in phantom oil companies, non-producing gold mines and blueprint manufacturing plants are traded for Liberty bonds, which the fakers cash in and devote to their own use.

Repeated warnings from high official sources have not served to restrain many people from falling victims to the lure of get-rich-quick concerns. They read of war babies now grown to full stature, of great fortunes made over night, and they succumb to the tempting promises of the "blue sky" salesmen.

The Federal Trade Commission can render no worthier service than to protect the ignorant portion of the American public from the machinations of the fraudulent stock jobbers. Every one who is caught in the dragnet of the law should be prosecuted to the limit as a warning to others who prey upon the gullibility of the people.—Washington Post.

NOTES and COMMENT

Some California products that formerly were nominal have now assumed proportions. The walnut crop last year was worth twelve millions, and this year it promises to greatly exceed that figure. It is passing strange that the Argonauts who came for gold were so long in finding out the many other agricultural, horticultural, viticultural and other capabilities of the state.

The state of Washington is out in the van again. A despatch states that of 161 new laws which went into effect on the 12th, one makes it unlawful for boys under 21 years of age to have tobacco in their possession. SPIRIT of the STATE PRESS

If Jess Willard is not licked at Toledo by Jack Dempsey no "sporting gent" will be able to eat for a year. They are betting against Willard out of pure hatred and prejudice. Jess Willard is an honest, decent, overgrown Kansas farm hand. He is as big as a house and as strong as a buffalo. He could make more money selling his strength in the prize ring than he could following a plow. Consequently, he is a prize fighter—and that's all he cares about prize fighting. He has no time for all the bums and cheap crooks who hang around boxers; so he is about as popular as a tax collector. —Los Angeles Times.

Nine hundred feet from the surface, Nick Vopkovich, a market fisherman fishing for grouper, hooked a broadbill swordfish Wednesday, and after a fight that lasted almost two hours succeeded in gaffing the fish. It weighed 416 pounds. After swallowing the live grouper, the swordfish had struggled so furiously to escape that it had tangled the long, deep sea leader full of hooks about its body. Unable to free itself from the hooks the monster came to the surface, and thus it was captured. It is the first broadbill swordfish that has been taken from these waters for some time.—Catalina Islander.

Oroville has announced, with pardonable pride, that it is going to be the first city in California to have an aerial sign post. The sign will be legible at the height of a mile. Oroville knows flying machines have come to stay and is bidding them welcome.—Stockton Record.

"ONE FLAG OVER ALL!"

DISAPPEARING FORESTS.

The North Carolina Forest Association has been doing its feeble best in the direction of procuring protection for the forests of the state, but it is manifest that without organized assistance by the government it will be unable to accomplish a great deal in the desired direction. During the past week The Observer has received a considerable batch of literature from the United States department of agriculture that indicates a growing concern on part of the government for the establishment of a greater degree of protection for the forests, especially in the states of North Carolina, Tennessee and Kentucky. The letters are accompanied with photographic views of conditions around Black mountain, and incidentally is given a picture of a big poplar, "a monarch of the Nantahala national forest, in North Carolina," the poplar towering up like a California redwood, it being one of many thousands that pierce the mountain skyline. The literature does not give promise of government aid—does not point out the immediate remedy. It is devoted to a revelation of the sad conditions existing and to emphasizing a possibility of which the home people are well aware. It is stated that North Carolina, Tennessee, and Kentucky still have great areas of forest lands. Kentucky, with a total area of 25,715,000 acres, has 9,500,000 in forests, North Carolina, with 31,193,000 acres, has 18,000,000 in forests, Tennessee, with 26,679,000 acres, has 12,000,000 in forests. Thus, nearly half of the total area of the three states is in forests. If this great natural forest resource is not safeguarded, one of the most important supports of industry and springs of wealth in this section of the country will fail. It is stated that forest exhaustion in hardwood regions does not necessarily disclose itself in the form of decreased forest area. The land usually remains under tree growth, but of an inferior if not valueless character. The high-grade trees are cut out. In consequence, the forests deteriorate until their usefulness for the support of industries is gone. The only way to prevent this is by the application of forestry, which maintains productiveness through right methods of cutting and through fire protection.

North Carolina ranks high in woodworking industries. It has many furniture factories and extensive vehicle and implement plants that depend upon the native forests for their raw material. These industries were located within the state because of the proximity of the forests. The same statements are also true in a slightly lesser degree of Kentucky and Tennessee. For the maintenance of these industries longer than a comparatively few years it is essential that the forests be not exhausted.

Other reasons why the forests of Kentucky, Tennessee and North Carolina must be preserved are that many of the streams traversing them have their origin in the woodlands, and depend upon them for their regular flow. If the forests are destroyed the streams are likely to have much water in some seasons and to be practically dry in the summer. In the wet seasons the water will rush off in floods—a condition that will destroy much of the value of the water-power development that has begun. Such a condition also would greatly increase the damage done by the washing away of the soil.

The forests of North Carolina, Tennessee and Kentucky hold the key to the future happiness and prosperity of the people of the most beautiful sections of the United States. The evidence that they are being exhausted cannot be denied. The Asheville conference is designed to bring federal and state officials and others together to decide what should be done about it, and how.—Charlotte (N. C.) Observer.

THE VOYAGE OF LIFE.

Out of the dim, mysterious cavern of the past, in which memory slumbers, we emerge and begin our voyage of earth experiences. Lightly we float along on the brooklet of babyhood, which shortly widens into the stream of childhood. Above us then the sky, like a boundless blue Savannah, spreads everywhere cloudless and serene. Beneath us the wavelets, lightly tossing our tiny bark, seem soft as pillows of down, we are delighted with their ripples and sparkles.

Anon, we glide into the river of youth. Light, fleecy clouds float here and there in the hazy sky. The motion of the stream is more rapid and unsteady, but the shores on either hand are still gay and odorous with the blossoms of springtime. We are now hurrying into the too often tempestuous ocean of middle life. Anxious and uncertain as to our course, we set sail in one direction and another; tack and retack to avoid dangers of all kinds surrounding us, some of which are only made known to us by the many wrecks we encounter in our voyage. Storms break upon us and disperse again.

Sometimes our bark is well nigh overwhelmed by the raging billows or riven apart by conflicting gales.

At last, however, guided by a skilful, though unseen pilot, our boat glides into the serener waters of old age. In that grand bay, partially enclosed by the evergreen shores of eternity, our voyage of earthly life ends; our frail, storm-battered vessel finds at last anchorage.

Then, when our feet first press that heavenly shore,
What awe, what wonder shall we feel; what glow
Of super-human bliss, ne'er known before.
Shall, wave-like through our quickened being flow!

How to Treat Ivy Poisoning and Insect Bites Yourself

(Johns Hopkins University.)
BY DR. LEONARD K. HIRSHBERG
A. B., M. A., M. D.

Summer vacations bring with them many good times, and, indeed, they are looked forward to by the average person with great delight. There are other than good times, however, that come with vacations, and among these are poisoning by ivy and by insect bites.

If you have never seen poison ivy take effect on a human being, the following symptoms will help you recognize it. One of the evidences of this poison is redness of the flesh; another is an irritating itching, and when the case is a severe one there is intense suffering and sometimes the whole bodily framework is affected. A wash made of half an ounce of carbonate of zinc and two ounces each of limewater and glycerine, and applied to the poisoned area, often gives relief. The affected parts of the skin should be kept constantly wet with it.

Another mixture for severe cases is made from two drams each of carbonate of lead and powdered arrow root, one of powdered acacia, 10 grains of hydrochlorate of cocaine and three ounces of olive oil. This is made into a paste and spread over the affected skin. The cocaine makes the mixture particularly cooling and soothing.

One panacea for insect bites that smart is made of one dram of betanapthol and a half pint of alcohol or cologne. This may be applied until the stinging stops. Another that is sometimes easier to use is composed of one ounce of ointment of oleate of mercury and 10 grains of camphor. This is a paste and may be rubbed on to give relief when it might not be possible to apply a liquid.

The use of strong ammonia for bites, an application that is commended by some persons, is not advisable. It may bring relief, but at the same time it is likely to burn the flesh and cause additional pain. Alcohol and cologne put on full strength are soothing when no more efficacious mixture can be secured. Water is useless, unless its temperature is cold and the affected spot can be kept constantly immersed.

Comparatively few persons know the value of bicarbonate of soda as a cooling application. Used indefinitely it would cause the skin to dry, but a strong solution is almost as beneficial as is alcohol. To make this solution use a teaspoonful of bicarbonate of soda to half a pint of water. The parts of the bodily structure that are affected by heat should be bathed constantly with this solution. If they are then thickly dusted with talcum or powdered arrow root, the relief will be instant, though not lasting. This treatment, though not lasting. This treatment repeated.

POLITICS STIRS N. D. G. W. AT LAST SESSION

BERKELEY, June 14. — World affairs were left to the solution of official government agencies; precedent won over ambition; rehabilitation of the order was camouflaged in a resolution presented by Dr. Marianne Bertola of San Francisco and adopted unanimously; a memorial to Professor Henry Morse Stephens was perfected and resolutions of respect to Mrs. Phoebe A. Hearst were adopted in the closing session of the 33d Grand Parlor, Native Daughters of the Golden West, yesterday.

Precedent and partisan politics were inharmonious companions when Mrs. Julia A. Steinbach, a confessed Democrat, offered a motion to endorse Hiram Johnson in his candidacy for President of the United States. The effective little speech dropped like a small sized bomb into the late session. Loyalty to California and Californians prompted the suggestion of the past grand official whose ambition to see a native son seated in the White House overcame her scruples against letting politics enter the order.

OLD GUARD SHOCKED.

The motion was withdrawn, however, without action, and the endorsement of the native born westerner omitted. The old guard was properly shocked at the suggestion that national politics should be considered within the walls of the Grand Parlor.

Resolutions endorsing the peace conference were also ignored on the ground that it would be presumptuous for the order to offer solutions to the nations of the world.

Following a similar action of the Grand Parlor of the Native Sons of the Golden West with whom the late Professor Henry Morse Stephens of the University of California was actively identified, the Grand Parlor of the Native Daughters volunteered a gift to the memorial hall which is to be erected in Berkeley. The order yesterday made a preliminary contribution of $100 to the Stephens hall, upon which work will shortly begin on the campus.

HOME PROGRAM ADOPTED.

A cumberson bit of machinery was put into operation as a solution to the heated debate which has followed the fortunes of the N. D. G. W. home on Baker street, San Francisco, since the opening of the session on Tuesday. Personal encounters and lively discussions during recesses and on the floor have given the real ginger to the session. A joint committee of the board of relief and Grand Parlor programed the fate of the refuge for disabled members which was finally adopted whereby a new board of 21 members of the Grand Parlor will direct the destinies of the institution. By the arrangement 11 of these directors will be appointed from the bay cities, the others to represent various sections of the State, their terms of office to be for seven years in rotation.

MEMBERSHIP CAMPAIGN.

A definite campaign for membership will be carried on during the year, prerequisites for the order still to include nativity in California. When the plan for the organization of an auxiliary of members, not native born, was dismissed three years ago and the rumors persisted that the 1919 parlor would see the plan revived, a compromise was hit upon by the mistresses of fraternal tactics. Parlors within the various counties have been instructed to plan before December and once again before the annual meeting of the 1920 Grand Parlor an all-day conference to which the public but more particularly the young California born girls will be admitted during the afternoon. A morning session will be devoted to subordinate parlor matters with a basket luncheon designed to create a "hang-together" spirit among the members. The membership campaigns will be important feature of the late hour.

The invitation of San Jose to hold the 1920 Grand Parlor in that city was accepted.

The newly elected officers were formally installed last night before adjournment, Miss Grace Stoermer of Los Angeles, past grand president, conducting the ceremony.

BLAME THE KIDDIES IF TRIBUNE CLOCK DID A JAZZ; LUCKY THE ROOF IS LEFT

Aunt Elsie Entertains Youngsters and They Haven't Stopped Giggling Yet

By AUNT ELSIE.

'Jever hear two kiddies giggling? 'Jever hear a dozen? 'Jever hear 150?. That's what the clock on The TRIBUNE house heard yesterday when Aunt Elsie gave a party to ALL the mothers and kiddies of Oakland. And if the clock gained a quarter of an hour or so—don't blame it. It's a wonder it didn't climb out of the frame and do a jazz. It's safe to say there never was so much concentrated giggle in this Kid's Town before. It was a Regular Old-Fashioned Party with everyone happy every second of the time.

And when Florie Mae Tyrrel and Bernice Jahnigen appeared, they didn't raise the roof, because they happened to be standing on it—but that was the only thing that prevented it cavorting gaily into the bay.

Florie and Bernice are cousins to the meadow lark and the dandelion puff. That may surprise their respective families but it's no surprise to the scores of delighted children who were entertained by them yesterday. Florie May in her kilts was the bonniest Scotch lassie that ever skipped the heather.

If those famous Marines of ours had looked as Bernice did in her sailor costumes the world war would have ended some months sooner, for the army doesn't live that could resist Bernice.

It was hard to tell which was the better treat—watching Bernice and Florie May or listening to them. The kiddies did both with crows of delight.

Athenian Jinks to Begin This Evening

Dr. Will Freidman will have charge of the Athenian-Nile outing this week-end at Bonita. The clubmen will keep "open house" tonight, returning late Sunday. There will be a griot tournament under the supervision of Kenneth A. Kerr, twelve teams competing for two prizes to be donated by the refreshment committee. Claude Barton has the physical properties under his guidance, while Francis Woodward will stage a couple of ball games. The single men play the married men. J. Cal Ewing will play on the married team.

There will be a slow race with automobiles. Competing will be Robt. McMullin, Dwight Hutchinson, Chas. Heeseman, Stewart Hawley, Chas. Bates, Walter Emanuel, Henry Gage, Hi. Hall, Syl. Farnum, H. C. Capwell, Don Lee and Lynne Stanley. Most of the members will leave by auto Saturday morning, arriving in time for breakfast.

Harry Leach will have charge of the target practice. Roy Butler will supervise the foot racing. A jinks will be held Saturday night. Among the performers will be Geo. Walker, Cliff Durant, Wick Havens, Bert York, Fred Batkin, Ben Woolner and Harry Mosher. C. L. Crellin is president of the club and Warren Sawyer stage manager.

THIEF TAKES SOLDIER'S PANTS AND HIS MONEY

F. T. Bannister, an overseas soldier now in the Letterman hospital, reported a hard luck story to the police. He claims that someone entered his room at 415 Twelfth street and stole his trousers containing a 295-frane note on Cox & Co. of Paris, and $36 in cash.

Bannister missed his boat and came to the above address for a room for the night. When he woke up his trousers were gone. The landlady loaned him a pair of her husband's trousers to get back to the Presidio.

Bannister is of the opinion that someone reached through the open window and grabbed his trousers which were lying across a chair by the bed.

Ruth Neilson secured a decree of divorce from James S. Neilson on her testimony of cruelty, and Fred D. Danes was given a decree of divorce on his testimony that his wife, Ida May Dades, fell in love with a boarder and left him.

POLICE TRAIL BANDIT WHO SECURED $900

Search is being made by the police for the masked bandit who last night entered the saloon of Manuel Andred, 553 Campbell street, ordered the proprietor and two customers to throw up their hands, and escaped with $900 from the cash register.

That the robbery was committed by someone familiar with affairs at the place is believed by the police. Andred had a large sum of money in the place to cash checks of Southern Pacific yard employees, his place being near the yards.

The bandit was masked, and an incomplete description only is in the hands of the police. The hold-up man escaped by automobile after the robbery.

STREET CAR HIT; FIVE ARE INJURED

Five persons are suffering from cuts, bruises and shock, as the result of an accident in which a flat-car, loaded with gravel, struck a north-bound Telegraph avenue car yesterday at Twenty-fourth street and Telegraph avenue. None of the victims was injured fatally.

Mrs. Theresa Armarino, 5720 Miles avenue, Oakland; severe abrasions of the shoulder.

Frank Pearson, 571 Thirty-third street, Oakland; lacerations of the right leg.

Mrs. Olive Hall, 521 Twentieth street; left shoulder fractured.

Mrs. J. U. Silby, 3044 Fulton street, Berkeley; internal injuries and bruises of the left shoulder.

Mrs. A. B. McArthur, 2406 Dana street, Berkeley; numerous abrasions of the body.

The injured were hurried to Fabiola hospital, except Mrs. Hall, who was taken to the East Bay sanitarium in a passing butcher's truck. According to the investigation made today by officials of the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal railways the flat-car was going into a switch when it bumped the other car. There were some thirty passengers in the Telegraph avenue car, who were thrown from their seats.

Repairs have been in progress for several days on tracks at the scene of the accident. Over a five-block stretch cars are forced to switch in and out on a single track.

Two Flyers Are Dead in Fall at Portland

PORTLAND, June 14.—In full view of thousands at the Westmoreland flying field, near here, an airplane fell with W. B. Hutchenson, a rancher, living near Walla Walla, Wash., and Sergeant John Milkowski of the Mather Field army flying force. Both were killed. Hutchenson had bought the plane in California, following his discharge from service as a navy flying instructor, and had brought it here by steamer. Milkowski did not fly with him under orders, but went up as a passenger. Witnesses of the accident said Hutchenson had attempted a nose dive while too near the earth on his descent.

HAMILTON TO URGE WORK ON ESTUARY BRIDGE

In the hope of securing a release of the order delaying the construction of the Webster-street bridge, for which $1,900,000 bonds were voted two years ago, Supervisor W. J. Hamilton will leave for Washington tomorrow. He was given a leave of absence by the board last Monday.

Several weeks ago Hamilton introduced in the board meeting a resolution asking that the Washington government be requested to rescind its order of delay in the matter and allow the work of building the bridge to go forward, and the board appointed him a committee of one to prosecute his motion. He announced at the time that he would go to Washington and take up the matter with Senator Hiram Johnson and Congressman J. A. Elston. The construction was delayed by the war department in the interest of conserving steel for war purposes, and it is contended by the supervisors now that the emergency has passed that the county should have the right to go ahead.

BOYS HELD ON ROBBERY CHARGE

Inspector Tom Gallagher, famed about the Central police station as "the man with the photographic eye," today has two more prisoners on the long list of those who came to arrest through Gallagher's faculty for recognizing faces, no matter where or how short a glimpse he ever had of them.

John Neilon, 20, and Earl Nash, 18, both living at 2309 Webster street, are in custody today, charged with having rented a taxicab from George Perry, being driven out East Fourteenth street and there beating and robbing Perry.

The boys were picked up by Patrolman P. M. Anderson on a charge of speeding in a motorcycle and were being inspected in "lineup" by the detectives. They would have been released in a few minutes.

"Wait a minute!" remarked Gallagher. "Seems like I recognize these birds. Seems like I saw them several times hanging around taxicabs, and—yep—they fit the descriptions in that Perry job, too!"

The boys were hustled downstairs and thoroughly "shaken down" by Gallagher. According to the police they broke down and made a confession of the Perry robbery. They were booked on a robbery charge.

The two boys are said to have robbed and beaten Perry on June 8, relieving him of $14 and driving away in his taxi, after dumping him out on the road. Further investigation is being made of their antecedents.

PROGRAM FOR JULY FOURTH IS PREPARED

The plans of the Civic Welcome Committee for a great Home Welcome Celebration as the feature of the July Fourth celebration in Oakland have met with unanimous approval. Active cooperation on the part of commercial, fraternal, civic, social and church agencies is assured.

The inability of Harry S. Anderson to serve on the executive committee and as chairman of the ball committee resulted today in the announcement that William J. Hamilton, supervisor and prominent Moose Club leader, will supplant Anderson.

The complete executive committee as given out by Jesse Robinson, chairman, in charge of the July Fourth celebration follows:

Jesse Robinson, chairman; E. F. Garrison, Ben Shapro, Jay B. Nash, George B. Keefe, Max Horwinski, Frank Kennedy, J. Clem Ady, Miss Ethel Moore, Mrs. Esther Snyder, Mrs. Edward Morgan Jones, H. J. Brouwer, Mrs. George H. Morrison, Mrs. Frank Law, William J. Hamilton, Herbert Bennett is secretary.

A distinctive and typical California feature of the celebration will be the barbecue for the men in uniform who will be the guests of Oakland on that day. E. F. Garrison, county auditor, is chairman of the barbecue committee. Pits to cook the meat will be dug in the vacant area in front of the Municipal Auditorium. Hundreds of girls will serve the meat, with hot coffee, bread and doughnuts to the hungry soldiers and sailors.

There will be a parade in the morning in which it is anticipated that at least 10,000 will be in line.

A half-dozen bands and the 500 girls of the Victory Chorus of the girls' division of the War Camp Community Service, under the leadership of Mrs. Esther Snyder and directed by H. J. Brouwer, community song leader, will take part in the street pageant.

An elaborate water pageant and exercises in Lakeside Park will be afternoon features, while the grand ball in the Auditorium at night will close the celebration.

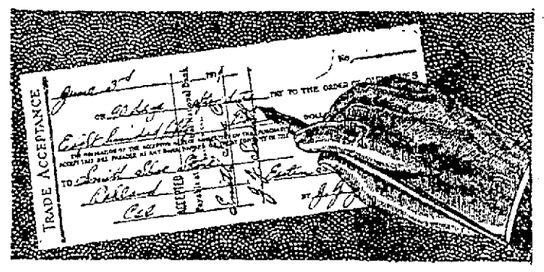
Benefits of the Trade Acceptance



How the buyer benefits:

When the buyer of goods settles for merchandise with a trade acceptance he becomes as independent of the seller as if he paid cash

—his buying market broadens

—he wins the good will of the seller and can obtain lowest prices and best service

—he is able to compete with those of his line who purchase for cash

—he betters his position in the eyes of his banker because his business is systematized and he is ready to assume a definite obligation.

The officers of this bank will gladly tell you more about the use of the trade acceptance in your business.

Go to Church Sunday

Rapid Growth Is Shown By This Church

The records of the founding of the First Presbyterian church go back into the early beginning of Oakland's history, when Oakland was a mere hamlet and its present streets and thoroughfares were only paths among the beautiful groves of oak trees.

The church was organized March 26, 1853, with six members. The first sacrament of the Lord's Supper was celebrated on September 24 in the "Oakland Free School House." Rev. S. B. Bell, D. D., then representing the American Home Missionary Society, officiating. For some years the services were held in the schoolhouse until, through the energetic efforts of Rev. S. B. Bell, money was collected and the first church was built on the corner of Seventh and Webster streets. This was blown before completion, but was rebuilt and occupied until, as the town grew up from the water front, a site was secured on the corner of Broadway and Thirteenth street, when the second church structure was erected.

The six original members were: D. N. Van Dyke, G. C. Aldrich, Mrs. G. Fogg, William McNair, John Kilsey, Mrs. H. J. Jaynes and Rev. Sam B. Bell, D. D., pastor.

Twenty-two years after Broadway, then being the principal business street of the city, it was found advisable to sell the property and the lot on the corner of Fourteenth and Franklin streets was bought and a contract for the erection of the church was let for $55,000, and on April 24, 1875, the corner stone was laid, Rev. James Eells then being the pastor; W. H. Friend, father of William Nat Friend, a present church member, being secretary of the board of trustees. It is interesting to note that Rev. J. K. McLean, then pastor of First Congregational church, who also assisted in the ceremony, performed a similar service at the new church erected on Twenty-sixth and Broadway, nearly thirty-eight years later.

The organ, for many years the largest in the city, was brought from London, England, at a cost of $2,500. Farewell services in the old church at Thirteenth and Broadway are described in copy of the Oakland Daily News of January 10, 1876. The bell that for many years called the people to worship was presented by William Jackson of New York city. It is interesting to also note that this bell, while not being used at present, is incorporated in the structure at Twenty-sixth and Broadway, and the inscription may still be read.

Business condition again making it advisable to secure a site in the residential section of the city, the property at Fourteenth and Franklin was sold for $300,000 and a site secured at the corner of Twenty-sixth and Broadway, where the corner stone was laid for the present building on December 1, 1912, by Rev. Frank L. Goodspeed, D. D., assisted by Rev. Robert F. Coyle, D. D. Rev. J. K. McLean, D. D., and Rev. H. H. McCreery, D. D., and others. During the period of construction the church at Fourteent hand Franklin streets, having been torn down, the congregation met for worship in the old St. Paul's church building at Grand avenue and Webster street.

The membership roll of the church contains the names of many of the pioneer families of Oakland, several of the early members are still living and occasionally are brought to the church services. While it is impossible to give a detailed list in the limited space, it is interesting to note, however, that Harmon Bell, the son of the first pastor of the church, is still a member of the congregation, and the large memorial window in the front of the church was given by him in memory of his father. During the many years of the history of this church the outstanding feature has been the fact that it has been a "people's church," and while at times possibly some wealthy persons have been among its membership, yet those actively represented in its officers and management have been almost wholly from among those in moderate circumstances, the only requirement for membership being that of belief in the principles for which the church stands in its efforts to better the spiritual welfare of the community which it serves.

The following are the names of the distinguished pastors who have ministered to the congregation since the organization in the order of their service: Rev. S. B. Bell, D. D.; Rev. E. B. Walsworth, D. D.; Rev. J. D. Strong, Rev. L. Hamilton, Rev. D. W. Poor, D. D.; Rev. James Eells, D. D.; Rev. Francis A. Horton, D. D.; Rev. Robert F. Coyle, D. D.; Rev. Ernest L. Baker, D. D.; Rev. Frank L. Goodspeed, D. D.

The present pastor, Rev. Frank M. Silsley, D. D., has made a remarkable record since coming to Oakland, and during his pastorate (a little over two years) over 800 members have united with the church. During the past year Rev. Otis D. Ironmonger has been called as assisting minister, succeeding Rev. Kenneth G. Murray, who had taken up Y. M. C. A. service work during the period of the war, and who had resigned to accept the pastorate of Lebanon Presbyterian church of San Francisco.

COLLEGE AVENUE M. E.

Last month the College Avenue M. E. church finished its debt of $12,200 and burned its mortgage. Its quota for the centenary was $17,569. It raised $22,590 and besides it has laid aside a fund of $17,500 for the extension of its building. Rev. L. R. Fulmer is serving his fourth year as pastor. In addition to the financial prosperity of the church during his ministry, there has also been a net gain of 50 per cent in membership.

In appreciation of his work the church has voted the pastor a five weeks' vacation, with all expenses paid, and after filling the pulpit Sunday he will start to Columbus, Ohio, where a great centenary celebration will be held from June 29 to July 3, with "every day a feature day," the climax coming in a pageant with 17,000 trained participants. During the pastor's absence the pulpit will be supplied regularly by the local committee in charge.

The church service flag will be lowered by Colonel H. G. Mathewson. Appropriate music will be rendered by the choir, and an address will be given to the young men by Dr. Wills on "Manliness and Christian Heroism." The address will be appropriate to all young men and all are invited to attend.

His subject in the morning will be, "Religion and the American Soldier in France."

In the evening he will relate his experiences on the Western front, and will show British, French and German gas masks.

Peter Clark Macfarlane, one of the best known writers of the present day, and who spent about two years in France as war correspondent, will be the guest of honor at the Men's Club dinner Tuesday evening of this week at 6:45, and will give an address in the Auditorium at 8 o'clock.

Macfarlane is on the fiction staff of some of the leading American magazines, and also a special writer for a number of the leading newspapers of our land. He is intensely interesting as a writer and even more so as a speaker.

His trip to Brazil was full of interesting experiences. He expected to sail soon with his ship for Marseilles, France. On February 10 he had the misfortune to fracture his arm and was in the hospital for two weeks.

Cupid is still active in the First church. Informal announcement has been made of the engagement of Miss Jeannetta Green to Frank I. Guilford. Both are prominent members of the church.

Miss Geraldine Lester, whose engagement to Garner Roy Searl has been announced, was given a surprise shower at the home of Miss Irene Joseph Tuesday evening. Searl is still with the American forces in France.

Miss Helen Jones, formerly one of the members of this church, was married on June 5 at her home in Denver to Herbert Sparks, a sailor, who was stationed at Goat Island for a time. Some of her girl friends recently sent Mrs. Sparks a surprise shower by mail.

WELSH PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

Last Tuesday evening the young people of the Welsh Presbyterian church met to organize a social club. The attendance for the first meeting was very encouraging. Hugh Price Jones was voted to the chair, and Charles Williams acted as secretary. Committees were appointed to draw up the constitution and to attend to other details of business. It was agreed to have a hike on Saturday evening, meeting at Shattuck and University at 6:30, then hiking to Wild Cat canyon. At the next meeting of the club reports will be heard from the committee on constitution. All who are interested in this new movement are urged to attend on June 24 at 8 p. m. at the church.

Services will be conducted Sunday, the minister, Rev. O. R. Williams, preaching at both services, at 11 a. m. in English, 7:30 in Welsh. The Welsh people of the Eastbay are cordially invited to attend. The annual Welsh picnic for Oakland and San Francisco will be held on July 4 at Lincoln Park, Alameda. Detailed announcements will beb made soon.

There will be the usual excellent musical service by the chorus choir under the direction of Mrs. Bessie Beatty Roland, organist.

On Tuesday evening of next week the men of First church are to meet at a super to effect a simple organization for social and spiritual activities in the church. UNIVERSAL TRUTH.

The Church of Universal Truth holds its services every Sunday afternoon and evening at the K. P. hall on Twelfth and Alice. This church established by the Bishop Mazzinianda on the occasion of his 94th birthday has been steadily growing in numbers and now bids fair to become one of the most popular organizations of Oakland. The venerable gentleman himself will speak in the afternoon tomorrow on "Mental Telepathy," considered by many a subject of vital interest at the present. This will be the first in a series of that subject.

No doubt a large attendance will be present at that time to hear one so capable of handling such a subject as the bishop himself, who is considered by many an authority in the scientific world on such matters.

At night Rev. Mother Maha Devi, one of the bishop's students, and recently ordained will speak on the "Quiet." She is a lady said to be well qualified to handle this subject and undoubtedly will be greeted by an appreciative attendance.

FIRST CHURCH OF THE ADVENT

The Fortnightly festival will be observed on Sunday in sacrament and sermon at the Church of the Advent, East Sixteenth street and Twelfth avenue.

At 11 Rev. Isaac Dawson will preach on "The Open Door." The evening service will be at 8 p. m. and sunday school at 9:45. The public is cordially invited to all services.

The following delegates have been appointed delegates to the special convention, which will meet in San Francisco July 9 to elect a bishop of the diocese of the Episcopal church: J. E. Chilcott, M. H. Keeler, G. H. C. Kemp, Charles Henderson and Kenneth S. Cratt.

"Soul Stuff" To Be Topic Of Sermon

A special musical program under direction of Mrs. J. M. Macgregor, the regular soloist, has been arranged for in connection with the 11 o'clock services of the Church of the Universal Christ, in Hotel Oakland, as follows:

Violin solo, Hortense Roberts; "Come Unto Me," solo, Mrs. J. M. Macgregor; "Just for Today," contralto solo, Racalie Harriar; "That Sweet Story of Old," solo, Mrs. J. M. Macgregor.

"Soul Stuff" will be the topic of Rev. Bernard C. Ruggles' sermon, the third in a series which he is delivering on Sunday mornings. The general series is advertised as "Soul Culture, the Plus of Psychology."

The primary Sunday school meets at the same hour as the church service. This is a very finely organized and equipped school and proves a great accommodation to many who wish to attend services, yet have small children to care for. Children from four years to twelve are given equal advantages, according to age, special teachers, being provided for all.

ST. PETER'S EPISCOPAL.

Tomorrow will be observed as Trinity Sunday at St. Peter's Episcopal church, Rockridge, Lawton, near Broadway, with holy eucharist at 9 a. m. and sermon on "The Worship of Heaven."

The church school will be held at 10:15. The morning prayer and sermon will be at 11:15 a. m., evensong and sermon at 7:30.

The rector, Rev. Edgar E. Gee, one of the most regular attendants of the Oakland Ministerial Union, was not able to attend the meeting of that body this week on account of a fall last Sunday which injured his hip. He was remembered with a message of sympathy and cheer by his fellow ministers of the Union. He has so far recovered as to be able to conduct all his church services.

The parish held its annual church and Sunday school picnic at Palm Beach, Alameda, today.

BROOKLYN CHILDREN'S DAY.

Last Sunday was observed as childrens' day in Brooklyn Presbyterian church. The Sunday school marched into the church in a body, led by a choir of intermediate girls. Every department of the school was represented on the program, which was one of the best that Brooklyn school has ever had. An impressive feature of the service was the baptism of the infant son of the late Lieutenant Hugh Felton. The mother and child were preceded up the aisle by six little girls, bearing the baptismal water.

Brooklyn school has started a summer attendance campaign, taking as the slogan for the summer, "Make It a Hump, Instead of a Slump." Attendance last Sunday was 262. "Watch us grow."

LATTER DAY SAINTS.

"MORMONS."

The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints meets in Porter Hall, 1918 Grove street. Sunday-school at 10 o'clock; preaching at 11:45; evening services at 7:30.

LATTER DAY SAINTS.

ARISE AND WASH AWAY THY SINS

The Only Way

By Dr. JAMES E. TALMAGE

Of the Council of the Twelve, Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints; Salt Lake City, Utah.

NOTE: For free copies of other articles of this series, send request to the author.

We believe that the first principles and ordinances of the Gospel are: (1) Faith in the Lord Jesus Christ; (2) Repentance; (3) Baptism by immersion for the remission of sins; (4) Laying on of hands for the gift of the Holy Ghost. (Articles of Faith, 4).

"Men and brethren, what shall we do?" Such was the eager, anguished, almost despairing cry of the humbled multitude who, at the first Pentecost following the crucifixion of Christ, were brought to a realization of their awful gilt through the inspired utterances of Peter, the presiding Apostle.

What shall we do? What can we do? Is hope yet open to us? This is the wail of contritely penitent souls, everywhere, always. When convicted of sin at the bar of his own conscience through genuine repentance, when at last able to see himself in all the repulsive pollution of his transgression, the self-accusing sinner yearns with fervid purpose to make all possible reparation and is zealous to learn and obey the conditions of forgiveness, if such there be.

To every soul thus brought into the depths through the benign though afflicting influences of repentance, to all who thus appeal for mercy and rescue, the answer is direct and prompt:

"Repent, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of sins, and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost." (See Acts 2:37-39.)

The promise of remission is as wide as the domain of sin: for excepting those (and be it said to our comfort that they are few) who sink so far into the quagmire of iniquity as to be numbered among the "sons of perdition," to whom effective repentance is impossible, all may be saved by compliance with the requirements set forth by the Author of the plan of salvation. The need of forgiveness is likewise universal: "for there is not a just man upon earth, that doeth good, and sinneth not" (Eccles. 7:20); and "If we say that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us." (1 John 1:8.)

Is it not reasonable, and wholly in keeping with the ordinary ways of men in their mutual dealings, that some substantial evidence shall be demanded to attest the genuineness of the repentance we voice in words? Is it enough that the debtor shall merely acknowledge his obligation and express regret that he has not heretofore been able to meet it? He must do something more, or he remain forever in debt. The seal by which repentance is validated is Baptism in water for the remission of sins; for by this is the blood of Jesus Christ made effective to cleanse from sin. (See 1 John 1:7).

The voice in the wilderness heralding the advent of the Lord, the proclamation that aroused Jerusalem and reverberated throughout Judea and Galilee, was "the baptism of repentance for the remission of sins." (Mark 1:4; Luke 3:3.) The cleansing ordinance was not to be administered indiscriminately, however; it was reserved for those who had brought forth "fruits meet for repentance," to whose profession of penitence was a true index to their contrite state.

Saul of Tarsus when rebuked for his ill-directed zeal in persecuting the Lord's own, exclaimed in agony "What shall I do, Lord?" By the mouth of devout Ananias came the answer: "Arise and be baptized and wash away thy sins." (Se Acts 22.) And Saul, thereafter known as Paul, a preacher of righteousness and an Apostle of the Lord Jesus Christ, taught the saving doctrine that by baptism in water comes regeneration from sin.

Pastors and prophets who ministered to the ancient fold of Christ on the American continent led the people in the same path, that of repentance and baptism by water, the only way by which remission of sins could then or can ever be secured. Read for yourselves in the Book of Mormon, which is verily the Scripture of the Western Continent:

"For the gate by which ye should enter, is repentance, and baptism by water; and then cometh a remission of your sins by fire, and by the Holy Ghost." (2 Nephi 31:17.)

"Shew unto your God that ye are willing to repent of your sins, and enter into a covenant with Him to keep His commandments, and witness it unto Him this day, by going into the waters of baptism." (Alma 7:15.)

Hear the words of the Lord Jesus Christ through the prophet Mormon:

"Turn, all ye Gentiles from your wicked ways, and repent of your evil doings, of your lyings and deceivings, and your whoredoms, and of your secret abominations and your idolatries and of your murders, and your priestcrafts, and your envyings, and your strifes, and from all your wickedness and abominations, and come unto me, and be baptized in my name, that ye may receive a remission of your sins, and be filled with the Holy Ghost, that ye may be numbered with my people, who are of the house of Israel." (3 Nephi 30:2).

And further:

"The first fruits of repentance is baptism: and baptism cometh by faith, unto the fulfilling the commandments; and the fulfilling the commandments bringeth remission of sins." (Moroni 8:25.)

To His commissioned servants in the current age, the bearers of the Holy Priesthood again restored to earth, the Lord has given commandment that they proclaim anew to the world the same unchangeable truth, that only through baptism is remission of sins promised. Thus we read:

"But thou shalt declare repentance and faith on the Savior and remission of sins by baptism and by fire, yea, even the Holy Ghost." (Doctrine and Covenants 19:31).

Such is the immutable law of God throughout the ages. There is no other way provided on earth or in heaven by which the merits of the Atonement of Jesus Christ may bring salvation to Mankind.

The pastor, Rev. Norman W. Pendleton, will speak at 11 o'clock a. m. on "God's Expectations, Are We Meeting Them?"

DAILY BIBLE SCHOOLS

The third annual session of Daily Vacation Bible Schools of the San Francisco Bay Baptist Churches will begin June 30.

These schools are for all children between the ages of 4 and 14 years. The schools this year will be open for from four to six weeks, running from June 30 until late in August.

Dr. Millard L. Thomas, director of religious education, reports that seven schools will be conducted this year in the following churches: First Baptist of Oakland, First Baptist of San Francisco, Melrose Baptist of Oakland, First Baptist of Alameda, Hamilton Square Baptist of San Francisco, Tabernacle of San Francisco and one in the Alice Street Mission, the latter under the direction of the San Francisco Bay Associational Baptist Young People's Union.

Rev. C. L. Hobson has been appointed state director of vacation schools for this field. Principals and instructors have been obtained for all schools and adequate materials are forthcoming for constant instruction in music, calisthenics, games, clay modeling, basket weaving, manual training, sewing, paper work, kindergarten specialties, Bible stories and patriotic drilling.

The first year these schools were conducted in Oakland over 300 children of twelve different denominations and many without any church affiliation at all were cared for. The second year showed a decided increase in attendance. This year seven schools are to be conducted, and it is expected that upward of 750 children will be cared for during the vacation period.

The schools of the respective churches will be opened as follows: Oakland First, June 30; Melrose, June 24; Alameda, June 30; First San Francisco, June 30; Hamilton Square, June 30, and Tabernacle, June 30. The daily vacation Bible school at the Alice Street Mission will not be opened until August, as it is felt that this field would be better cared for later in the season.

BERKELEY BAPTIST

Dr. David A. Pitt, pastor of the First Baptist church, Dana and Haste streets, Berkeley, seems to be expert in landing big occasions at his church, or the church is so popular that it is sought as a rallying center for great organizations.

Last Sunday morning the members of Wedgewood, Peralta, Cerrito and Bay Tree camps, Woodmen of the World, attended in a body, and preceding the sermon by the pastor a short address was delivered by Judge W. H. Waste, a well-known member of the order.

Tomorrow's services will be in honor of the Odd Fellows, who have been holding their great convention in Berkeley during the week.

SCHOOL OF MISSIONS WILL OPEN JULY 5

Interested women of Oakland and San Francisco are looking forward with happy anticipations to the coming Federate school of missions to be held at Mount Hermon, July 5-12.

Mrs. A. Rosenberger of Whittier, California, well known as a leader in mission study, will conduct the morning classes in the two books "Christian Americanization," by Brooks, and "A Crusade of Compassion," by Allen and Mason. Rev. William H. Oxtory, D. D., who so ably conducted the Bible study hour last summer, will do so again each morning this year. Dr. Oxtoby is professor of Old Testament in the San Francisco Theological Seminary.

The last part of each forenoon will be given to a missionary institute. It is expected that Dr. Oxtoby will give one of the evening illustrated lectures. There will be free stereopticon views each evening in the auditorium, beginning Monday evening, July 7. One evening there will be given a "missionary pageant," by the young people of Mount Hermon. Each board is requested to exhibit throughout the week the literature of its denomination bearing on the two text books. The denominational rallies will take place on Wednesday afternoon, July 9. There are eight denominations affiliated in Mount Hermon federate school of missions. Large meetings and delightful times are anticipated this summer.

Among them Dr. William Shriver of New York city, an expert on foreign immigration. Who will preach July 6? Other speakers will be announced soon.

Parish assistant Hoffman will have charge of the vacation Bible school to be held in the Brooklyn church from June 30 to July 25, and he already has the forces organized in a way that augurs success. Work is being done this week on the new building for the boys' club.

Spencer will conduct the exercises of the primary department, which includes the giving of diplomas to those who "pass through the gates" for promotion.

A cradle on the platform will stand for the little folks who are not able as yet to come. Any child of the community is welcome to a place on the cradle roll, and many new names are to be placed on the list. Mrs. W. D. Macdonald is superintendent.

Parents have a special invitation to come. They have the most vital interest in their children, and their cooperation is essential to the best results.

Dr. John B. Donaldson will preach in the evening on "The Transformation of the Old Briar Root Into the Rose and How It Felt to Make the Change."

REV. JACKSON'S PASTORATES

Rev. James E. Jackson, pastor of two Methodist churches, reports that both went over the top in the centenary missionary drive. The Twenty-fourth Avenue church was apportioned $2690. It has raised $2946 and will make it $3000. The Eighty-third Avenue church was apportioned $1515 and went to $1706.

Tomorrow morning the pastor will preach at the Twenty-fourth Avenue church on "The Upper Room, the Need and Purpose." This will be at a dedication service in connection with the appointment of new church and Sunday school officers.

In the evening William Kent, a man of wide experience in England and America, will speak.

At Eighty-third Avenue church Rev. S. M. Woodward will preach in the morning. The pastor will in the evening continue his series on "Noted Criminals I Have Met."

Memorial Church Has Big Reward

An up-to-date revival is to begin at the Pioneer Memorial Methodist church, corner Telegraph and Thirty-seventh street Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, with Harold Govette, the preacher, in charge.

Eight captains with eight trained teams will do efficient service and a chorus of trained voices will render refreshing music, and earnest gospel preachers will deliver strong evangelistic messages.

The meetings will continue for two weeks and all people regardless of faith are earnestly invited to be present.

This church has been known for some time as an evangelistic church, and during the past few years has had some interesting and very profitable revivals. The members of the church are pledging themselves to attend the meeting every night during the first week, with the hope that the meeting will become so interesting and helpful that they will be more than willing to attend all the meetings of the second week.

The pastor-evangelist will do most of the preaching, but other preachers around the bay have promised to come in at times and render a helping hand by preaching sermons and doing personal work.

After Sunday the services will be held each evening at 8 o'clock, preceded by a 15-minute prayer service conducted by the evangelistic committee.

TENTH AVENUE BAPTIST.

Continuing the line of thought of last Sunday, Rev. G. W. Phillips, pastor of the Tenth Avenue Baptist church, will preach Sunday morning on "The Problem of the Desert." What has been done in reclaiming the great American desert will be used to demonstrate the need of transforming the great moral and spiritual world desert by the forces of righteousness.

Dr. Phillips will show that it is not sufficient to exclaim how great the desert is or to uproot the noxious weeds of sin but that believers must be the great hope for the age, full of unflinching courage, willing to sacrifice themselves if need be as other pioneers who have blased the trail and prepared the way, though their bones were left to bleach in what seems to be a hopeless and helpless desert.

Sunday evening Dr. Phillips will report the Denver convention to the Melrose Baptist church at Forty-seventh avenue and Bond street, giving those an opportunity to hear who were not present when he delivered a similar message from the Tenth Avenue pulpit. Rev. H. D. Zimmerman, pastor of the Melrose church, will fill the Tenth Avenue pulpit Sunday night.

EIGHTH AVENUE M. E.

The theme for Sunday morning at the Eighth Avenue Methodist Episcopal church, will be "Power for Service." The pastor, Rev. James Whitaker, in announcing this theme, says:

"All power that is of the best is made for service. Sometimes bad men use it for unlawful and unholy ends, but at first it was not made for that purpose. If there is anything we need more than another today it is power to do things in a rightful way. How shall we get it? When we get it how shall we use it? It is a blessing to know that the wisest, the noblest, and the best men in all departments of life have recognized that they were in the world to serve their fellows. We need to impress this on the minds of those who are now graduating from school, college, and university. Talent is obligation. Ability is for service."

In the evening the children of the Sunday school will give an entertainment in honor of children's day. It will be a children's day entertainment, and will be participated in by the choir and splendid music will be rendered. The parents and all the families of the community are very cordially invited to come and spend an evening of enjoyment and profit.

ST. MARY'S CATHOLIC

The Feast of the Trinity which is celebrated on Sunday in Catholic circles, will be observed especially at St. Mary's church, Eighth and Jefferson streets. In the morning there will be six services, consisting of masses at 6:30, 8, 9 10, 11 and 12:15 o'clock. At the 11 o'clock service the Conservatory of Music choir will render Weber's Mass.

Miss Regina Munzo will sing Dubois' "Ave Maria" at the offertory. Portions of this music will be repeated at the noontime service.

The sermons at the 11 and 12:15 masses will be preached by Rev. Bernard L. McKinnon. At 4 o'clock there will be St. Rita devotions and a meditation by Rev. E. P. Dempsey. The evening devotions will consist of vespers, a sermon by Rev. Charles Phillipps and benediction.

W. C. T. U. RECEPTION.

A reception will be tendered the new members of Oakland Central W. C. T. U. Monday afternoon in the court of the Y. W. C. A. from 2 to 5 o'clock. Informal greetings will be heard from state officers, and there will be refreshments and music.

Flight Over City Is to Be Related

The Rev. Charles S. Price, pastor of the Calvary Congregational church, Cedar and Bonita streets, will tell of his experiences flying over the city of Oakland at the services to be held in the church at Thirty-sixth and Grove streets, Sunday night at 7:45.

Last Sunday afternoon Lieutenant George V. Grey, formerly instructor of acrobatic flying at Mather Field, took Rev. Price for an airplane ride over the bay cities. The aviator and his passenger attained an elevation of 3250 feet, and starting from the Alameda flats flew over Oakland, Berkeley, the Piedmont hills, over San Francisco bay and then circled for some time over Neptune Beach and Alameda.

Rev. Price will tell on Sunday night what it feels like to be so near heaven and those who know how he can handle a subject of this kind are looking forward to a very interesting and inspiring evening. Needless to say lessons of vital importance will be drawn from the speaker's experiences. At the morning service he will speak on "The Path of Peace." All are cordially invited to attend.

PRETTY PROGRAM PLANNED FOR CHILDREN'S DAY

Children's Day will be observed at the Albany Baptist church tomorrow. The service will begin at 10 a. m. and is to be a united program of the Sunday school and the regular morning preaching service.

There is to be a California poppy song given by the junior class of girls, dressed in crepe paper to imitate our beautiful state flower. Miss Vyvian Peterson will give a reading. A duet will be rendered by Miss Claire Mathieson and Miss Pearl Wright, assisted by a chorus of young people.

An exercise, entitled "Jesus Loves Me," by the primary department; a recitation by Winifred Jevons, and two dialogues by boys' classes will complete the program by the Sunday school.

A novel feature to follow is to be a tableau given by the mothers of infants of the church and community.

The speaker of the morning will be Dr. M. L. Thomas, the superintendent of religious education for the Baptist churches of northern California, who has just returned from the Northern Baptist Convention at Denver.

The meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of the church was held on Thursday at 2:30 p. m. Mrs. H. D. Zimmerman, a representative woman of Baptist work in this locality, spoke very interestingly. It was decided to hold the next meeting in two weeks at the home of Mrs. J. H. Jevons.

FRIENDS CHURCH.

Rev. Levi Gregory, pastor of the Friends' church at Fifty-second and Webster streets, will fill his pulpit Sunday morning, and in the evening will start for the State convention to be in time for the opening session to which he is a delegate and of which he will be the presiding officer. The convention opens June 16, at Whittier, the headquarters of the Friends church in California, and will continue in session a week.

Rev. Gregory is the senior pastor in years of service in the denomination in California. In a few weeks he will complete the 25th year of his ministry in this State. His pulpit will be supplied during his absence at the convention. Tomorrow evening the services will be in charge of the Alameda County Christian Endeavor Union and will be conducted by the county president, Oliver E. McLean, and the second vice-president, Carl C. James, with Miss Clarra McLevin, assistant junior superintendent, soloist.

Sunday, June 22, Mrs. Elmer Cole will occupy the pulpit both morning and evening and will draw lessons from her observations in Palestine.

OAKLAND MINISTERIAL UNION.

The Oakland Ministerial Union held, one of its most serious and best spirited meetings this week. This is the last meeting until after the summer vacation. Plans were laid and committees were appointed to report at the August meeting, preparatory to undertaking definite work as suggested by the commission on interchurch federation, under an efficient leader who will devote his whole time in planning and directing the local forces.

The union adjourned to meet August 12 at 1 o'clock in the First Congregational church.

Rev. Charles W. Koehler of the Fruitvale M. E. church at School and Boston streets, will speak in the morning on "Why There Is Sorrowing and Suffering in Life." In the evening he will have for his topic, "The Lust for Things." The Epworth League will hold its regular Sunday evening service at 7 o'clock, and the leader will be Miss Hortense Roberts. Rev. Inter-Church Movement Explained

Dr. Reid Tells of Unification Work

In the absence of the Rev. Frank Mitchell Silsley, D. D., pastor of the First Presbyterian church, Rev. Jas. Clement Reid, Ph. D., of San Francisco, associate secretary of the Inter-church World Movement, and formerly pastor of Trinity Presbyterian church of that city, filled the pulpit Sunday morning. His subject was "Unifying the Church to Save the World," presenting in outline the program of the Inter-church World Movement. Dr. Reid spoke in part as follows:

"The principle of adaptation to environment, operative in all forms of life, from the lowest to the highest, is equally manifest in the process of social evolution and progress. Under the operation of this vital principle, the Inter-Church World Movement sprang spontaneously from the desire of the beneficent agencies of 25 of the leading denominations to meet and solve the church's part of the reconstruction problems following the world war.

"No fact concerning the war is more universally recognized today than that, at the time America entered, the Allies were hopelessly at the mercy of their autocratic adversary. Nor did our entry, of itself, turn the tell-tale tide. Seeing that so long as each of the several Allied armies was under individual direction while their enemies' forces were under common command, there was no hope for ultimate victory, under the earnest and emphatic insistence of President Wilson, it was finally decided to establish unity of command.

"The day of General Foch's assuming the duties of generalissimo marked the 'beginning of the end' of the war, together with the kaiser's nightmare of world dominion. Once the armies had been disposed to best advantage, the Americans, at Chateau Thierry, became the chief actors in scenes one of the last to end and started the German hordes back to the Rhine; before the enemy had a chance to recover from the staggering blow, he was dealt another smash by the British and Belgians at the north; then, while still groggy from this punishment, the French army, aided by Americans, hit him in the solar plexus; meanwhile, the Italians had been reinforced and ordered to attack the Austrians, which they did with such avidity as had not been seen in their armies before. Thus the blows were dealt persistently, scientifically, mercilessly, until 'Fritz' threw up his hands and cried 'Kamerad.'

"Then came the signing and promulgation of the armistice, followed by the assembling of that group of distinguished diplomats about the peace table in Paris. No sooner were they called to order and properly constituted than they arrived at the conclusion that, just as unity of command is essential to the winning of the war, so the unifying of the nations of the earth is necessary to prevent future wars, hence, their first and greatest duty was to work out and adopt a plan for a league of nations. So in spite of the pipings of political pettifoggers in America and the wailings of the adherents to the dying cause of balance of power in Europe, under the prophetic leadership of our own Chief Executive, they ordered rigidly to this program until the treaty of peace, shot through and through with the idea of co-operation rather than that of competition, and embodying the constitution of the league of nations, was ready for presentation to our foes of yesterday.

"Taking to heart the lesson that the war has taught the nations of the earth, the home and foreign missions council of North America, convened in joint session at New York last December decided that, if the church is to perform its part in making democracy safe for the world, now that the world has been made safe for democracy, it must move immediately toward unified plans and efforts throughout the whole of its field, the world. There are two ways in which unity may be established; one is that of bringing all into one organic body, which brings both unity and uniformity, even though under compulsion; the other is by co-operation, recognizing the principle everywhere manifest in nature, of unity in variety. Recurring again to the analogy of the war, just as the Allied armies, in spite of the fact of their having a larger force, better equipment and a larger supply of food, clothing and ammunition were playing a losing game until they established a unified plan and program, so our Protestant forces, operating under distinctive and, oftimes, divisive direction have been dissipating their energies, wasting their resources and yet failing in taking and holding the strongholds, our great American cities where the most serious of our social and moral problems are found.

"Just as the American, British, French and Italian armies retained their individuality while responding to the direction of General Foch, so the various Protestant denominations, may retain their distinctive doctrines, forms of government and modes of worship while operating under a united plan for the carrying out of the Lord's plan of making 'the kingdoms of the world to become 'the kingdom of our Lord and His Christ.'

"This in substance is the meaning of the Inter-church World Movement; it is a movement, not a new organization or denomination. It is creating only such machinery as is necessary for propagating the program for unity; it is a world movement because its uppermost desire and aim is to see 'Thy Kingdom come, Thy will be done in (throughout) the earth as it is done in heaven'—a prayer often said but seldom prayed; and yet it is an inter-church movement, a movement among the churches, not an effort toward organic union, which would raise all the age-long objections based upon doctrine, form of government, mode of worship, but one which, without interfering with denominational autonomy, will, in a purely democratic way—each denomination speaking through chosen representatives—effect an unified program and co-operation in carrying it out.

"The first movement in this direction is now underway, that of making a great religious survey of the field, both home and foreign. The purpose of this survey is to ascertain the religious needs and conditions of the whole world, together with those agencies and organizations which are now attempting to supply those needs. This will be followed by a very careful analysis, to determine the extent to which the needs are actually being supplied, and to discover wherein there are overlappings of agencies, organizations or institutions. Following this will come the calculation of the cost of adequately supplying that which is necessary for the satisfying of these needs, and the placing of this final responsibility before the respective denominations in a great simultaneous campaign.

"Then will follow the enlisting of the necessary man power, by making an earnest appeal to the young men and women of our colleges and universities to accept the challenge presented by these great world needs, and enlist for service. This program can only be carried out successfully by the co-operation of the various denominational agencies. It has already been approved by the denominational agencies of all of the leading evangelical churches in North America, as well as a number of the great national governing bodies, and has met with universal acclaim upon the part of great denominational leaders."

BAPTIST YOUNG PEOPLE WILL GO TO SACRAMENTO

Keen interest is being shown in the Oakland-Sacramento conference of the Intermediate B. Y. P. Unions of the two cities, which will be held in Sacramento on Sunday, June 22. Oakland Intermediates from the First Baptist church, Tenth Avenue Baptist church and Twenty-third Avenue Baptist church will make the all-day trip in a specially engaged Intermediate coach on the Oakland, Antioch and Eastern Railway.

The program of the conference includes addresses by Rev. S. Fraser Langford, B. D., pastor of the First Baptist church of Sacramento, and Dr. Millard L. Thomas, director of religious education for northern California and Nevada. Devotional sessions are to be led by Miss Irene Lorimer, associated president of the San Francisco Bay B. Y. P. U.; Mr. Watson, superintendent of the Twenty-third Avenue Intermediates, and Miss Gladys McMillan, president of the B. Y. P. U. of Sacramento. Reginald A. Stubbs, superintendent of the Tenth Avenue Intermediates, will respond to the address of welcome at Sacramento. Miss Charlotte Morgan, assistant superintendent of the Tenth Avenue Intermediates, will sing at the conference.

This trip is an outgrowth of the San Jose conference trip the First Church Intermediates made two years ago. It is expected that the Oakland-Sacramento conference will be made an annual affair in northern California Intermediate B. Y. P. U. work. An organization is to be effected and Intermediate unions of all other northern California churches be invited to join. The Oakland committee handling the trip for Jne 22 includes Hugh W. Thomas, superintendent of the First Church Intermediate Union; Hilton Lush of Twenty-third Avenue, Miss Irene Lorimer, Miss Charlotte Morgan and R. A. Stubbs.

Sunday dinner and vesper luncheon will be served Oakland delegations at Sacramento, and a drive through the capital city is also on the program. Between 75 and 100 young people are slated for the trip in the Intermediate coach.

Dr. Silsley Will Talk on Flying

Rev. Frank M. Silsley, D. D., has returned from the East and will occupy the pulpit in the First Presbyterian church morning and evening. In the evening he will speak on the subject "Flying Like Hawker or an Eagle—Which?" He will make Hawker's flight in an aeroplane across the ocean, the inspiration of a timely sermon on the efforts and inspirations and endeavors of people today. How many are nestling and not flying at all? How many are fluttering around the gildedd places of sin and not flying at all? What is it to fly, not grovel or skip?

While in the East Dr. Silsley observed many different types in big cities and will tell why people who live in Oakland have greater encouragement and inspiration to soar in a moral sense.

The Temple Quartet has prepared a special recognition program for Dr. Silsley's return.

In the morning Dr. Silsley will preach on "The Greater Friendship."

Speaking of his Easter visit, Dr. Silsley said: "I spent two weeks in St. Louis, where I attendedd the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church. It was a wonderful gathering. That the church today is alive to after-the-war needs was plainly manifest in the Assembly's action to co-operate with all other churches to Christianize society and to spread the gospel to all nations. Another progressive step by the General Assembly was the action toward getting closer, with organized labor. The assembly sent greetings to the Railroadderrs' convention at St. Louis and endorsed Wilson's stand for the cause of labor throughout the world."

While in St. Louis Dr. Silsley preached one Sunday morning in the largest Baptist church in the city.

Bishop Is Visitor to Brethren

The Church of the United Brethren In Christ, corner Thirty-fourth and Adeline, is rejoicing over the visit of Bishop Washinger of Portland. He announced himself as well pleased with the progress of the work in all departments. With the conclusion of the financial program Sunday evening every department was over the top.

The Bible school will meet at 9:45. Every person present will be presented with a New Testament, if he does not already possess one, whether enrolled in the school or not. Another class is being added for young men and women. The new teacher will be Mrs. Florence Hunter.

At the morning worship tomorrow at 11 the pastor, Rev. Milton C. Lutz, will speak on the subject, "The Christian's Gateway to Power." The Junior, Intermediate and Senior Endeavor will meet at 7 p. m.

The Sunday school will observe Children's Day exercises with a program by the children.

WILSON SCORED AS HALT TO PEACE

LONDON, June 14.—(By Universal Service).—Under the heading "The Cart Before the Horse," the Daily Express says editorially:

"When Wilson left America for Paris he was warned of the consequences which are now seen. The action of the foreign relations committee threatens the League of Nations with disaster and menaces the whole peace.

"By those convulsions in the allied camp, Germany must be vastly encouraged to refuse to sign peace.

"If Wilson had not left America to enjoy the splendors of State visits and play the protagonist on the conference stage, he would not have brought ruin to the league which he gave life.

"He came to Europe and insisted upon putting the cart before the horse, or making the league an essential part of the treaty, and the worst feature is that Europe may have to suffer for one man's vanity."

ST. FRANCIS DE SALES.

At the 10:30 high mass the choir will sing Gauss' second mass in D. At the offertory and the organist, Gerwill sing an Ave Maria by Gauss at the ofgfertory and the organist, Gerard Taillandier, will play "Intermezzo" in A flat by Bruce Steane; "Angel's Serenade" by Grana and postlude in D by Cuthbert Harris.

TRIPLES FEATURE GAME WHEN CARL HOLLING OF OAKS GETS BUMPED BY ANGEL BATTERS

Manager "Red" Killifer Leads His Boys in an Attack Upon Howard's Youngster

LOS ANGELES, June 14.—Carl Holling, pitching for the Oakland club, uncorked a new one on the fans of this section when yesterday he opposed the Angels in the fourth game of the series and today the Angels are even with the Oaks in the number of games won for the week. Holling had his "triple" curve working in great style, at least the Angel fans and players are willing to admit so, although few have seldom seen it worked before. Manager Del Howard picked Holling to pitch, hoping that the youngster would make it three straight for the Oaks. Maybe Carl would have succeeded had he not used his "triple" curve a little too often, as each time he did it meant a run for the Angels.

Aldridge was in the box for the locals and with the exception of the first and ninth innings when the Oaks score a run in each he had Howard's men ducking around the plate.

The visitors started by scoring a run in the first inning, but the lead was short lived, as the locals made one in the second and stepped out in the lead in the third. Manager Killefer made the game a sure thing for the Angels by hitting his second triple in the fifth inning

KENWORTHY'S BOOT HELPS OAKS TO FIRST RUN.

Bill Kenworthy made the only two errors charged against the Angels, the first one being made in the initial innings with Billy Lane, first at bat for the Oaks, hitting him a bounder. Arlett laid a bunt down to Bates and was out at first, Lane going to second. While was an infield out and then Jack Roche kept up his good hitting work by hitting one to the infield too hot to be handled, Lane scoring.

Holling gifted the Angels with their first run in the second inning Kenworth, started with a triple and when Holling threw wild in trying to pick him off third he scored.

The Oak heaver had his "triple" ball working at its best in the third inning. Aldridge starting with a triple and Manager Killefer following with another to put the Angels three runs to the good. Killefer was unable to score on Fabrique's out, Bates fanned and Crawford left his manager die on third by lifting a fly to Wares

KILLEFER'S SECOND TRIPLE PUTS THIRD RUN ACROSS.

Boles was first to bat for the Angels in the fifth inning, and he singled to center Stumpf handled Aldridge's grounder to force Boles at second. Then came Killefer with his second triple as it chased Aldridge over the platter and Fabrique singled inside to score Killefer with the last of the Angels runs, as Bates singled and Fabrique was out at the plate on Crawford's fielder's choice to Stumpf and Kenworthy forced Bates at third by hitting to Arlett

Jack Roche helped the Oaks to their second run by hitting a double in the ninth inning after one was out. He went to third on Coopers out, and then Aldridge cut loose a wild pitch to let him score Murphy batting for Wares ended the game by grounding to Bates

Bill Lee, the outfielder who was with the Oaks a couple of seasons ago and who went overseas, rejoined the Oaks and was out in uniform yesterday.

LOCAL FANS WILL SEE TIGERS AND SEALS

The Vernon Tigers and the San Francisco Seals, who dished up an eleven inning battle for the Oakland fans last Thursday, will be the attraction at the Oakland park again tomorrow morning at 10.30 o'clock. Another warm contest can be expected and the Oakland rooters will doubtless be out in force to back up Fatty's men in their effort to down the crowd from over the bay.

At the conclusion of this week's series the Oaks come home for a four weeks' stay and they can be counted on to do their best to improve their position in the race during the home stand. They showed by that great nineteen-inning victory over the league-leading Angels that they are full of fight despite the loss of their heavy clouter, Hack Miller, and the addition of Billy Lee should help to keep the boys up on their toes.

OAKS DRAWING RECORD CROWDS IN THE SOUTH

Attendance All Around the Circuit is on the Increase Declare Club Owners

Denying published reports that the Oaks and Angels are not drawing big crowds in the south, J. Cal Ewing, president of the local club stated this morning that last week, when the Oaks and Tigers met was the biggest in Los Angeles since June, 1913, and that the receipts to date in the present Los Angeles-Oakland series are even better than last week. The Oaks will take away the biggest check they ever received when they leave the Cafeteria belt after this week's games

"Howard has waived me that all records have been broken for the past six years," chirped J Cal this morning, "and that the enthusiasm of the southern fans is increasing. With both their clubs up there in the race and the Seraphs leading the parade it is no wonder that the fans are turning out to the games, but I can't imagine how anyone could send out a story about the games not drawing well. It is my business to keep in touch with the business end of the game and I know that we will get the biggest check from Los Angeles this week we ever received in the south."

Jack Cook states that the attendance at Salt Lake is picking up and is almost back on the 1916 basis.

"Red" Held, the umpire, told us yesterday that the Portland fans were turning out in paying numbers despite the lowly position of the Beavers and since Bill Clymer's bunch showed a flash of speed the Seattle folks are jamming the ball yard." The same tale comes from the other cities on the circuit so it looks as though the grand old game had come back with one of the well known "bangs"

BIG REGATTA AT VALLEJO ON THE FOURTH

VALLEJO, June 14.—The members of Vallejo Yachting and Rowing club have already started to work up plans for a monster water carnival to be held in the channel Friday, July 4th. Motorboats and yacht races, swimming events and other aquatic sports are planned, and no doubt the arrangements committee plans a program that will be remembered. Several years ago, the Vallejo Yachting and Rowing club had some fine races the fourth of July and has featured similar events on other annual occasions, so putting over "big" aquatic shows is nothing new to the local club Several cups, trophies and medals will be hung for the winners in all races. Some of the fastest motor speed boats around the lower bay will be entered in the events, according to announcement made today.

MANY LOCAL BUSH TEAMS TO PLAY ON OUT-OF-TOWN LOTS

Entertainment for Local Fans at the Bushrod and San Leandro Ball Parks

By EDDIE MURPHY

Tomorrow is going to be a lonesome day for the local semi-pro baseball fans, even thought games will be played by the Oakland and Alameda Elks at Bushrod playground park and the C. L. Best Tractors at San Leandro will be entertaining the St. Dominics of San Francisco. Otto Dietrich, manager of the Richmond Elks, and Manuel Duarte of the Halton-Didiers of Alameda are both to take their teams out of town for the first time this season, so it looks like the games at the Bushrod and San Leandro parks will be played before big crowds.

DOLAN WILL PITCH

A lot of excitement should be witnessed at the Bushrod diamond when the local and Alameda Elks clash, as it is a game that has long been waited for by both clubs, and is an annual event. The Alameda team has won its first game in the battle for the championship of Elk teams, defeating Woodland last Sunday, so it is up to Gene Grandjean and Billy Osgood to put the locals to a win. Fodder Dolan, who has been pitching fine baseball for the locals, will be in the box, while Tom Birbeck will work for the Alamedans.

GILLESPIE FOR TRACTORS

With Tech high school having the northern California championship cinched, Johnny Gillespie is ready to don a C. L. Best Tractor uniform and shoot them over the rubber against the St. Dominics at San Leandro. Johnny is by far the best young pitcher that can be found in the bushes, and he is bound to be a big drawing card at the San Leandro park as long as he can keep up the good work that he did when pitching Tech to the championship. Walter McCredie of the Portland club has his eye on Johnny, so the kid figures to behave like a big leaguer in the bushes. Louie Larue will do the umpiring, the game to start at 2:45.

RETURN GAME AT CROCKETT

The game at Crockett between the Richmond Elks and Sugarites is a return affair, the Sugarites having come to Richmond a couple of weeks ago to taste a defeat. Tom had his boys out last Sunday for a game with the Moore Shipyard nine, and it resulted in an easy win for his boys. Tom expects his players to make a much better showing this time, and predicts that the Elks will return to Richmond with the short end of the score and a lot of blues. Babe Hollis will pitch for Richmond and Mitchell or Ellison for Crockett.

The San Jose Bears will have another tough game to get rid of by playing the Halton-Didiers of Alameda at the San Jose park. The Bears met their first defeat last Sunday when they hooked up with the Shasta Limiteds, but the San Jose fans are satisfied, as the Bears played some real baseball in taking defeat from the crack colored aggregation. Charley Pruett and Pat Kilhullen will be the Halton-Didier battery, and promise to be an attraction to the San Jose box office.

With them still having to be treated to their first defeat, Joe "Chip" Rodgers will lead his Fruitvale Natives out on the field at San Pablo playground to meet the Berkeley Commercial club at 2:30. Business Manager George Hans and Rodgers believe that the Natives are as good as any amateur team performing around here and are prepared to have them meet all challengers. They will play the Halton-Didiers at Alameda a week from tomorrow, while a date will be arranged with the C. L. Best Tractors for later on.

The Interyard league of the Schaw-Batcher Shipbuilding Company will put on two ball games at San Francisco tomorrow morning At San Mateo the Pipefitters will play the Marine Machinists at 10 o'clock, while at Golden Gate park the Electrical Department will play the Machine Shop.

Members of the Halton-Didier teams and any rooters that care to make the trip to San Jose are requested to be at Twelfth and Clay streets tomorrow morning at 9.45. The trip will be made by auto stage.

The Shipley Construction Company team starts its season tomorrow morning by meeting the Bay View Cubs at Bushrod playground at 9:30.

Eddie Furrier will lead his Crystal Laundry nine to Tracy to play that nine. Al Bonner is pitching for Tracy.

The Kimball Electrics will travel to Richmond and play the Redmen at the Richmond ball park at 2:30.

The Shasta Limiteds will not leave home tomorrow, but will be seen in action at Bay View playground at 2:30, when they meet the North Beach Feds.

Vic Corbett is slated to pitch for the Money Back Smiths when they meet the Brooklyn Natives at Bushrod at 1:30.

Allie Nack to Meet J. Duffy at Auditorium

After watching Allie Nack give Johnny Schauer a fine lacing at Dreamland Rink last night, Tommy Simpson, the little West Oakland matchmaker, thought it a fine drawing card if he could land that boy to box Jimmy Duffy in place of Joe Miller. Tommy again showed that he is out to give the boxing fans the best, by going right to the dressing room and signing Nack to box Duffy next Wednesday night at the local auditorium. Nack has been fighting the best of the four-rounders. He and Jimmy Dundee put up a couple of exciting scraps.

A second match that looks like a main event is Frankie Malone vs. Battling Vierra. Before Frankie went to war he engaged Vierra in several hot scraps at the old West Oakland pavilion. The remainder of the card is as follows:

Eddie Denny vs. Jack Davis.
Eddie Gorman vs. Jimmy Andrews.
Jimmy Marshall vs. Sal Carlo.
Jack Reaves vs. Jimmy Commyns. Reaves is Alex Greggin's coming champion.

Jimmy Rickey, Jerry Lawler's one and only best bet, and who also showed at West Oakland, will meet Goldie Davis, another lad that is returning to the ring after a long absence.

TEARNEY SEES A GREAT FUTURE FOR GAME

CHICAGO, June 14.—Baseball is back. This is official, emanating from no less a person than Al Tearney. Tearney, the original "home rule for minors" advocate and president of an occasional minor league or two, sees a great future for the little fellers. His prediction is based on the success of the Western and Three-Eye leagues this year. He presidents for both.

"Next year there will be minors of all classifications—A, B, C, etc., trolley leagues, overnight and twilight leagues," Tearney said.

"Folks are baseball hungry. Some places they are baseball crazy. Just you watch There'll be professional baseball from one end of the country to the other next year. There would be this year, but it's a trifle late to start.

"All that's needed is a leader.

'Twas Only Natural to Holler "Front"

"What ya mean front? inquired a caddie at the Claremont golf links yesterday when the hotel men were tearing up the turf and generally having a good time.

"I beg your pardon," said a bonifface from the interior, "I meant 'fore.'"

SEALS GET THIRTEEN HITS AND SCORE ONE RUN ON FRIDAY THE THIRTEENTH

Vernon Tigers Get Only Seven Binglers Off of Baum, But They Ring Up Four Tallies

By BOB SHAND

The Seals fattened their batting averages yesterday and can extract what satisfaction they can from this because that is all the good they did for themselves. Maybe they established a P. C. L. record by getting thirteen bingles and scoring but one run, but that kind of a record isn't going to make much of a hit with the guy behind the payroll. Of course, it was Friday, the 13th, and the Seals can alibi themselves on this account. How could they expect to win a ball game after making thirteen hits on Friday, the 13th day of the month? Also it was about the thirteenth terrible exhibition of base-running that the Seals have staged and the season is yet very young. Oh, yes, Vernon won the ball game, 4 to 1.

The men from the south found a lot of stuff they couldn't hit yesterday as the veteran Spider Baum let them down with seven binglers, but it is the runs, not the hits, that count, consequently Baum, who outpitched Dawson throughout, is charged with a defeat while the southern chucker emerged with a victory. Ten Seals died on the paths during the course of the battle for the lack of a pinch hit and incidentally the only pinch hit delivered by the Seals was off the bat of Phillip Koerner, the boy whom they have been panning because he could not drive in runs. Koerner shot a solid double on a line to left field to score the lone Seal tally in the eighth frame. Two infield outs followed and Phil died on the paths.

BOBBY MEUSEL PLAYS THIRD FOR TIGERS.

The first two Tiger runs came with two down. Bobby Meusel, who has been released from the navy, stepped back into spangles and played third base. Bobby is a good outfielder and a fair first baseman, but there are a lot of things about playing third that he has yet to learn. However, the way Beck and Hosp have been going, Manager Essick figured that Bobby couldn't do any worse — and he didn't. Anyhow, Meusel is valuable for his hitting and he started the Tiger's first run on its way by biting off a single in the opening inning. Then he was credited with a steal of second because Red McKee made a rotten throw. Borton bingled to bring Bobby home. In the second frame, De Vormer pickled one into the left field bleachers with none ahead of him on the paths. It was some healthy wallop. Borton's double and a pair of outs scored the third Tiger tally in the fourth. Meusel got a two base hit in the sixth, advanced on Borton's sacrifice and pulled a double steal with Hughie High after the latter had drawn a walk.

The Seals wasted a pair of blows in the first frame. Schick singled and tried to go to third, on Caveney's wallop to right. He was thrown out.

Connoly got a hit in the second and Kamm fanned to end the session.

McKee singled and Baum sacrificed in the third, but when Fitzgerald singled McKee was caught sound asleep off the second bag. Schick singled and was out stealing. Three more perfectly good hits wasted.

Crandall doubled with one down in the fourth but still he did not score. Koerner walked and was forced by Connoly and Kamm popped to third.

Two were gone in the seventh when Baum and Fitz got blows, but Fitz was forced by Schick. Two more wallops wasted.

Caveney's single and Koerner's double were used to make a run with in the eighth, but a single by McKee in the ninth meant nothing at all to the Seals when the next three failed to get the ball out of the infield.

Willie Kamm has a habit of making a spectacular play on the first man up in the first inning. Mitchell was the victim yesterday, Willie running almost to second to grab a hot drive.

With Seals on first and second in the fourth inning Bobby Meusel pulled a fine boner. Joe Connoly rolled out to Meusel and he threw to second when a double play stared him in the face.

Fitzgerald did something in the sixth inning that seems unbelievable, but believe it or not he actually threw from deep right to the plate. It was the first time Fitz has been known to throw that far or even attempt such a lengthy toss.

Meusel was on third when Eddington lined to Fitz and Bobby started to meander home thinking that Fitz would never attempt the throw He beat it back in a hurry when the ball came within six feet of the plate.

Thursday Fitz threw a man out at first. The old arm must be getting well again. For the sake of the Seals it is to be hoped that Fitzgerald does not toss many more to the plate. He will be in the big leagues so fast it will take an airship to carry him. Outside of the supposedly "dead" arm the San Mateo carpenter is a big leaguer for fair.

Chet Chadbourne robbed Willie Kamm of a two bagger in the seventh when he nailed the drive after a long run Willie galloped to second and could hardly believe that Chad had made the catch.

The Tigers swiped four bases on McKee and the red top was lucky they did not take his mask.

With Red Held, the umpire and Red McKee working at the plate it looked like sunset in the middle of the afternoon.

Caveney and Schick were thrown out trying to steal on De Vormer. Not a single Seal was credited with a swipe.

Phil Koerner got a double, single and a walk in four times up.

Spider Baum does not believe in sliding. The veteran pitcher walked into third base in the seventh when a slide would have landed him safely.

Ah Sapp, the ardent rooter, pulled for the Seals, Tuesday. Wednesday he yelled for Vernon to win Thursday and yesterday he could not make up his mind which club to support so he remained away from the ball yard.

Borton and Meusel manufactured two base hits and both scored.

A thousand kids in the left field bleachers pulled hard for the Seals but it was no use.

Winning Streak of Alameda Grays Ends

The Bernal Seals administered a 5 to 1 beating to the Alameda Grays at Lincoln park Sunday, thereby breaking a winning streak of ten games by the fast Alamedans.

Brodius, who did the pitching honors for the winners, was in rare form, fanning sixteen and allowing only three scattered hits. The Seals got off to a four-run lead and were never headed. The Grays kept plugging along and almost pulled the game out of the fire in the eighth inning, when Bruzzone tripled, scoring two ahead of him, but Brodius got down to work and fanned the next two batters.

Klein, who relieved Daly in the seventh frame, struck out five of the six men who faced him The score:

Gossip for Baseball Fans

Jack Bromley and Harry Gardner were the pitchers used by Manager Bill Rodgers of the Sacramento club to stop the upward climb of the Seattle Purple Sox. After dropping three straight games to the Sox the Sacramento bunch put over a 6 to 4 win.

Jack Bromley was first to pitch for the Coyotes and going into the seventh inning he was favored with a 6 to 2 lead, but he weakened in that frame and had to give way to Gardner The Sox threatened to pull the game out of the fire in that inning, but there was one out at the time, so Harry Gardner did some real pitching and the rally netted two runs, the same number short of tying the score

Thomas pitching for Seattle, lasted four innings and was nicked for nine hits Manager Bruner then discovering that it was time to send Regan to his relief. Regan managed to last two innings in which time a run and three hits were garnered off him Bigbee went in to pitch and his good work was wasted, as the Coyotes already had the game pickled.

Harry Wolter led in the batting by getting a double and two singles Pinelli, Middleton, Eldred and Orr hit two each for Sacramento

Bill Cunningham was the only one of the Seattle players to get more than one hit. He hit two singles

Marty McGaffigan had a wonderful fielding day at short for Sacramento, handling nine chances without a miscue.

Herb Murphy, who started the season as captain and third baseman for the Sox, appeared in the lineup for the first time in a couple of weeks He served as a pinch hitter and failed to deliver.

Both teams were playing the game to win, as the box score shows that eight sacrifice hits were made between them. Wolter and Knight made two each.

Two fast double plays, Bromley to Murray to Griggs, and McGaffigan to Orr to Griggs, helped save the day a couple of times for Sacramento.

Jack Bromley gets credit for the Coyote win while Thomas gets charged with the defeat.

Bobby Meusel showed yesterday that without him in the lineup the Tigers look like they are missing a number of their claws. Bobby sure makes a big difference in that club He only hit a double, single, stole two bases and scored a pair of runs He may look awkward around the third sack but he sure makes the shoots of some pitchers look sick and easily makes up for what faults he might make at the third corner.

Del Howard is sure fortunate in having the outfielders that he has. Sure looks like a tough job for Bills Lee to break into the game as long as Guy Cooper is hitting the ball like he is. Cooper has played in ten games for the Oaks and in only one did he fail to connect for a hit. That was last Sunday morning at Vernon when Wheezer Dell turned him back from the plate hitless in four attempts. He has been at bat 42 times and cracked out 13 hits for a .309 average. He scored six runs and drove in a good many, while two of his hits went for triples and two for doubles. There is not a chance of Billy Lane or Denny Willie being crowded out, so Billy Lee will have to sit around and wait his chance.

Can you imagine three fast fellows like Fitzgerald, Schick and Caveney, the three top men in the Seals' lineup, getting a couple of hits each and Caveney being the only one to score a run? Those hits will loom up fine in the batting averages, but what good will that do Manager Graham? Also Red McKee and Phil Koerner hit a couple of safe ones and failed to score.

Roxey Middleton may act old, but he sure makes a lot of these young fellows in the Coast League look slow by the way he is scoring runs for Sacramento. In four trips to the plate for Sacramento in yesterday's game he scored three runs and got a pair of hits.

Some players might envy Manager Red Killefer of the Angels for having himself at the top of the batting order, but Red sure belongs there as long as he can hit them as he did the last couple of games. Two triples and a single is what he found Carl Hollings for yesterday.

The game at Portland was scheduled to start at 4:45 because of the Rose Festival, but along about that time the drop festival came into prominence, drops of rain making it necessary to call the game off altogether. So the Salt Lake Bees might have found time to get into conference and discover a way to keep the Beavers from winning.

STRENUOUS TRAINING STUNTS ARE YET AHEAD OF DEMPSEY

By ED W. SMITH

TOLEDO, Ohio, June 14.—Jack Kearns, manager of Jack Dempsey, announced from the camp of the challenger that the crucial training period of his fighting man in preparation for a shot at Jess Willard, July 4, really begins on June 20 and runs through to June 30. What has already transpired in the way of training has only been preliminary detail. The real tough grind is yet to come and when it once starts there will be no rest for either the wicked or sinless in the Dempsey camp. With that intention Kearns is speeding up the Jamaica Kid and Big Bill Tate and getting them ready. Road work and other training stunts are listed in their category, as Kearns insists they must be at their best to put Dempsey over the hurdles.

Aside from the reliable blacks there will be a whole army of other sparring partners in the Dempsey camp

Jack Geyer, who flourished as a heavyweight possibility some years ago and whose home is in Columbus, Ohio, is herded in this general direction and will be given a chance. Martin Burke is another, as well as Billy Miske, Jock Malone and a number of other volunteers who want to lend their efforts in the hope that the heavyweight championship title will change hands on the Fourth.

DEMPSEY FAMILY TO LEND MORAL SUPPORT.

Aside from this array of punch exchangers who will be on the ground, all the Dempseys who are related to the challenger are coming on to give their moral support to their family candidate Brother John, two years older than Jack a man of 25, is here already and will stay over to see his kid brother carry the family colors into the ring. John is somewhat of a fight pug himself and, although he never fought professionally, knows how to handle his dukes. His home is in Salt Lake City, where he is a foreman in a mine

Among other Dempseys are those of Logan, West Virginia, where the challenger was born, and these have wired their intention of being at the ringside. It looks like a big day for the Dempseys in Toledo and there will be a wonderful irish party if Jack's hand is hoisted by the mysterious man who is going to be third man in the ring

The champion keeps up his merry pace of training under the most trying conditions His work yesterday was of the severest type and he appeared to stand up well under the terrific heat. It looks like Willard is down to regular work He has discarded the regular gymnasium tights for the short trunks, the same in which he will be clad when the bell is sounded for the big test.

WILLARD IS LOSING SOME WAIST-LINE.

Monahan and Hemple are doing the same thing and it leaves all the men concerned more exposed to the heat conditions which will doubtless prevail at the time of the big quarrel. Working in those long tights he proved similar to a Turkish bath, for when the champion finished work in his pretty blue Jers

INDUSTRIAL NEWS EAST AND WEST : : SHIPPING : : DAY'S EVENTS IN WORLD OF FINANCE

Finance and Business Are Cheerful; Protection Factor

ACTIVITY GREAT IN NEW INDUSTRY AND TRADE LINES

Developments during the past 30 days have served to dispel all doubts that the revival of industry is well under way, according to the monthly review of business by the National Bank of the Republic of Chicago.

"As might be expected," the review says, "the renewal of activity is most marked in those industries which had borne the brunt of wartime privation, such as the automobile, jewelry and other industries once classed as non-essential; while those which had been fully mobilized for war purposes, as iron and steel and copper mining, have been slower to complete the readjustment."

Further the bulletin deals with the subject thus:

"In the field of new enterprise great activity prevails and plans for taking advantage of the expected era of prosperity are being rapidly brought to maturity, although promotions of companies which have to do with immediate opportunities, such as oil development and foreign trade, are the most conspicuous.

BUSINESS OPTIMISTIC

"The peace treaty and the convening of Congress are the two outstanding factors of the present outlook. While the former is of influence chiefly in that it will clarify the foreign trade situation and will remove the restrictions on the free movement of goods in foreign trade channels, the latter is of importance in that it signifies the advent of constructive peace-time legislation. The necessity of rehabilitating the railroads and of restoring them to their owners is too well understood to require comment.

"The repeal of the so-called luxury taxes, on the grounds that they are discriminatory, that they are essentially a war measure, and that they impose a large expense on the public in their collection, is also a foregone conclusion.

"Most important of all, however, is that the new Congress will take steps to alter our present tariff laws to protect the numerous new industries which have sprung up during the war and which, in their present stage of development are all prepared to withstand organized foreign competition.

RURAL LABOR SHORTAGE

"Although much has been said about unemployment, the condition is by no means widespread or uniform. Demobilization has added to the ranks of the unemployed in the larger cities, while the contraction of activity in certain basic industries like iron and steel, copper mining and coal mining has caused considerable idleness. On the other hand, the farms are poorly manned to take care of this year's harvests, and not a few industries, to mention automobiles and jewelry again, are experiencing a large and growing shortage of labor.

"It is apparent that the total of unemployment is rapidly becoming smaller rather than larger. Indeed the steady absorbtion of unemployed into other pursuits, coupled with official reports of the large number of aliens who have declared their intention to return home, is ground for the belief that with the full recovery of industry labor shortage will again be a pressing problem.

DISTRIBUTION FAULTY

"It is not altogether certain that an equable distribution of our present labor forces would not even now disclose a nearly even balance between labor supply and demand. Faulty distribution may thus explain the anomaly of the appearance of the reports of idleness alongside those of strikes and increased wage awards."

With reference to foreign trade, the bulletin says:

"The record of foreign trade in April disclosed a further great expansion of exports. It is significant that export records for a single month have twice been broken since the first of the year, and after all traffic in war materials had ceased.

"While the enormous expansion to $715,000,000 in April was undoubtedly caused in large part by the heavy outflow of wheat, flour and other food materials at high prices, the known needs of foreign countries for raw materials and machinery give promise of the continuance of high export totals for a long time to come.

MONEY EXCHANGE BAD

"The drastic declines in the rates of exchange on England, France and Italy, however, emphasize the pressing need of a definite policy of credit extension to those countries, which are at present condemned to pay a premium on their purchases from us of from 5 per cent, in the case of England, to more than 50 per cent, as in the case of Italy, and this simply because of the disparity of the exchanges.

"This adverse drift of exchange in itself handicaps the buying of those countries from us, and if protracted will undoubtedly bring about a further curtailment of purchases. While there is as yet no inkling of the exact plan which is now being worked out for financing European trade with us and for restoring the equilibrium of the exchanges, it is evident that we are about toassume a new measure of responsibility in international finance and to enter upon a new phase in our remarkable financial development."

NEW CAPITAL FOR EXPORTS NEEDED

WASHINGTON, June 14. — More than $3,000,000,000 of new funds must be provided by private initiative in the next few months, if the United States is to continue its export trade at the present high level, it was estimated by the Federal Reserve Board in the June issue of the Federal Reserve Bulletin.

Cognizance was taken of the doubt expressed by some experts that the existing level can be maintained without serious financial strain.

With the supply of capital short of world requirements, additional long term credits to Europe would deprive this country of needed money, while failure to extend credit might result in shortened industry, and also retard Europe's economic recovery, which is regarded as necessary to the re-establishment of normal conditions everywhere.

One essential in the solution yet to be worked out, is believed to be continued saving by the American people, to increase available capital.

Europe will owe the United States, this year, a balance of trade of at at least $3,000,000,000.

Interest and other returns on American holdings of foreign securities are estimated by the Federal Reserve Board to be not much below $600,000,000 annually, while foreign obligations maturing this year, will amount to between 600,000,000 and $750,000,000.

The treasury's advances to foreign countries have been limited to $10,000,000,000, of which $9,500,000,000 has been expended, and most of the remaining $500,000,000 allocated.

An export credit of $1,000,000,000 may be made available through the War Finance Corporation, the director of which, Eugene Meyer Jr., is in Europe, studying the economic situation.

Accordingly, it is estimated that means must be found to finance about $3,600,000,000 of new obligations, and to renew perhaps $600,000,000 of old ones—"a gigantic, probably an unprecedented, financial problem," the board remarks, but one expected to be solved.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 14.—The bank clearings for today were $19,854,847.92.

Bank Reserve is Relow Requirements

NEW YORK, June 14.—The actual condition of clearing house banks and trust companies for the week shows that the reserve held is $656,050 below legal requirements. This is a decrease of $38,111,210 from last week.

STOCK-BOND EXCHANGE

SAN FRANCISCO, June 14.—Oil shares monopolized the trading again today. The closing session for the week found all the issues at a lower level. Associated has lost over $2 per share, with the closing today at $89½. General Petroleum common eased off to $151½. Union Oil closed at $147½. There were no sales of Northern California Power, but the closing was firm and higher at $32⅜ bid. Pacific Gas common jumped to $63¼. Both of these issues were extremely firm with few holders willing to sell at present values, preferring to wait until the consolidation, which is expected will be completed today, whereby the Pacific Gas and Electric will obtain control of all the Northern California Power property. There was considerable activity on the sugar issues, which made substantial gains.

San Francisco Exchange

Oil — Mining

SAN FRANCISCO, June 14.—Following a firm opening on the local mining shares exchange this morning, the Gold Mountain list developed unsteadiness when a few of the leading favorites checked the declining movement. Divide Extension rose from $1.75 to $1.90, but sold back immediately, and Dividend, after selling from 75 to 82 cents, dropped sharply to 71 cents. Myra was active and a little higher, but Rosetta lost five points after giving promise of maintaining the upward swing instituted at the beginning of the session. Tonopah Divide was unsold, while Brougher recovered four points which were lost in the initial transaction. Among the West Tonopahs, Midway, Rescue and West End sold at steady figures. Comstocks continued quiet and Goldfields were moderately active with but little change.

LEONA ACRES

HALF ACRES

$400

To meet the demand for Acres in our Leona Heights properties, we placed a subdivision on the market; this subdivision is now entirely sold with the exception of three and one-half acre pieces.

To meet this increasing demand for Acres and One-half Acres in Leona, we have subdivided additional property which will be ready for sale

SATURDAY, JUNE 14TH.

This new subdivision is small, containing approximately 15 choice pieces right next to property just sold. Included in cost of land are graded streets, water, electric lights and telephones. The Leona car line which connects with Key Route trains every 20 minutes, runs right to the property.

The rapidity with which the last subdivision sold speaks for the excellent quality of the land and the low price at which it is being sold.

Come out this SATURDAY or SUNDAY; next week will be too late.

8-HOUR DAYS DEMANDED BY FRUIT PICKERS

SAN JOSE, June 14.—Farmers of the Santa Clara valley meet here tonight to determine the wage scale to be paid fruit workers for the coming season. A strong diversity of opinion existing among the ranchers forecasts a bitter meeting.

The Toilers of the World, an organization of 5000 fruit workers, has served notice that its membership will refuse to go to work unless granted an eight-hour day at 35 cents per hour. Ranchers are willing to meet the wage demand but declare they cannot concede to the request for an eight-hour day due to the perishable nature of the fruit.

Some growers and packers are advocating an alternative scheme of a ten-hour day at 45 cents per hour, but the workers are holding fast to their plea for eight-hour days.

Auto Owners Urged to Help Traffic Squads

FRESNO, June 14.—The California Traffic Officers' two-day convention to discuss the vehicle act, effective July 22, closed with a banquet given by the Fresno Chamber of Commerce and Automobile Association of Southern California. The principal speakers were Assemblyman F. L. Elsward, Lieutenant Daniel Sylvester, commander of the San Francisco traffic squad; W. B. Fawcett, representing the insurance conference of California, and L. A. Nares of the Fresno Chamber of Commerce, who urged cooperation between the traffic officers and motor car owners. Elsward described those sections of the new law that are framed to put an end to theft of automobiles all over the state.

Counterfeiting Plot at Prison is Denied

LEAVENWORTH, Kas., June 14.—Colonel J. B. Allison, acting commandant of the United States disciplinary barracks at Fort Leavenworth during the absence of Colonel Sedgwick Rice, commandant, stated today that he had no knowledge whatsoever of the alleged counterfeiting scheme at the barracks which federal authorities had unearthed, implicating a number of prisoners at the barracks.

Colonel Allison said he had not been informed of any investigation going on at the prison, that he had received no notice or statement from department of justice operatives, no warrants for arrest of prisoners and that he was holding no one for the civil authorities.

Returns With Key, Nabbed as Burglar

Looking for his former lodging to return a key was the cause of trouble for Tony Costa, 1822 Sixth street, West Berkeley, who was brought to the city prison as a burglar suspect after being badly beaten over the head with a broomstick in the hands of James Gulocci, 735 Sixth street, Oakland.

Gulocci says he heard someone prowling about his premises, found Costa, took him for a burglar, beat him and called the police.

Costa said he used to live where Gulocci lives now, and had come to Oakland to return a key to the place. He had become confused, he said, in the early morning hours, and went around the back way. The police are investigating.

Berkeleyans Depart for Rotary Rally

BERKELEY, June 14 — Twelve Berkeleyans were passengers this morning on the Southern Pacific special leaving from Oakland pier which is carrying delegates to the international convention of Rotary Clubs, which opens in Salt Lake Monday.

The party was headed by Neil Munro, retiring president of the Berkeley Rotary Club, and Mrs. Munro, while others making the trip are Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Driver, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dunscomb, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Rygel, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Hink, W. H. Krahn and George Schneider.

2 Youths Accused of Stealing Whisky

Jim Thompson and Harry Earl face petty larceny charges. If they should be arrested after July 1 for the same thing, the police say it might almost be grand larceny. They are accused of stealing a bottle of whisky.

According to the police the youths were arrested after they had been interrupted by a bartender in a San Pablo avenue saloon while making away with the bottle. The value of the whisky was set at $2.50.

"After July 1 that bottle might be worth $50," said the bartender. "It might be worse than robbing a bank!"

East Interested in League, Says Pastor

Rev. Frank M. Sisley, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, has returned from a visit in the east, during which he attended the general assembly of the Presbyterian church at St. Louis, Mo.

"Johnson, Vandertip and Taft seem to be the leaders in the race for presidential nomination by Republicans in the east while the Democrats seem to be waiting for Wilson's return," Rev. Sisley said.

According to Sisley, the east is showing considerable interest in the proposed league of nations.

Telegraph Operator Beaten by Striker

CASPER, Wyo., June 14.—Hyman Siegel, a telegrapher sent here from Denver to take the place of striking operators in the local office of the Western Union Telegraph Company, is in the hospital here with a badly lacerated scalp, the result of an assault alleged to have been made upon him in the office yesterday afternoon. E. K. Mancke, former chief operator of the Western Union here, is charged with the assault in a complaint filed at the sheriff's office. Mancke has not been apprehended.

JOB PROMISED DAY BEFORE SUICIDE

Heroic efforts of the Receiving Hospital staff have resulted in the prospective recovery of Mrs. Mary Foster, who joined her husband, W. H. Foster, in a suicide pact in their room in the home of Mrs. M. Frisbie, 1532 Market street Thursday night, when they sealed the door and windows and turned on the gas. After more than twenty-four hours' treatment during which time oxygen has been administered in great quantities, the hospital physicians were hopeful today that the aged woman will survive. Her husband's body is now at the morgue.

Mrs. Foster was visited often yesterday and last night by her two daughters, who expressed the belief that the father did not join in the pact, but that the gas was turned on by Mrs. Foster, who was ill and despondent because they were without employment or income. The daughters said that on the night before the tragedy their father was cheerful in the prospect of early employment, his daily search for work having that day been rewarded by a promise that he could soon have a place. The old folks and the two daughters came to Oakland only a few weeks ago in the hope that the climate would benefit the health of Mrs. Foster, who had been ill for a number of years.

2 DIE, 2 HURT IN AUTO PLUNGE

EUREKA, June 14.—Two persons were killed, two injured, probably fatally, and another is missing, as the result of an automobile accident last night near Crescent City, Del Norte county, ninety-three miles north of Eureka.

The dead are Mr. and Mrs. Alley, Santa Barbara.

The injured: H. H. Gardner, Santa Barbara; Mrs. G. Stockton, address unknown.

From all indications the automobile in going down a steep grade struck a log and swerved over and down the bank.

SANTA BARBARA, June 14.—William H. Alley, who, with his wife, was killed in an automobile accident near Eureka last night, was a wealthy resident of the fashionable Montecito suburb to Santa Barbara. He had made his residence here and in Chicago for twelve years. Alley was chairman of the local exemption board, serving throughout the war, and has been active here in work of philanthrophy. Mrs. Hatty G. Stockton, who was injured, is Alley's sister.

Coal Prices May Go Up, Says Garfield

TACOMA, Wash., June 14.—The price of coal will not go lower and it may go up, declared Dr. Harry A. Garfield, former government fuel administrator, who is in Tacoma on his return from a trip to Mount Tacoma.

"When the armistice was signed," he said, "people everywhere began to use the supplies they had stored for the winter, failing to replenish their stock as the winter progressed. Bad labor conditions were the result. The market fell, mines were forced to close because there was not enough demand to keep them operating.

"Now, with need for winter supplies of coal, there is a shortage of mine labor everywhere."

Judges Are Named for Pacific Flight

LOS ANGELES, June 14.—Colonel William Thaw, Commander W. E. Spencer of the navy aviation service, and Colonel A. J. Hanlon, commander of the army aviation school at North Island, have been selected as judges in the proposed trans-Pacific flight, for which Thomas Ince, motion picture magnate, has offered $50,000. The conditions provide for a flight to Australia from a Pacific coast point.

BOHEMIAN JINKS BEGIN TONIGHT

In the Bohemian grove on the Russian river the members of the Bohemian club of San Francisco will open their midsummer high jinks tonight with a big dinner. Following the dinner, which will be served at 7 o'clock, there will be an informal program around the camp fire and the fortnight's frolic, famed in club circles in all parts of the country, will be under way.

With the prospect of this being the last year when "the cup of cheer" will be in evidence, one of the members of the club yesterday referred to the occasion as "joyous melancholy."

Precedent is broken this year by holding the midsummer outing earlier than July, but the Bohemians say they were reluctant to extend the 1919 jinks beyond a certain epoch dating from midnight of June 30.

Daily trains to Bohemia at 8:45 a. m. and 2:45 p. m., with extra trains Sundays at 6:45 a. m., will carry the pilgrims to the grove. Beginning today, a week is afforded for recreation according to individual tastes, and tents will take on a homelike atmosphere when the windup week starts next Saturday with a dinner at 7 p. m., when the traditional "cremation of care" will be solemnized, followed by low jinks in "field circle."

Sunday, June 22, there will be a trap shooting tournament with a band concert at 11 a. m. Friday, June 27, the gala feast known as the grove dinner, will be served, followed by the Friday night camp fire entertainment.

The grove play, written this year by Harry Leon Wilson, will be enacted Saturday, June 28. Next day comes the Sunday morning concert and at 2 o'clock in the afternoon the special train will start for San Francisco with the members and guests.

Old Law Benefits Extended Students

SACRAMENTO, June 14.—Persons within the jurisdiction of the Third District Court of Appeal who have been preparing themselves for the practice of law in California will be given an opportunity to take examinations before the new law affecting applicants for admission to the bar becomes effective, July 22, it was announced today. The court announced that examinations for applicants would be held here July 1. This is three months earlier than the examinations were to have been held.

A bill passed by the forty-third legislature and signed by the governor creates a commission of three attorneys appointed by the State Supreme Court to conduct the examinations of applicants for admission to the bar. It also requires that three years be devoted to the study of law.

Widow Tells How Hero Won War Cross

BAKERSFIELD, June 14.—Harold Brown, awarded the distinguished service cross in Washington yesterday for extraordinary heroism in action, was killed October 4, 1918, near Charlevaux, France, when the first and second battalion, of which he was a member, were surrounded by the enemy in the forest of the Argonne, according to citations made public by his wife, Mrs. Grace Gray Brown, here today.

Brown volunteered to go out on patrol to establish liason between Company D and the forward troops. He was killed in an attempt to reach the forward battalions. Brown entered the service in October, 1917. His mother and father, Mrs. H. H. Brown, his wife and a daughter born shortly before he left for war survive him here.

ANNOUNCEMENT

The increased cost of every material that enters into the production of a metropolitan newspaper finally has made it impossible to maintain the five-cent price for the big Sunday productions.

Beginning with next Sunday's issue, June 15th, the retail price of The OAKLAND TRIBUNE and the San Francisco Examiner and the San Francisco Chronicle will be ten cents per copy everywhere.

Beginning the same day, the retail price of the Los Angeles Times and the Los Angeles Examiner on Sunday will be ten cents per copy everywhere.

Newspaper readers have become accustomed to a Sunday issue that surpasses even the twenty-five cent magazines in entertaining and instructive features. Publishers have continued to provide this service at a steadily increased loss. The actual cost of the white paper alone has been in excess of the price to the purchaser.

San Francisco and Oakland are practically the last big cities to yield to this burden of cost. While the newspapers of New York, Chicago, St. Louis, Cleveland, Los Angeles, Portland and Seattle have gradually raised the price of their Sunday paper to meet the extraordinary increase in the cost of production, the San Francisco and Oakland Sunday papers have remained the same.

The hope that cost prices in the production of newspapers might recede has not been realized. The load has become too heavy and it is necessary to make this advance now in order to maintain quality and volume and reduce the publishing loss to a reasonable minimum.

The papers want it distinctly understood that in making the price ten cents for the Sunday paper there is no increase in the monthly subscription price for daily papers which are now delivered to regular subscribers and which also includes the large and expensive Sunday edition. This price of ten cents a copy is only for single copies of Sunday papers bought from newsboys, or at the news stands, or Sunday editions alone delivered by carrier.

The newspapers ask their patrons and friends to remember that in bearing the nominal increase of five cents on their Sunday paper they are aiding the paper to secure a portion only of the greatly increased cost of material and labor.

SAN FRANCISCO CHRONICLE

TO
The Shipbuilders and Metal Workers of San Francisco Bay District

In Letter No. 28, published May 24, announcement was made that the shipyards, further to promote a better understanding between employer and employee, had decided to publish a monthly magazine.

The magazine will be called "THE CALIFORNIA SHIPBUILDER."

The first number is now on the ways and will be ready for launching soon.

The affairs and interests of the shipbuilding community of the San Francisco bay district, with its 50,000 workers and annual payroll of more than $60,000,000, are sufficiently important to justify the maintenance of a paper of its own.

"THE CALIFORNIA SHIPBUILDER" will be the paper of everybody connected with the industry. To maintain it exclusively at our expense might retard if not defeat the purpose to which it is dedicated. THIS IS WHY WE HAVE DECIDED TO MAKE THE MAGAZINE WHAT EVERY GOOD AMERICAN INSTITUTION SHOULD BE—SELF-SUPPORTING. To do this we have opened its pages to advertising.

The prosperity—even the continuance—of the shipbuilding industry in this district depends on the establishment and maintenance of greater co-operation between employer and employee.

It is to this task that "THE CALIFORNIA SHIPBUILDER" is dedicated.

In the permanence and prosperity of the shipbuilding industry every merchant, professional man, banker, manufacturer and property owner is immediately and vitally interested.

The shipyard payroll of $60,000,000 a year, distributed weekly in cash installments, constitutes to a large extent the very life of the community's prosperity.

"THE CALIFORNIA SHIPBUILDER," by opening its columns to advertising, will give those who benefit by the shipbuilding industry an opportunity to contribute toward the work of bringing about a better understanding and a chance, once a month, to talk directly to their best cash customers.

The new magazine will be broad in its appeal, and suggestions are invited that will show us how its scope can be widened.

In addition to authoritative articles on subjects of special interest to all connected with the industry, "THE CALIFORNIA SHIPBUILDER" will have as regular special features:

A Technical Department;
A Labor Department;
A Home Department;
A Sporting Section;
An Open Forum;
University Extension Division.

"THE CALIFORNIA SHIPBUILDER" has opened offices at 631 Monadnock building, and communications addressed to the editor at that address will receive prompt attention.

COMING OF DRY SPELL THEME OF HOTEL MEN

Concluding with a banquet, the eighth annual convention of California State Hotel Association last night passed into history at Hotel Oakland. The convention was marked by the vast amount of work accomplished and the good time enjoyed in Oakland by the delegates.

Many delegates remained for the added events. Today they crossed the bay. Leaving the St. Francis hotel at 12:30, the party went to the beach. In the afternoon another party was entertained at Tait's The Bellview hotel, San Francisco, will entertain the visitors tonight with a program of surprises. A '49'er camp is the big feature.

One of the anticipated features of the program is the scheduled trip to Yosemite valley. The visitors leave tomorrow noon, some making the trip by motor via Merced, and the rest going through Modesto. The hotelmen will leave at will from the valley.

Victors in the big golf tourney yesterday at Claremont Country club were awarded the prizes last night. Vernon Goodwin, Los Angeles, with a score of 72 net, won the artistic punch bowl. A. W. Thompson, runner-up, received the loving cup. In the sweepstakes, H. S. Ward, San Francisco, and William Watson, San Jose, tied. A. W. Townsend was third and S. F. McFarland, Los Angeles, was fourth.

Vernon Goodwin was a witty toastmaster at the banquet. Senator Rockwell, by vociferous acclamation, was the best speaker. His talk was confined to the sorrows of the onrushing arid spell. The parched throat theme was all that was given consideration at the feast. Other mourners were Henry Barker of Key Route Inn, and H. C. Capwell, president of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce. Senators Arthur Breed and Dwight H. Hart were present, but did not speak.

The California State Hotel Association will hold its next convention at Pasadena.

PUMPING PLANT MEN QUIT.

PHOENIX, Ariz., June 14.—Operators of the twenty-two pumping plants of the 9000-acre cotton fields of the Goodyear section of the Southwest Cotton Company struck yesterday in sympathy with the linemen and power plant operators who walked out at Roosevelt dam last Saturday.

"City of Berkeley," Honor Ship, Slids Into Sea Amid Cheers

Residents of the College City Town Out in Force for Impressive Ceremony.

TRIBUNE BUREAU
2011 SHATTUCK AVE.

BERKELEY, June 14. — With flags flying, bands playing and hundreds of residents of the college city cheering as the big freighter left the ways, the steamship City of Berkeley, named for the university community as a result of patriotic achievements in the fourth Liberty loan drive, was launched this afternoon at the shipyards of the Union Construction company.

"I christen thee, City of Berkeley" were the words of Miss Berkeley Howell, fair sponsor of the ship, as she broke a ribbon-bedecked bottle across the bow of the vessel.

Only a group of workmen were on board the ship as it slid down the ways into the bay. On the shore Berkeleyans cheered lustily as the ship bearing the name of their home city took the water.

E. F. Loudeck, head of the committee in charge of the launching, presided at the ceremonies. He congratulated the people of Berkeley on the splendid record of the community in carrying on all the patriotic work made necessary by the war.

FARNSWORTH SPEAKS.

As representative of the Northern California Liberty loan district, C. A. Farnsworth of the Federal Reserve bank extended congratulations to the residents of Berkeley on the achievement which culminated in today's launching.

MAYOR IRVING INTRODUCED.

Mayor Samuel C. Irving was introduced by Loudeck as the official representative of the municipal government of Berkeley. In a happy response to the message of Farnsworth the mayor said:

"It is an honor to represent the fair city of Berkeley on any occasion, but it is especially gratifying to be spokesman for our cherished city at an event of this kind, when the civic pride of a community may properly be indulged.

"You have heard the words of commendation bestowed on our well loved city, and we may well rejoice that these words are true. The figures quoted speak for themselves. No words could be more eloquent than these simple facts. Our people are loyal to the core. They have kept the faith. They have sacrificed cheerfully and have filled every obligation that was laid on them by the requirements of our country in the great world war.

"Again let me say that we are all proud of our own city of Berkeley, and we are proud of this fine steamship that in our honor has been named 'The City of Berkeley.'"

SPONSOR PRESENTED.

To the mayor fell the duty of introducing the fair sponsor of the ship and Miss Howell concluded the ceremonies by breaking the traditional bottle over the bow of the vessel.

Following the exercises members of the official committee were guests of the Union Construction company in the directors' room, where Miss Howell presented the officials with a silver plate bearing the name "City of Berkeley," to be placed on the vessel when completed. Purchase of the plate was provided by city funds. In accepting the gift the directors in turn made Miss Howell the recipient of a handsome jeweled pin as a memento of the occasion.

Today's launching ceremonies were preceded by a luncheon at the Hotel Shattuck, attended by members of the launching committee, city officials and others, about sixty in number.

Special trains today carried hundreds of Berkeleyans to the scene of the launching.

MISS BERKELEY HOWELL.

4 Oakland Delegates to Moose Convention

Four delegates will represent Oakland lodge of Moose at the national convention of the order, which will be held at Mooseheart, Illinois, beginning June 22. The delegates will be Past Dictator A. C. Swalley, A. Vander Naillen Jr., grand regent of Moosheart Legion; E. Barkan and W. J. Hamilton, secretary of the lodge. They will leave Oakland tomorrow morning and will return July 1.

Zeb Knott of Richmond will accompany the Oakland delegation, which is the largest ever to be sent to a supreme convention from this city.

Plans are being completed for the ladies' night, which will be held in the clubrooms, Friday evening, June 20.

COBURN STEPSON FREED OF GUARD

REDWOOD CITY, June 14—Some one other than the imbecile stepson, Wallace Coburn, wielded the club with which Mrs. Sara Satira Coburn, wealthy widow of the late Loren Coburn, was killed at her Pescadero home two weeks ago, in the opinion of District Attorney Franklin Swart, who has ordered that the guard be removed from the Gardner Sanitarium, where Coburn has been confined. He will remain at the sanitarium, but not under restraint.

Nothing intelligible has been secured from him to indicate how his step-mother came to her death, and the authorities are convinced that he knew nothing of the matter until he awoke in the morning and went to her room to call her. When the murder was discovered Wallace Coburn was standing over the body calling, "Wake up, sweetheart."

THROAT SLASHED IN RAZOR ASSAULT

Deputy Sheriffs Joe Soares and Bert Brown are looking for Antone Cortez, wanted for assaulting Manuel Avallo, a fellow workman, at the State highway construction camp, near Mission San Jose, last night. Avallo's throat was slashed with a razor and his leg was all but amputated. The assailant fled and his victim was taken to the county hospital. So far no motive for the assault has been disclosed.

LIFE SECRET IS BARED IN AGNEW PROBE

AGNEW, June 14.—Evidence to show that at least five of the six men whom Dr. Frederick F. Webster of Oakland declares were beaten to death in wards 10 and 4, the violently insane wards, really died of natural causes will be presented when the state hospital inquiry reopens Tuesday, declared Assistant Medical Superintendent today. The hospital has no record of the sixth man.

H. L. Zahn, W. T. Ferry and C. C. Stevens, former attendants in ward 10, denied that they had ever kicked or attacked patients and stated that seclusion was never resorted to or restraint exercised without authorization of physicians of the hospital.

Miss Bertha Berryman, supervisor of the violently insane ward for women, denied ever attacking any patients in her ward. Mrs. Mitchell Tyson of Alameda presented charges yesterday against Miss Berryman and declared relatives wanted to keep her in the hospital so as to spend her money.

A dramatic episode was presented in the inquiry when a prominent San Francisco woman, a self confessed invalid, unexpectedly appeared before the board and bared a secret chapter in her life. Her name is withheld at the request of the Agnew board. She described her visits to her insane son at Agnew extending over a period of twenty years. Her husband and her husband's family, she said, were not aware of the existence of this unfortunate young man.

The son was committed for paranoia, she said, and was confined in ward No. 10 with the violent cases at the same time that Dr. Webster and Henry Tilgoner were there and at the time that they declared they were kicked and abused. During all of these twenty years, she said, she walked into this ward unnanounced and was always greeted with the greatest of courtesy and consideration. H. L. Zahn, whom Dr. Webster accused of brutality, was especially kind.

Dr. Frederick F. Webster was the principal witness yesterday and charged attendants in wards 10 and 4 with murder after murder, but his statements of brutality and killings were largely based on the hearsay statements of the most violently insane men in the hospital.

"What do you think, were the motives for all of these murders?" asked Senator Benson.

"I think one of the unwritten rules of the institution are that if a man shows any signs of sanity to choke, and beat it out of them or kill them," was Dr. Webster's reply.

In reply to a question Webster stated that the very worst patients were sent to ward 4. "Sometimes you can talk to the patients on ward 10," said the witness, "but not to those on ward 4."

Mrs. Elizabeth Tyson, committed from Alameda county by Judge Harris September 6, 1913, and released in May, 1914, was the next witness, and she complained of the fact that she had been transferred from "Mrs. Ingalls's ward" into the most violent ward of the hospital conducted by "Miss Margaret Berryman." The only reason, as far as Mrs. Tyson could ascertain, is that Mrs. Ingalls overhead her remarking that Mrs. Ingalls was "touching up" her hair.

The nurse in charge of the most violent ward in the women's side of the institution was then called and the board was somewhat surprised when she proved to be a rather small, gentle-voiced young woman. "I did not choke or beat any patient," Miss Berryman said in answer to Mrs. Tyson's charge. "I couldn't have remained six or seven years as an attendant if I had done such a thing."

DEMOCRATIC LEADER TO BE 'ICE BREAKER'

With the hope of winning back to the Democratic party the Pacific coast states, Homer S. Cummings, chairman of the Democratic national committee, and the members of his publicity bureau, will arrive in San Francisco tomorrow and set in motion his campaign machinery. His visit is termed an "ice-breaker" in the big campaign that marks the opening of the Democratic national campaign for 1920.

The Democratic leaders in charge of arrangements for the reception and entertainment of Cummings have received information that he will speak upon the covenants of the league of nations at the Democratic dinner to be given at the Palace Hotel next Tuesday evening.

WILL HOLD CONFERENCE.

A conference is to be held at the St. Francis Hotel Monday at which all leaders and workers of the party in Central and Northern California have been invited.

Chairman Cummings and his party will, according to those who have arrangements in charge, spend four days in and about San Francisco, leaving for the southern part of the State on the 25th.

A banquet at the Palace Hotel will be the big event in connection with the stay of the national chairman.

RECEPTION COMMITTEE.

The following Democratic leaders in this part of the State have been named by D. S. Ewing, chairman of the Democratic State central committee, as a reception committee:

O. K. Cushing, Charles W. Fay, Gavin McNab, R. H. De Witt, Judge W. P. Lawlor, J. E. Pemberton, Garrett McEnerney, Justus S. Wardell, Ralph McLeran, Jeremiah V. Coffey, Wm. F. Humphrey, Thomas W. Hickey, Theodore A. Bell, James H. Barry, Bert Schlessinger, Louis H. Mooser, Senator J. C. Nealon, J. Emmet Hayden, Jas. K. Moffitt, John O. Davis, Jas. A. Bacigalupi, Alphonse Hirsch, Frank J. Hennessy, John S. Irby, E. S. Heller, John O'Gara, T. A. Riordan, J. B. Sanford, George A. Tracy, Walter Macarthur, Wm. J. McGee, James B. Holohan, T. W. H. Shanahan, Ed. B. Leake, John W. Is Tough Beefsteak Deadly Weapon?

Cafe Patron Swears That It Is

Can a steak be tough enough to be a "deadly weapon"—when you're hit on the head with it?

J. P. Sather of 2307 Broadway says it can—but he hasn't proved it, because he's still alive, despite what he says was a conscientious and earnest attempt on the part of Sam Palermo, a waiter, to beat him to death with the aforesaid "T bone." The puzzle will come before the police court, steak, legal technicalities and all.

Sather and Mrs. Rose Jackson of the Berkshire Apartments, San Francisco, met the steak at the Santa Rosa Tamale Parlors, Twelfth street, where they went to dine. They objected to that steak—said it was too tough to eat—and refused therefore to pay for it.

Sather says that this enraged Mrs. Antionette Drago, proprietress of the place, who called Palermo to take part in the argument. Palermo, according to Sather, seized the steak and tried to beat him to death with it. He said that he was badly cut by the bone in the steak—and alleges that the bone was the most tender part of it, at that.

Patrolmen Milt Emigh, Dick Feeley and F. A. Petersen responded to a riot call, and took all parties concerned, to gether with the steak, to the police station. Sather swore to a complaint, alleging "attack with a deadly weapon." Judge George Samuels will decide how deadly the meat might have been.

Regular Tribune Subscribers Not Affected By Increased Price of Sunday Newspapers

Although beginning tomorrow all Sunday newspapers in the Eastbay district will be sold on the street and news stands at 10 cents a copy, there will be no increase in the present subscription price of 65 cents a month to regular TRIBUNE subscribers.

This price will include, as it always has, the big 70-page Sunday morning TRIBUNE delivered by carrier.

A little mental figuring is all that is necessary to realize the big saving that TRIBUNE subscribers secure through having The OAKLAND TRIBUNE delivered by carrier on the monthly basis. The OAKLAND TRIBUNE is absolutely the biggest value of any newspaper at any price in the United States. It is the ideal combination for the newspaper reader, a six-day evening paper and the big Sunday morning edition, served by the best and most complete telegraphic news service of any newspaper circulated in the Eastbay community.

The reputation of The OAKLAND TRIBUNE as a newspaper of integrity is too well known to be questioned—

Its jealously guarded service of accurate news distribution is conceded—

Its clean and interesting presentation of exclusive and special features each week in the magnificent Sunday morning edition of The TRIBUNE is apparent to all—

And, now, figure up what it costs to read a six-day evening newspaper and buy a Sunday newspaper each week in addition.

You can save money—get a newspaper surpassed by none—and have it delivered every day to your home —only 65 cents a month.

Every evening—Sunday morning —It's The OAKLAND TRIBUNE.

CHINESE HERO DODGES PART OF RECEPTION

Slipping past an advance guard at the Oakland mole and an entire reception committee which waited at the San Francisco ferry building to greet him, Sing Kee, the only Chinese soldier to be awarded a Distinguished Service Cross, arrived here yesterday afternoon in civilian clothes. He made his way to the Native Sons' Hall in San Francisco Chinatown, where he was met by relatives and friends.

Sing Kee rode a brakebeam all the way to join the service in New York. Nothing was heard from him until last August, when word came that he had continued to operate a regimental center relay message station under heavy gas and explosive shells for three days.

Sing Kee is the eldest son of Chung Kee, wealthy merchant of San Jose. At the hall in Chinatown he was met by his father and his two proud younger brothers, Johnnie and Willie.

After a brief greeting by the parent and brothers he was greeted by the Rev. Chan Sing Kai, Consul General Chao Hsin Chun and a group of representative Chinese of San Francisco and San Jose.

After a banquet dinner at a Chinatown restaurant, Kee and the reception committee boarded a train for San Jose, where another celebration was held last night. Hundreds of dollars' worth of fireworks were exploded in his honor as he rode through Chinatown in an automobile. The streets were decorated with Chinese and American flags.

Sing was hoisted on a special platform and after a brief concert by the high school cadets' band came an address of welcome by Councilman Charles M. O'Brien in behalf of the city. Attorney James P. Sex delivered an address in which he paid a high tribute to Kee.

Oi Won Jang, a private secretary to the first president of China, delivered an address in Chinese in which he explained the reason for the celebration to the Chinese gathered there.

Sing Kee gave his impressions of war—mud.

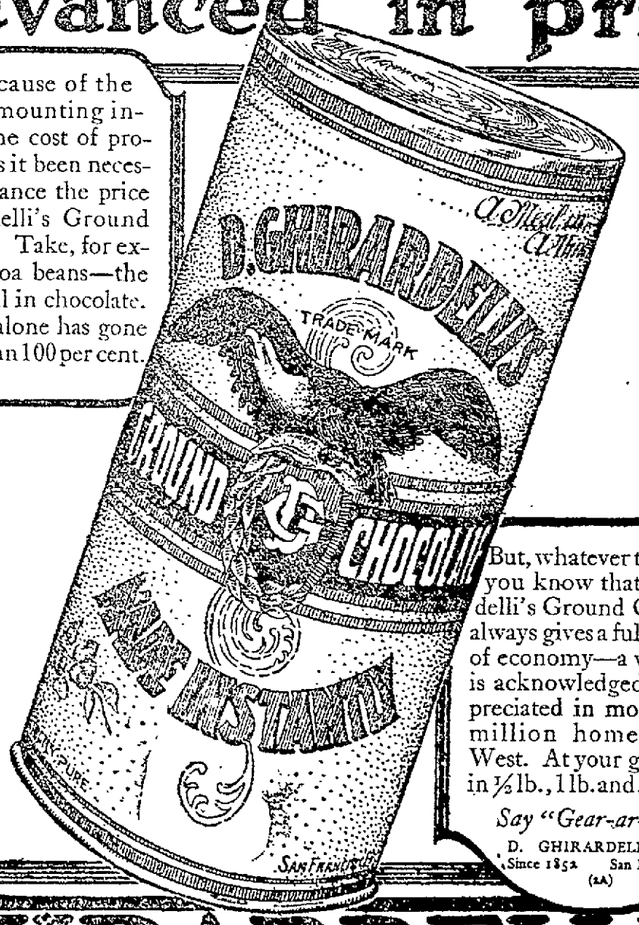
-why Ghirardelli's has advanced in price

Only because of the steadily mounting increase in the cost of production has it been necessary to advance the price of Ghirardelli's Ground Chocolate. Take, for example, cocoa beans—the big essential in chocolate. This item alone has gone up more than 100 per cent.



But, whatever the price, you know that Ghirardelli's Ground Chocolate always gives a full measure of economy—a value that is acknowledged and appreciated in more than a million homes in the West. At your grocer's—in ½ lb., 1 lb. and 3 lb. cans.
